Reading Habits in the COVID-19 Pandemic Abigail Boucher,Marcello Giovanelli,Chloe Harrison,Robbie Love,Caroline Godfrey,2024-03-20 This book presents and analyses the results of the Lockdown Library Project survey using a range of quantitative and qualitative approaches to provide a unique insight into the ways in which the first UK COVID 19 lockdown affected public reading habits The authors begin by outlining the background to the study the research methodology and design and an overview of the headlines of the data before going on to survey the literature on the relationship between pandemics literature especially the role played by genre and popular fiction and reading habits They then examine how participants reported that the lockdown period had affected the amount that they read how they accessed books and discussed their reading with others the use of reading as a coping strategy and returning to re read books that offered familiarity reliability and nostalgia Finally the concluding chapter brings together the overall findings of the project and briefly outlines future work in the field This book will be of interest to academics in fields such as literary and genre studies applied linguistics corpus linguistics stylistics health humanities and sociology as well as practitioners working in education in bibliotherapy and in libraries

Market Education Andrew Coulson,2017-09-08 Discontent with public education has been on the rise in recent years as parents complain that their children are not being taught the basics that they are not pushed to excel and that their classrooms are too chaotic to encourage any real learning The public has begun to reject school bond levies with regularity frustrated by what it perceives to be mounting education costs unaccompanied by increased achievement or accountability Coulson explores the educational problems facing parents and shows how these problems can best be addressed He begins with a discussion of what people want from their school systems tracing their views of the kinds of knowledge skills and values education should impart and their concerns over discipline drugs and violence in public schools Using this survey of goals and attitudes as a guide Coulson sets out to compare the school systems of civilizations both ancient and modern seeking to determine which systems successfully educated generations past and which did not His historical study ranges from classical Greece and ancient Rome through the Islamic world of the Middle Ages to nineteenth century England and modern America Drawing on the historical evidence of how these various systems operated Coulson concludes that free educational markets have consistently done a better job of serving the public s needs than state run school systems have He sets out a blueprint for competitive free market educational reform that would make schools more flexible more innovative and more responsive to the needs of parents and students He describes how education for low income children might be funded under a market system and how the transition from monopolistic public education to market education might be achieved Coulson s Market Education touches on a wide range of issues including declines in academic achievement minority education the role of public school teachers and mismanagement and corruption in educational bureaucracies Coulson examines alternative reform proposals from vouchers and charter schools to national standards for school curricula This timely and engaging book will appeal to parents educators and others concerned with the quality and cost of schooling and will serve as an excellent resource in college courses on the economics and history of education El-Hi Textbooks & Serials in Print, 2005 ,2005 Roads Go Ever Ever on ,1989 Reading Thresholds Carolyn H.
