Gerstein, 2013-08-21 First published in 2000 Experiential family counseling is an action oriented approach to family therapy Through the use of structured games and physical and intellectual challenges many clinicians find that they are able to gain insight into the behaviors and responses that perpetuate a family s problems While traditional treatment methods often become bogged down in verbal sparring or blame placing between family members experiential counseling calls for families to work together to succeed in overcoming obstacles that are set before them And because many experiential activities can be designed as metaphors for a family s individual problems counselors using this treatment method are given an excellent opportunity to help families practice actual solutions that can be used in their daily interactions and experiences In Sticking Together Jackie Gerstein has given therapists and family counselors a wonderful tool for introducing experiential counseling into their own practices In addition to a thoughtful overview of the general uses and benefits of this unique technique she also provides practical guidelines for developing experiential family counseling sessions Key features include A core section of experiential activities games and exercises for family therapy Cautions that should be observed when using these activities with certain populations Detailed processing questions with each exercise that can help families to interpret the results of experiential activities Suggestions to encourage family goal setting A discussion on the need for ongoing assessment during the course of experiential therapy Samples of important documents necessary in experiential therapy programs including performance agreements and informed consent forms With an easy to use format Sticking Together offers readers an extensive selection of family building initiatives that promise to introduce fun into the vocabulary of family therapy The Carriage Journal Jill Ryder, 2000-08-01 Features By Ox and Mule Heavy Freighting 103 The Lane Hitch 108 Leaf Springs Part Two 109 Beware the Poison in Your Paddocks 112 What is Colic 113 The Craft of the Wainwright Part Two 116 Getting There Has Never Been Easy 119 The Carriage Roundup Just for Fun 122 Correct Harnessing for a Pair 126 Equine Chiropractic Methods Four 128 The Four in Hand Club 129 Departments The View from the Box 102 Memories Mostly Harsy 106 Letters to the Editor 121 The Road Behind Zebras in Harness 124 Book Reviews 132 The Carriage Trade 134 Love Thy Neighbor as Thyself Lenn E. Goodman, 2008-01-02 In this book Lenn E Goodman writes about the commandment to love thy neighbor as thyself from the standpoint of Judaism a topic and perspective that have not often been joined before Goodman addresses two big questions What does that command ask of us and what is its basis Drawing extensively on Jewish sources both biblical and rabbinic he fleshes out the cultural context and historical shape taken on by this Levitical commandment In so doing he restores the richness of its material content to this core articulation of our moral obligations which often threatens to sink into vacuity as a mere nostrum or rhetorical formula Goodman argues against the notion that we have this obligation simply because God demands it a position that too readily makes ethics seem arbitrary relativistic dogmatic authoritarian contingent or just unpalatable Rather he proposes that we learn much about how we ought to think about God from what we know about morals He shows that natural reasoning and appeals to scripture tradition and revelation reinforce one another in ethical deliberation For Goodman ethics and theology are not worlds apart connected only by a kind of narrow one way passage the two realms of discourse can and should inform each other Engaging the philosophers including Aristotle Spinoza and Kant and assembling three thousand years worth of Jewish textual masterpieces Goodman skillfully weaves his Gifford Lectures which he delivered in 2005 into an indispensable work
