The Long Road to Nowhere Mark Jones, 2009-05 One day while sitting on a park bench Mark was asked by an old man Why do you do what you do Why do you work where you work or live where you live Whether we agree or not life really is about a series of paths and decisions whereby even one small change can alter our lives forever We usually want to blame others including God for our decisions Only by examining the paths we have taken can we really see where we are at It is only when we look deep within ourselves we discover that as writers singers musicians interior decorators or even truck drivers we all have gifts Having them is not to question rather it is WHAT WE DO WITH THEM that really matters Wherever your passions lie you can erase your doubts and restore your joy Just imagine yourself on a park bench

To Marry an Indian Theresa Strouth Gaul,2006-03-08 When nineteen year old Harriett Gold from a prominent white family in Cornwall Connecticut announced in 1825 her intention to marry a Cherokee man her shocked family initiated a spirited correspondence debating her decision to marry an Indian Eventually Gold's family members reconciled themselves to her wishes and she married Elias Boudinot in 1826 After the marriage she returned with Boudinot to the Cherokee Nation where he went on to become a controversial political figure and editor of the first Native American newspaper Providing rare firsthand documentation of race relations in the early nineteenth century United States this volume collects the Gold family correspondence during the engagement period as well as letters the young couple sent to the family describing their experiences in New Echota capital of the Cherokee Nation during the years prior to the Cherokee Removal In an introduction providing historical and social contexts Theresa Strouth Gaul offers a literary reading of the correspondence highlighting the value of the epistolary form and the gender and racial dynamics of the exchange As Gaul demonstrates the correspondence provides a factual accompaniment to the many fictionalized accounts of contacts between Native Americans and Euroamericans and supports an increasing recognition that letters form an important category of literature
