Payne, 2009-05-05 At the time of his death in 1921 John Burroughs 1837 1921 was America's most beloved nature writer a best selling author whose friends and admirers included Walt Whitman Theodore Roosevelt John Muir Henry Ford and Thomas Edison Burroughs was second only to Emerson in fostering the nature study movement of the nineteenth century and the popularity of his work inspired Houghton Mifflin to publish or reissue the work of numerous other nature writers including that of Thoreau and Muir His first collection of essays Wake Robin was published in 1871 and over the next fifty years Burroughs wrote almost two dozen books and hundreds of essays not only on nature but on literature travel philosophy religion and science By the turn of the century Burroughs was America's most beloved nature writer whose friends and admirers included Walt Whitman Theodore Roosevelt John Muir Henry Ford and Thomas Edison Burroughs died in 1921 while on a train ride back to his New York from California His final words Are we home yet were a remarkably fitting coda to the career of a writer so closely identified with his native Catskill region of New York State In many of his essays Burroughs explores the woods and fields of home and in doing so like Henry Thoreau and his explorations of Concord Massachusetts he transcends the local and examines the universal theme of our relation with nature and our native landscape Burroughs s emphasis on place and the local now seems modern once again as the current interest in bioregionalism and climate change demonstrates it has become increasingly evident that thinking locally is thinking globally Since 1992 the SUNY College at Oneonta has hosted the biannual John Burroughs Nature Conference and Seminar Sharp Eyes which honors the influence of Burroughs on American nature writing Distinguished keynote speakers who have addressed the conference include John Elder John Tallmadge Joy Harjo Robin Wall Kimmerer Edward Kanze James Perrin Warren and Edward J Rinehan Jr The scope of the conference is not limited solely to Burroughs however as each year the writers and scholars in attendance direct their attention toward a particular issue of significance to contemporary nature writers and scholars of environmental literature The theme of this collection Writing the Land John Burroughs and his Legacy was featured in the 2006 conference and includes essays on John Burroughs as well as essays on the work of other writers who like Burroughs are linked closely through their work to a particular landscape or region The third and final section of this book features invited essays by three distinguished scholars John Tallmadge Robert Beuka and Charlotte Zo Walker who consider the topic of what writing about the land and nature means from three different perspectives urban suburban and rural

Ryden,2009-05-07 Kent Ryden does not deny that the natural landscape of New England is shaped by many centuries of human manipulation but he also takes the view that nature is everywhere close to home as well as in more remote wilderness in the city and in the countryside InLandscape with Figures he dissolves the border between culture and nature to merge ideas about nature experiences in nature and material alterations of nature Ryden takes his readers from the printed page directly to the field and back again He often bypasses books and goes to the trees from which they are made and the landscapes they evoke then returns with a renewed appreciation for just what an interdisciplinary historically informed approach can bring to our understanding of the natural world By exploring McPhee s The Pine Barrens and Ehrlich s The Solace of Open Spaces the coastal fiction of New England surveying and Thoreau s The Maine Woods Maine s abandoned Cumberland and Oxford Canal and the natural bases for New England s historical identity Ryden demonstrates again and again that nature and history are kaleidoscopically linked

The Georgic Mode in Twentieth-Century American Literature Ethan Mannon,2024-02-02 The Georgic Mode in Twentieth Century American Literature The Satisfactions of Soil and Sweat explores environmental writing that foregrounds labor Ethan Mannon argues that Virgil s Georgics as well as the georgic mode in general exerted considerable influence upon some of America s best known writers including Robert Frost Willa Cather and Wendell Berry and that these and others worked to revise the mode to better fit their own contexts This book also outlines the contemporary value of the georgic literary tradition two thousand years of writing that begins with the premise that humans must use the world in order to survive and search for a balance between human needs and nature s productive capacity In the georgic mode authors found an adaptable discourse that enabled them to advocate for the protection and responsible use of productive lands present rural places and people in all of their complexity explore human relationships with laboring animals and advertise the sensory pleasures of rooted work
