Reel Food Michael Ludera, 2021-08-29 Approached by a waitress after Ryan finishes Reiner deadpans I'll have what she's having The line was ranked 33rd on the American Film Institute's list of the Top 100 movie quotations just behind Casablanca's Round up the usual suspects The fake orgasm scene that follows the heated debate between Meg Ryan's and Billy Crystal's movie characters ends with the historical and funny line I'll have what she's having from another diner customer evoking the interest and curiosity in the audience to also have a taste from that Pastrami Sandwich which Meg Ryan was eating before giving her friend a lecture

Food on Film Tom Hertweck, 2014-10-30 From early cinematic depictions of food as a symbol of ethnic and cultural identity to more complex contemporary portrayals movies have demonstrated how our ideas about food are always changing On the big and small screens representations of addiction starvation and even food as fetish reinforce how important food is in our lives and in our culture In Food on Film Bringing Something New to the Table Tom Hertweck brings together innovative viewpoints about a popular yet understudied subject in cinema This collection explores the pervasiveness of food in film from movies in which meals play a starring role to those that feature food and eating in supporting or cameo appearances The volume asks provocative questions about food and its relationship with work urban life sexual orientation the family race morality and a wide range of appetites The fourteen essays by international interdisciplinary scholars offer a wide range of perspectives on such films and television shows as The Color Purple Do the Right Thing Ratatouille The Road Sex and the City Twin Peaks and even Jaws From first course to last Food on Film will be of interest to scholars of film and television sociology anthropology and cultural history

Food, Film and Culture James R. Keller, 2006-10-03 Culinary imagery much like sexual and violent imagery is a key cinematic device used to elicit a sensory response from an audience In many films culinary imagery is central enough to constitute a new subgenre defined by films in which food production preparation service and consumption play a major part in the development of character structure or theme This book defines the food film genre and analyzes the relationship between cinematic food imagery and various cultural constructs including politics family identity race ethnicity nationality gender and religion Chapters examine these themes in several well known food films such as The Cook the Thief His Wife and Her Lover Chocolat Babette's Feast and Eat Drink Man Woman and lesser known productions including Felicia's Journey Kitchen Stories Magic Kitchen and Chinese Feast The work includes a filmography of movies within the food genre Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here

Culinary Cinema Deborah R. Geis, 2024-12-15 In this book Deborah Geis offers a new approach to the evolving genre of culinary films that center on the acts of eating and cooking through close analyses of ten different films These films range from the classics like Big Night 1996 and Babette's Feast 1987 to later box office hits like Chef 2014 and to films that deserve a second look like East Side

Sushi 2014 Burnt 2015 and Mid August Lunch 2008 Throughout these analyses the book focuses on tropes including the big dinner as it connects to intercultural and transcultural communities the self destructive perfectionism of the obsessive chef and the craft of cooking in relation to aging and mortality Geis invites readers and viewers to experience food driven narrative films with an appetite for appreciating the visual ingredients and the ways in which they construct pleasure through the act of looking as a vicarious approach to consuming the actual food Drawing on the work of film theorist Christian Metz Geis ultimately poses a new paradigm for watching and understanding culinary cinema as a significant and constantly evolving genre that comes with its own conventions and contemporary filmmakers who seek to expand and transform those conventions in surprising ways (In)digestion in Literature and Film Serena J. Rivera, Niki

Kiviat, 2020-04-21 In digestion in Literature and Film A Transcultural Approach is a collection of essays spanning diverse geographic areas such as Brazil Eastern Europe France Ireland Italy Japan Mexico South Korea Taiwan and the United States Despite this geographic variance they all question disordered eating practices represented in literary and filmic works The collection ultimately redefines disorder removing the pathology and stigma assigned to acts of non normative eating In so doing the essays deem taboo practices of food consumption rejection and avoidance as expressions of resistance and defiance in the face of restrictive sociocultural political and economic normativities As a result disorder no longer equates to out of order implying a sense of brokenness but is instead envisioned as an act against the dominant of order of operations The collection therefore shifts critical focus from the eater as the embodiment of disorder to the problematic norms that defines behaviors as such Communicating in Canada's Past Gene Allen, Daniel J. Robinson, 2009-01-01 The first collection of its kind this volume assembles both well established and up and coming scholars to address sizable gaps in the literature on media history in Canada Comfort Food Michael Owen Jones, Lucy M. Hunger and Postcolonial Writing Muzna Rahman, 2022-08-17 Hunger and Postcolonial Writing explores contemporary postcolonial fiction and life writing from various geo political contexts The focus of this work is hunger individuated in the self imposed starvation of the hunger protester and on a mass scale in the form of famine and food insecurity It considers the hungry colonial and postcolonial body examines its textual forms and historical trajectories and situates it within the food security context of imperialism and its legacies This book is the first monograph length study of hunger within a postcolonial world literary context Its transcolonial focus produces comparative readings across postcolonial writings facilitating productive analyses of the operations of imperialism and its aftereffects across heterogenous zones of colonialism This project reads hunger as defined by the social cultural historical and economic engagements produced by colonial and postcolonial encounters Examining the starving colonized body through Cartesian models of somatic subjectivity and considering how this body is mediated by post Enlightenment discourses of Modernity and progress this work interrogates the contradictions produced by the starving colonial body as it is positioned between the possibility of radical protest and prescriptive colonial discourse This book will be of interest to Gastrocritical and Postcolonial scholars and students and to Food scholars more broadly

The Jewish Dietary Laws in the Ancient World Jordan D. Rosenblum, 2016-12-15 In The Jewish Dietary Laws in the Ancient World Jordan D Rosenblum explores how cultures critique and defend their religious food practices In particular he focuses on how ancient Jews defended the kosher laws or kashrut and how ancient Greeks Romans and early Christians critiqued these practices As the kosher laws are first encountered in the Hebrew Bible this study is rooted in ancient biblical interpretation It explores how commentators in antiquity understood applied altered innovated upon and contemporized biblical dietary regulations He shows that these differing interpretations do not exist within a vacuum rather they are informed by a variety of motives including theological moral political social and financial considerations In analyzing these ancient conversations about culture and cuisine he dissects three rhetorical strategies deployed when justifying various interpretations of ancient Jewish dietary regulations reason revelation and allegory Finally Rosenblum reflects upon wider contemporary debates about food ethics The Perfect Omelet John E.
