Giuffre, 2011-10-02 Up to 50%% of our taxes insurance premiums go to cover lifestyle activities Lifestyle is therefore the largest category of discretionary spending with the potential of reducing our costs by up to this same 50%% Lifestyle is also a far more accurate predictor of our future health care needs and social service requirements This allows lifestyle to provide the best measure of planning forecast over today's comparison shopping models ROOPA highlights the number of savings and other advantages gained from this dual track of lifestyle and its corresponding social costs models The social cost of obesity averages around 150 billion a year This comes to about 10 cents per item of junk food Every soda pop hamburger and candy bar will now have this 10 cent premium The more soda you drink the more you have already paid into your own health coverage for obesity It's the most affordable pay as you go insurance plan It cost a dime

The Road to Reform Eli Ginzberg, 1994 Healthy China: Deepening Health Reform in China The World Bank, World Health Organization, 2019-01-29 The report recommends that China maintain the goal and direction of its healthcare reform and continue the shift from its current hospital centric model that rewards volume and sales to one that is centered on primary care focused on improving the quality of basic health services and delivers high quality cost effective health services

With 20 commissioned background studies more than 30 case studies visits to 21 provinces in China the report proposes practical concrete steps toward a value based integrated service model of healthcare financing and delivery including 1 Creating a new model of people centered quality integrated health care that strengthens primary care as the core of the health system This new care model is organized around the health needs of individuals and families and is integrated with higher level care and social services 2 Continuously improve health care quality establish an effective coordination mechanism and actively engage all stakeholders and professional bodies to oversee improvements in quality and performance 3 Empowering patients with knowledge and understanding of health services so that there is more trust in the system and patients are actively engaged in their healthcare decisions 4 Reforming public hospitals so that they focus on complicated cases and delegate routine care to primary care providers 5 Changing incentives for providers so they are rewarded for good patient health outcomes instead of the number of medical procedures used or drugs sold 6 Boosting the status of the health workforce especially primary care providers so they are better paid and supported to ensure a competent health workforce aligned with the new delivery system 7 Allowing qualified private health providers to deliver cost effective services and compete on a level playing field with the public sector with the right regulatory oversight and 8 Prioritizing public investments according to the burden of disease where people live and the kind of care people need on a daily basis
