Transatlantic Renaissances Kathryn Stelmach Artuso,2013 The impulses that fired the Southern Literary Renaissance echoed the impetus behind the Irish Literary Revival at the turn of the twentieth century when Ireland sought to demonstrate its cultural equality with any European nation and disentangle itself from English imposed stereotypes Seeking to prove that the South was indeed the cultural equal of greater America despite the harsh realities of political defeat economic scarcity and racial strife Southern writers embarked on a career to re imagine the American South and to reinvent literary criticism Transatlantic Renaissances Literature of Ireland and the American South traces the influence of the Irish Revival upon the Southern Renaissance exploring how the latter looked to the former for guidance artistic innovation and models for self invention and regional renovation While Deleuze and Guattari's model for minor literature refers to minority or regional authors who work within a major language for purposes of subversion Artuso modifies their term along generic and thematic lines to refer to errant female juveniles within subsidiary genres whose nonconformist development threatens to disrupt the dominant patriarchal culture of a region or nation Using the themes of initiation and maturation to anchor the book Artuso analyzes how the volatile development of young women in revivalist texts often reflects or questions larger growth pangs and patterns including the evolution of the literary revival itself and the development of a regional minority group that must work within a dominant culture language and nation while seeking methods of subversion With minor literature as the container for undervalued genres such as popular fiction and short stories often considered an author's juvenilia this work investigates not only how these texts challenge the authoritative claims of the novel but also scrutinizes the renaissance trope of female rebirth as the revivalists often figured cultural national or regional regeneration through the metamorphoses or maturation of female protagonists such as Cathleen n Houlihan Scarlett O Hara and Virgie Rainey Drawing upon New Historical New Critical and postcolonial approaches Artuso examines works by Lady Gregory Margaret Mitchell Eudora Welty Elizabeth Bowen Jean Toomer and James Joyce Reconstructing Dixie Tara McPherson,2003-03-31 A cultural studies reading of white southern femininity as seen in a range of popular sites including novels television and tourist attractions Scarlet Raven C.A. Wilke,2022-01-18 With most of her past still a mystery and the man who tried to kill her dead Scarlett thought she could live a normal life She was wrong As rogue shadow military units and world governments vie for control of a new nanite technology she has to face them both to discover the truth of humanity s future and how she s involved Once again she ll have to become the Scarlet Angel in order to protect everyone and everything she cares about But when the plasma blasts start flying she may just find that the harsh truth of the future could cost her everything Heroes, Monsters & Messiahs Elizabeth Caldwell Hirschman,Elizabeth Hirschman,2000 This book traces the evolution of mythic symbols in American popular culture as shown in movies and on TV from 1939 1999 dust jacket A History of the Rise and Progress of the Arts of Design in the United States William Dunlap, Frank William Bayley,1918 Playing the Race Card Linda Williams,2020-10-06 The black man suffering at the hands of whites the white woman sexually threatened by the black man Both images have long been burned into the American conscience through popular entertainment and today they exert a powerful and disturbing influence on Americans understanding of race So argues Linda Williams in this boldly inquisitive book where she probes the bitterly divisive racial sentiments aroused by such recent events as O J Simpson s criminal trial Williams the author of Hard Core explores how these images took root beginning with melodramatic theater where suffering characters acquire virtue through victimization The racial sympathies and hostilities that surfaced during the trial of the police in the beating of Rodney King and in the O J Simpson murder trial are grounded in the melodramatic forms of Uncle Tom s Cabin and The Birth of a Nation Williams finds that Stowe s beaten black man and Griffith s endangered white woman appear repeatedly throughout popular entertainment promoting interracial understanding at one moment interracial hate at another The black and white racial melodrama has galvanized emotions and fueled the importance of new media forms such as serious integrated musicals of stage and film including The Jazz Singer and Show Boat It also helped create a major event out of the movie Gone With the Wind while enabling television to assume new moral purpose with the broadcast of Roots Williams demonstrates how such developments converged to make the televised race trial a form of national entertainment When prosecutor Christopher Darden accused Simpson s defense team of playing the race card which ultimately trumped his own team s gender card he feared that the jury s sympathy for a targeted black man would be at the expense of the abused white wife The jury s verdict Williams concludes was determined not so much by facts as by the cultural forces of racial melodrama long in the making Revealing melodrama to be a key element in American culture Williams argues that the race images it has promoted are deeply ingrained in our minds and that there can be no honest discussion about race until Americans recognize this predicament The Nephilim Universe: The Legend of the Archangel Series Collection L.L.
