Tooher, 2020-02-20 Reflective Teaching in Higher Education is the definitive textbook for those wanting to excel at teaching in the sector. Informed by the latest research in this area, the book offers extensive support for those at the start of an academic career and career-long professionalism for those teaching in higher education. Written by an international collaborative author team of experts led by Paul Ashwin, Reflective Teaching in Higher Education offers two levels of support: practical guidance for day-to-day teaching covering key issues such as strategies for improving learning, teaching and assessment; curriculum design; relationships; communication and inclusion; evidence-informed principles to aid understanding of how theories can effectively inform teaching practices; offering ways to develop a deeper understanding of teaching and learning in higher education. In addition to new case studies from a wider variety of countries than ever before, this new edition includes discussion of What is meant by agency; Gender; ethnicity; disability and university teaching; Digital learning spaces and social media; Teaching career development for academics; Decolonising the curriculum; Assessment and feedback practices; Teaching excellence and learning gain. 2015 UN General Assembly 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. reflectiveteaching.co.uk provides a treasure trove of additional support. It includes supplementary sector-specific material to support for considering questions around society's educational aims and much more besides. Reflective Teaching in Schools Andrew Pollard, Kristine Black-Hawkins, Gabrielle Cliff-Hodges, Pete Dudley, Mary James, 2014-04-10. Analyses how crime and justice were represented in print during the London crime wave of 1747-1755. Reflective Teaching Kenneth M. Zeichner, Daniel Patrick Liston, 1996. This volume outlines the assumptions and beliefs that distinguish the concept of the reflective teacher from the view of the teacher as passive and a mere technician; a view that teacher education programs and schools have historically promoted. The authors demonstrate how various conceptions of reflective teaching differ from one another. They believe that it is only through teachers' reflections on their own teaching that they become more skilled, more capable and in general better teachers. This is the first volume in the Reflective Teaching and the Social Conditions of Schooling series. The major goal of both this book and of all of the volumes to follow in this series is to help teachers explore and define their own positions with regard to the topics and issues at hand within the context of the aims of education in a democratic society. The Art of Reflective Teaching Carol R. Rodgers, 2020. The Art of Reflective Teaching examines what it means to be present in one's teaching. The book begins with an in-depth definition of presence from several different angles. The text goes on to delineate what a teacher may be present to, providing a map for useful discussions among teachers and between teachers and students. The book then outlines the structure of reflection, its intentional practice and its importance to presence. Finally, it provides a detailed outline for teaching presence to new and preservice teachers. Rodgers's curriculum integrates mindfulness practice with reflection, using presence as a bridge between the two. Drawing on her own experiences and those of her students, the author demonstrates how reflective teaching is grounded in a living and evolving philosophy of practice. Book Features Shows educators how to mentally and emotionally connect themselves to their students; their classroom and their teaching Provides a tested structure for reflective practice based on the work of both John Dewey and the author's own practice Includes a course outline for teaching presence that can be used by teacher educators professional developers and teacher inquiry groups
