Sculpture and Touch Peter Dent, 2017-07-05 Since the Renaissance at least the medium of sculpture has been associated explicitly with the sense of touch Sculptors philosophers and art historians have all linked the two often in strikingly different ways In spite of this long running interest in touch and tactility it is vision and visuality which have tended to dominate art historical research in recent decades This book introduces a new impetus to the discussion of the relationship between touch and sculpture by setting up a dialogue between art historians and individuals with fresh insights who are working in disciplines beyond art history The collection brings together a rich and diverse set of approaches with essays tackling subjects from prehistoric figurines to the work of contemporary artists from pre modern ideas about the physiology of touch to tactile interaction in the museum environment and from the phenomenology of touch in recent philosophy to the experimental findings of scientific study It is the first volume on this subject to take such a broad approach and as such seeks to set the agenda for future research and collaboration in this area

Lost Paradise Cees Nooteboom, 2008-11-15 From one of the greatest modern novelists comes a haunting tale of angels art and modern love A S Byatt In Lost Paradise Cees Nooteboom sets out to connect two seemingly unrelated strangers whom he has glimpsed on his travels and to explore the major impact that small interactions can have on the course of our journeys A beautiful woman aboard a Berlin bound flight becomes Alma a young lady who leaves her parents S o Paulo home on a hot summer night in a fit of depression Her car engine dies in one of the city s most dangerous favelas a mob surrounds her and she is pulled from the automobile To escape her memory of the assault she flees across the world to Australia where she becomes involved in the beautiful but bizarre Angel Project Not long after Dutch literary critic Erik Zontag is in Perth Australia for a conference He has found a winged woman curled up in a closet in an empty house He reaches out and for a second allows his fingertips to brush her feathers and then she speaks The intersection of their paths illuminates the extraordinary coincidences that propel our lives Dreamy and self conscious Nooteboom brazenly explores notions of reinvention healing loss and the divine Tom Barbash The New York Times Book Review

Imagining Andrew Marvell at 400 Matthew C. Augustine, Giulio J. Pertile, Steven N. Zwicker, 2023-04-15 Augustine Pertile and Zwicker celebrate the work of Andrew Marvell 1621 1678 in the quatercentenary year of his birth combining the best historical scholarship with a varied and ambitious programme of cognitive affective and aesthetic inquiry The essays have been specially commissioned for the quatercentenary and include the work of a range of scholars from Britain and North America Acknowledged masterpieces such as the Horatian Ode The Garden and Upon Appleton House are here read in light of historical and material evidence that has emerged in recent decades At the same time the volume offers many fresh points of entry into Marvell's work with particular attention to the poet's lyric economies Marvell's engagement with popular print and not least the polyglot and transnational dimensions of his writing The quatercentenary also represents an important anniversary for Marvell studies marking one hundred years since T S Eliot's appreciation of the poet inaugurated modern Marvell criticism As Imagining Andrew Marvell at 400 reassesses Marvell's writings it also reflects on the profession of English literature taking stock of the discipline itself where it has been and where it might be going as scholars continue to map the pleasures and challenges of reading and re-reading Andrew Marvell

Harrison Birtwistle's Operas and Music Theatre David Beard, 2012-10-25 David Beard presents the first definitive survey of Harrison Birtwistle's music for the opera house and theatre from his smaller scale works such as Down by the Greenwood Side and Bow Down to the full length operas such as Punch and Judy The Mask of Orpheus and Gawain Blending source study with both music analysis and cultural criticism the book focuses on the sometimes tense but always revealing relationship between abstract musical processes and the practical demands of narrative drama while touching on theories of parody narrative pastoral film the body and community Each stage work is considered in terms of its own specific musico-dramatic themes revealing how compositional scheme and dramatic conception are intertwined from the earliest stages of a project's genesis The study draws on a substantial body of previously undocumented primary sources and goes beyond previous studies of the composer's output to include works unveiled from 2000 onwards

Smart Working Anne Marie McEwan, 2016-04-01 It is more possible than ever to influence and shape our working environments our experience of work and each other Business leaders who set the conditions and create engaging meaningful work through organisational design and use of the knowledge and creative potential of their workforces are engaging in smart working In Smart Working: Creating the Next Wave Anne Marie McEwan explains how smart working is more than just flexible and mobile working It is about flexibility and autonomy how people work not just where and when She argues that systems working environments and governance are more likely to lead to effective performance if they maximise self-determination and choice She describes how collaborative communication technologies create possibilities for stimulating and harnessing collective intelligence within and beyond organisational boundaries In short smart working is an outcome of designing organisational systems that are good both for business and people McEwan warns that the tendency to talk about new management paradigms risks overlooking insights derived from years of academic research and particularly from lessons learned from process innovation methodology This rigorously researched but intensely practical book examines current workplace trends relating to people technology place and space It reviews what we already know about effective management and high performance work methods and shows how those insights can be used to advantage in contemporary workspaces It will help those with responsibilities for the strategic direction of their organizations Learning and development and HR professionals will understand how to interpret these insights for their own business

Handbook of Spanish Popular Culture Edward F.

Stanton, 1999-11-30 Spanish popular culture is one of the richest in the world. The absence of an efficient ruling class has allowed the people to stamp their personality on all major aspects of the country's life. This book describes the peculiar Spanish feeling for death and tragedy in popular religious practices, music, and the bullfight; the fiesta, sense of life so foreign to the work ethic of other Western countries; the oral tradition that has managed to survive into the post-industrial age with its creative use of slang, proverbs, and obscenity; popular literature, the press, radio, television, and the movies. Students and scholars will appreciate the first comprehensive treatment of Spanish popular culture in a single volume. The author has done first-hand research in all the major regions of Spain and has compiled a list of major archives and resource centers. An extensive bibliography on the major fields of popular Spanish culture is included at the end of each chapter. The Architects' Journal, 1998 Current Contents Institute for Scientific Information (Philadelphia), 1997 The Economist, 1997 Spain Mark Ellingham, John Fisher, Graham Kenyon, Jules Brown, 1999. This update looks at what's new in this thrilling land, including the Guggenheim Museum in Bilbao and all the latest hotspots in metropolitan Madrid and Barcelona. No corner of Spain is unexplored, from beaches to mountains to the Balearic islands, each with detailed critical reviews to make the most of your trip.
