Reflective Heart:

At the Heart of Teaching Grace Hall McEntee, 2003-01-01 Featuring engaging narratives this how to book delves into reflection as a concept and provides specific replicable tools for professional practice Each chapter draws on a particular school situation demonstrating the value of teacher reflection and describing the nuts and bolts of the process including protocols for handling many different circumstances Written by public school teachers who offer lessons learned and strategies that work this volume provides insights to help teachers build reflective practice with their students including protocols for classroom problem solving presents scenarios for individual students their parents and teachers to talk together about a student s performance including protocols for conducting family meetings shows what can happen when teachers come together to share stories of their daily lives including protocols for conducting a focus group and offers advice for reflecting alone and with a group including protocols for both types of reflection

The Heart and its Attitudes Stephen Darwall, 2024-04-30 Philosophers don t often write about the heart At least analytical philosophers don t Why is this Philosophers are said to live life in their heads rather than from their hearts But even if that is so why don t they think and write about the heart Moreover it can hardly have escaped philosophers attention that matters of the heart are central to what we human beings value most about our lives including our lives with animals Philosophers write a lot about friendship and love but they tend to do so in terms that leave out heartfelt connection They speak rather of commitment to one another and each other s well being or taking each other as ends or sharing deliberative standpoints or living life together or a whole host of other topics and much less about mutual emotional vulnerability and sharing and being in one another s hearts Surely one explanation of philosophers reticence is that talk of the heart seems unavoidably metaphorical It turns out to be easy enough however to cash the metaphor in if we simply take heart refers to a cluster of emotional susceptibilities that have an essentially reciprocating structure The heart aims at heartfelt connection at shared experience of joys and sorrows hopes and fears and other personal emotions We seek naturally to share these feelings with others and must suppress our natural tendencies if we wish to avoid doing so Our heart s wish is to be open to other hearts in the hope that they will be open to ours and thereby us in return This book is a systematic treatment perhaps the first of attitudes of the heart remorse versus guilt love trust gratitude personal anger versus righteous anger jealousy and others and their role in mediating personal relationship attachment and connection This is obviously interesting in its own right but it also shows how heartfelt attitudes mirror more extensively studied reactive attitudes of guilt resentment and blame attitudes of the will Whereas the latter mediate moral relations of mutual respect and accountability attitudes of the heart are the currency of heartfelt connection and personal relationship

Encyclopedia of Christian Education George Thomas Kurian,Mark A. Lamport,2015-05-07 Christianity regards teaching as one of the most foundational and critically sustaining ministries of the Church As a result Christian education remains one of the largest and oldest continuously functioning educational systems in the world comprising both formal day schools and higher education institutions as well as informal church study groups and parachurch ministries in more than 140 countries In The Encyclopedia of Christian Education contributors explore the many facets of Christian education in terms of its impact on curriculum literacy teacher training outcomes and professional standards This encyclopedia is the first reference work devoted exclusively to chronicling the unique history of Christian education across the globe illustrating how Christian educators pioneered such educational institutions and reforms as universal literacy home schooling Sunday schools women s education graded schools compulsory education of the deaf and blind and kindergarten With an editorial advisory board of more than 30 distinguished scholars and five consulting editors TheEncyclopedia of Christian Education contains more than 1 200 entries by 400 contributors from 75 countries These volumes covers a vast range of topics from Christian education History spanning from the church s founding through the Middle Ages to the modern day Denominational and institutional profiles Intellectual traditions in Christian education Biblical and theological frameworks curricula missions adolescent and higher education theological training and Christian pedagogy Biographies of distinguished Christian educators This work is ideal for scholars of both the history of Christianity and education as well as researchers and students of contemporary Christianity and modern religious education Story, Formation, and Culture Benjamin D. Espinoza, James Riley Estep Jr., Shirley Morgenthaler, 2018-10-15 Story Formation and Culture brings together a myriad of scholars researchers and ministry leaders into conversation about how we can effectively nurture the spirituality of children Built around the three themes of story formation and culture this volume blends cutting edge research and insights with attention to how we can bring theory into practice in our ministries with children The work of children s spiritual formation is often a marginalized component in the church s overall ministry This volume seeks to equip pastors leaders and scholars with cutting edge research and practices that effectively strengthen their ministries with children Sermons William Vernon Harcourt, 1873 Sermons ... With an Introductory Preface by W. F. Hook, Etc William Vernon HARCOURT (Canon of York.), 1873 Why Me? Radu J. Bogdan, 2021-06-10 This book explores the evolution of the mental competence for self reflection why it evolved under what selection pressures in what environments out of what precursors and with what mental resources Integrating evolutionary psychological and philosophical perspectives Radu J Bogdan argues that the competence for self reflection uniquely human and initially autobiographical evolved under strong and persistent sociocultural and political collaborative and competitive pressures on the developing minds of older children and later adults Self reflection originated in a basic propensity of the human brain to rehearse anticipatively mental states speech acts actions and states of the world in order to service one s elaborate goal policies These goal policies integrate offline representations of one s own mental states and actions and those of others in order to handle the challenges of a complex and dynamic sociopolitical and sociocultural life calling for an adaptive intramental self regulation that intramental adaptation is self reflection A Christian-Muslim Comparative Theology of Saints Hans A. Harmakaputra, 2022-09-19 In A Christian Muslim Comparative Theology of Saints The Community of God s Friends Hans A Harmakaputra focuses on a question that emerges from today s multi faith context Is it possible for Christians to recognize non Christians as saints To answer affirmatively he offers a Christian perspective on an inclusive theology of saints through the lens of comparative theology that is based on the thought of Catholic Protestant and Muslim theologians Karl Rahner Jean Luc Marion Elizabeth Johnson Dietrich Bonhoeffer Paul Tillich and Ibn Arab As a result of this interreligious comparison three theological constructs emerge 1 saints as manifestations and revealers of God s self communication 2 the hiddenness of saints and 3 saints as companions These theological constructs redefine and reconfigure Christian understanding of saints on one hand and on the other hand provide theological reasoning to include non Christians in the Christian notion of the communion of saints IMPLEMENTATION OF E-HEALTH CARE SYSTEM TO MONITOR VITAL SIGNS A. Spiritual Care in Plural Societies Anne Hege Grung, 2022-11-07 This volume contributes to an emerging field that could be referred to as plural spiritual care and chaplaincy. Its innovative approach brings together contributions from a broad range of contexts and religious traditions and includes empirical work and conceptual explorations. It helps to fill the gap between practices and developments related to plural spiritual care and chaplaincy in the scholarly discourse. Religion and Culture Bernard J. F. Lonergan, International Lonergan Symposium on Religion and Culture (1984 : University of Santa Clara), 1987-01-01 While the framework of this book is Lonergan's, the essays stand as original and constructive works in a number of fields and topics. The theme of the relation of religion to culture is addressed from four orientations: philosophy, theology, human science, and economics. The contributors include Stephen Toulmin, Frederick Crowe, S. J., Sebastian Moore, Walter Conn, and William Johnston, S. J. Topics covered include process thought, historical mindedness, mysticism, religious truth and language, nuclear war, and economic transformation. Lonergan's monumental Insight (1957) and Method in Theology (1972) are substantial and powerful. The key to these and other works is method. Lonergan's thought rests on the subject's intelligent and responsible self-appropriation grounded in creative and cooperative work from diverse disciplines. This volume demonstrates the richness and importance of the methodical collaboration called for by one of our century's greatest minds.
