Josephine Laffin,2010 In 2010 Mary MacKillop became the first Australian citizen to be officially proclaimed a saint by the Catholic Church This event and the long canonisation process which preceded it has received much coverage in the Australian media Yet confusion persists over what exactly it means to be a saint In this book scholars from the Catholic Theological College of South Australia and the Flinders University School of Theology share reflections from different perspectives historical biblical philosophical theological ethical spiritual liturgical and personal Veneration of St Mary MacKillop is set in the context of a tradition which can be traced back to Christian martyrs in the ancient Roman Empire and which it is argued is still meaningful today

Lovers and Others Tom Lowenstein, 2021-06-01 This candidly written memoir enlivened by the author's impish sense of humour narrates the way in which by chance and circumstance Tom Lowenstein placed his career at the service of the Australian art world The book describes Lowenstein's numerous David and Goliath battles with the Australian Government and the Australian Tax Office for a greater understanding and fairer treatment of the unique set of circumstances and numerous challenges faced by the country's creative sectors Lowenstein's interactions with his colourful and gregarious clients took him frequently out of the comfort of the corporate environment into the artists' homes and studios The personalities of Charles Blackman Colin Lanceley Margaret Olley John Olsen Garry Sheard Tim Storrier and many other luminaries of the art world are vividly brought out with unique insights and unexpected angles The book is richly illustrated with photographs from Lowenstein's personal archives documenting his long standing friendships and reflecting its heady mixture of accounting art and wine

Aereality William Fox, 2009-05-01 William Fox's writing for the last several years has been focused on how we construct aerial views either physically by flying or in our imaginations In Aereality he flies over earthworks in Nevada and Utah soars through the world's largest open pit mine and surveys Los Angeles circumnavigating large swaths of true American urban sprawl On the East Coast he examines the elevated art of the Hudson River Valley and New York City And finally in Australia Fox examines the history and current practice of both Euro Australian and Aboriginal aerial views and searches for the cognitive roots of our aerial imagination Accompanying Fox throughout his travels is a rolling cast of enlightened fliers geographers museum curators landscape photographers anthropologists and artists He traverses the sky in prop planes helicopters and hot air balloons all with the ultimate goal of knowing and experiencing the earth from the air

Mick Suzanne Falkiner, 2016 Randolph Stow was one of the great Australian writers of his generation His novel To the Islands written in his early twenties after living on a remote Aboriginal mission won the Miles Franklin Award for 1958 In later life after publishing seven remarkable novels and several collections of poetry Stow's literary output slowed This biography examines the productive period as well as his long periods of publishing silence In Mick: A Life of Randolph Stow Suzanne Falkiner unravels the reasons behind Randolph Stow's quiet retreat from Australia and the wider literary world Meticulously researched insightful and at times deeply moving Falkiner's biography pieces together an intriguing story from Stow's personal letters diaries and interviews with the people who knew him best And many of her tales from Stow's beginnings in idyllic rural Australia to his critical turning point in Papua New Guinea and his final years in Essex England provide us with keys to unlock the meaning of Stow's rich and introspective works The overriding virtue of this book is Falkiner's steady trust in the intelligence of her readers She spells very little out presenting us instead with this carefully curated wealth of textual evidence

Kerryn Goldsworthy Australian Book Review Finally we have some sense of the wounds that shaped and animated Stow's poetry and fiction

Geordie Williamson The Australian Suzanne Falkiner's prodigious

biography of Randolph Stow is a book long awaited by many not just the literati of his native Australia but those countless readers who feasted on his novels and wondered what kind of person could write with such imaginative power Not only do we come to appreciate what led this renowned Australian writer to create his celebrated fictional works but we are also given rare glimpses into the inner world of this most private individual whose personal demons included a dependence on alcohol two suicide attempts and struggles with homosexuality Falkiner cut her teeth on six previous biographies which stood her in good stead to tackle this challenge Against significant odds she has done a masterful job in painting a portrait of one of Australia's most revered writers somewhat akin to what compatriot David Marr did for Nobel Prize winning author Patrick White It will no doubt send readers scurrying back to Stow's novels which as Marr once said is the best news a biographer can hear World Literature Today January February 2017 Subject Biography Literary Criticism
