Social Interaction Systems Robert Bales,2017-09-08 Social Interaction Systems is the culmination of a half century of work in the field of social psychology by Robert Freed Bales a pioneer at the Department of Social Relations at Harvard University Led by Talcott Parsons Gordon W Allport Henry A Murray and Clyde M Kluckhohn the Harvard Project was intended to establish an integrative framework for social psychology one based on the interaction process augmented by value content analysis Bales sees this approach as a personal involvement that goes far beyond the classical experimental approach to the study of groups Bales developed SYMLOG which stands for systematic multiple level observation of groups The SYMLOG Consulting Group approach was worldwide as well as interactive It created a data bank that made possible a search for general laws of human interaction far beyond anything thus far known In his daring search for universal features Bales redefines the fundamental boundaries of the field and in so doing establishes criteria for the behavior and values of leaders and followers Bales offers a new field theory an appreciation of the multiple contexts in which people live Bales does not aim to eradicate differences but to understand them In this sense the values inherent in any interaction situation permit the psychologist to appreciate the sources of polarization as they actually exist between conservative and liberal individualistic and authoritarian libertarian and communitarian Bales repeatedly emphasizes that the mental processes of individuals and their social interactions take place in systematic contexts which can be measured Hence they permit explanation and prediction of behavior in a more exact way than in past traditions Bales has offered a pioneering work that has the potential to move us into a new theoretical epoch no less than a new century His work holds out the promise of synthesis and support for psychologists sociologists and all who work with groups and organizations of all kinds

The Impact of the Internet on the Marketing of Travel Intermediaries Michael Ott, 2002-03-07 Inhaltsangabe Abstract In recent years more and more people expressed their concerns about some companies performance Mainly not about their financial performance but about their social performance About their attitude towards the environment About the treatment of employees Consumers governments environmentalists trade unions but also managers felt that there is a need for change in business life This paper investigates two questions In general how does the marketing of travel intermediaries change when business is conducted over the internet In detail how can travel intermediaries build customer loyalty on the internet Why do these two issues pose problems that require a thorough analysis First the internet provides a new platform for dealing with travel services Although the internet travel market still represents only a small fraction of the total travel market many travel intermediaries entered it in anticipation of huge profits The number of travellers who use the internet to obtain travel services and the money they spend on line for travel purposes is growing rapidly But competition and marketing in the on line travel market is strongly affected by the unique characteristics of the internet In order to stay in business in the long run a deeper understanding of the effects of the internet on the travel industry and on the marketing of individual travel firms is necessary. Also, the internet threatens to eliminate intermediaries by linking service providers and customers directly. Therefore, an evaluation of the marketing impacts of the internet is even more vital for travel intermediaries. Second, a key element of every online marketing strategy is customer loyalty. Many internet travel intermediaries are able to attract a large number of visitors to their web pages. But most of these internet users are not loyal and visit the web page only once. Since a loyal customer base is essential to generate revenues on the internet, the concept of customer loyalty will be analyzed in the online context. The first part of this thesis evaluates the influences of the internet on the marketing of online travel intermediaries. Chapter 1 highlights the important characteristics of the internet. These unique features have effects on industries and on individual companies, which are analyzed in Chapter 2. Chapter 3 uses the framework of the previous chapter to demonstrate the impacts of the internet on the travel industry and

Trends in Interactive Visualization

Elena Zudilova-Seinstra, Tony Adriaansen, Robert van Liere, 2008-12-17. II Challenges in Data Mapping. Part II deals with one of the most challenging tasks in Interactive Visualization: mapping and teasing out information from large complex datasets and generating visual representations. This section consists of four chapters. Binh Pham, Alex Streit, and Ross Brown provide a comprehensive requirement analysis of information uncertainty visualizations. They examine the sources of uncertainty, review aspects of its complexity, introduce typical models of uncertainty, and analyze major issues in visualization of uncertainty from various user and task perspectives. Alfred Inselberg examines challenges in the multivariate data analysis. He explains how relations among multiple variables can be mapped uniquely into space subsets having geometrical properties and introduces Parallel Coordinates methodology for the unambiguous visualization and exploration of a multidimensional geometry and multivariate relations. Christiaan Gribble describes two alternative approaches to interactive particle visualization: one targeting desktop systems equipped with programmable graphics hardware and the other targeting moderately sized multicore systems using pack-based ray tracing. Finally, Christof Rezk Salama reviews state-of-the-art strategies for the assignment of visual parameters in scientific visualization systems. He explains the process of mapping abstract data values into visual space based on transfer functions, clarifies the terms of pre- and postclassification, and introduces the state-of-the-art user interfaces for the design of transfer functions.
