Robert Doisneau La Banlieue De Paris:

The Paris Zone James Cannon, 2016-02-24 Since the mid 1970s the colloquial term zone has often been associated with the troubled post war housing estates on the outskirts of large French cities However it once referred to a more circumscribed space the zone non aedificandi non building zone which encircled Paris from the 1840s to the 1940s This unusual territory although marginal in a social and geographical sense came to occupy a central place in Parisian culture Previous studies have focused on its urban and social history or on particular ways in which it was represented during particular periods By bringing together and analysing a wider range of sources from the duration of the zone s existence this study offers a rich and nuanced account of how the area was perceived and used by successive generations of Parisian novelists including Zola and Flaubert poets songwriters artists photographers film makers politicians and town planners More generally it aims to raise awareness of a neglected aspect of Parisian cultural history while pointing to links between current and past perceptions of the city s periphery The Documentary Impulse in French Literature ,2021-12-28

The Heroic City Rosemary Wakeman, 2009-12-15 The Heroic City is a sparkling account of the fate of Paris s public spaces in the years following Nazi occupation and joyful liberation Countering the traditional narrative that Paris s public landscape became sterile and dehumanized in the 1940s and 50s Rosemary Wakeman instead finds that the city s streets overflowed with ritual drama and spectacle With frequent strikes and protests young people and students on parade North Africans arriving in the capital of the French empire and radio and television shows broadcast live from the streets Paris continued to be vital terrain Wakeman analyzes the public life of the city from a variety of perspectives A reemergence of traditional customs led to the return of festivals street dances and fun fairs while violent protests and political marches the housing crisis and the struggle over decolonization signaled the political realities of postwar France The work of urban planners and architects the output of filmmakers and intellectuals and the day to day experiences of residents from all walks of life come together in this vibrant portrait of a flamboyant and transformative moment in the life of the City of Light

Making Strange Kim Sichel, 2020-03-17 A richly illustrated look at some of the most important photobooks of the 20th century France experienced a golden age of photobook production from the late 1920s through the 1950s Avant garde experiments in photography text design and printing within the context of a growing modernist publishing scene contributed to an outpouring of brilliantly designed books Making Strange offers a detailed examination of photobook innovation in France exploring seminal publications by Brassa Henri Cartier Bresson Robert Frank Pierre Jahan William Klein and Germaine Krull Kim Sichel argues that these books both held a mirror to their time and created an unprecedented modernist visual language Sichel provides an engaging analysis through the lens of materiality emphasizing the photobook as an object with which the viewer interacts haptically as well as visually Rich in historical context and beautifully illustrated Making Strange reasserts the role of French photobooks in the history of modern art Robert Doisneau Peter Hamilton, 1995

Drawing not only upon Doisneau's previously unpublished archives but also on conversations with the photographer in his final years this book examines every aspect of Doisneau's work including the techniques he used. Emphasized are his periods of engagement with the birth of photojournalism in the 1930s with humanist social realism in the 1940s and 1950s and with montage and art brut in the 1960s.

The Other Paris Lucy Sante, 2015-10-27 The Other Paris is both eulogy and paean to the matrixes of anarchy creativity crime and serendipity that once gave shape to the City of Light. Anna Wiener The New Republic Paris the City of Light the city of fine dining and seductive couture and intellectual hauteur was until fairly recently always accompanied by its shadow the city of the poor the outcast the criminal the eccentric the willfully nonconforming. In The Other Paris Lucy Sante gives us a panoramic view of that second metropolis which has nearly vanished but whose traces are in the bricks and stones of the contemporary city in the culture of France itself and by extension throughout the world. Drawing on testimony from a great range of witnesses from Balzac and Hugo to assorted boulevardiers rabble rousers and tramps Sante whose thorough research is matched only by the vividness of her narration takes the reader on a whirlwind tour. Richly illustrated with more than three hundred images The Other Paris scuttles through the knotted streets of pre-Haussmann Paris through the improvised accommodations of the original bohemians through the whorehouses and dance halls and hobo shelters of the old city. A lively survey of labor conditions prostitution drinking crime and popular entertainment and of the reporters' realist singers pamphleteers and poets who chronicled their evolution The Other Paris is a book meant to upend the story of the French capital to reclaim the city from the bons vivants and the speculators and to hold a light to the works and lives of those expunged from its center by the forces of profit. A wonderfully rich book. Allan Massie The Wall Street Journal.

The Topographic Imaginary Ari J. Blatt, 2022-05-13 Since the early 1980s art photographers from metropolitan France have been training their lenses on ordinary landscapes throughout the country they call home. The Topographic Imaginary is the first book to study this important and flourishing trend. It examines work by artists who meld documentary and creative modes to attune viewers to places that mainstream culture tends to tune out but which as Ari J. Blatt argues are in fact more meaningful than they initially appear. From views of building sites in Paris peri-urban edgelands or a tangle of trees in a forest to those that ponder the play of light and shadow on roadside fields in Normandy or the tacky colors painted on dated village shopfronts images that signal the emergence of a topographic turn in contemporary French photography constitute new ways of seeing and sensing France's diverse national territory. As Blatt suggests they also represent a visual laboratory through which to investigate how landscape scapes our understanding of French culture. In their efforts to reimagine a more traditional and time-worn idea of France's shared common space topographic photographs animate conversations about capital and class cities and their peripheries the politics and impact of development migration and borders memory history and affect empire and postcolonialism national identity and the changing environment. The Topographic Imaginary thus reveals how attending to place in pictures provides valuable insight into the
