Professional Journal of the United States Army ,1994-07 The Digital Scholar: Academic Communication in Multimedia Environment Irena Vassileva,Mariya Chankova,Esther Breuer,Klaus P. Schneider,2020-02-07 The forms and genres of academic communication have changed considerably over the past decades from standardised ways of producing texts on for paper to a less standardised way of communication in Web 2 0 Published papers are now available to a greater number of readers interaction among colleagues can take place in real time via written audio or visual formats and it has become much more comfortable for students as well as for those outside the scientific community to access academic information and to contact its authors It seems however that many aspects of academic communication have not yet changed and its participants either in the old or in the new generation are ill equipped to work within the multimedia context This volume therefore takes a look at academic communication in the multimedia environment in order to throw light on how these processes are linked to new multimedia affordances while at the same time encapsulating old genre conventions and participant interaction with the medium

Interdisciplinary Environmental Studies Gunilla Oberg, 2010-12-13 Environmental issues are inherently interdisciplinary and environmental academic programs increasingly use an interdisciplinary approach This timely book presents a core framework for conducting high quality interdisciplinary research It focuses on the opportunities rather than the challenges of interdisciplinary work and is written for those doing interdisciplinary work rather than those studying it It is designed to facilitate high quality interdisciplinary work and the author uses illustrative examples from student work and papers published in the environmental literature This book's lucid problem solving approach is framed in an accessible easy to read style and will be indispensable for anyone embarking on a research project involving interdisciplinary collaboration Readership graduate students advanced undergraduates and researchers involved in the interface between human and natural environmental systems

Akhlaq, 2025-04-09 This volume focuses on the experiences of refugee scholars in Western academia through first hand narratives that move between dominant humanitarianism and the academic establishment It provides an intellectual view of this humanitarian industry from a refugee perspective alongside stories of the refugee scholars contribution to the production of knowledge in the West Contributors discuss their unique experiences and reflect on the changing nature of knowledge production transfer and exchange in a world increasingly affected by forced migration Such reflections are not new However in this volume they explore how personal life difficulties and or successes mixed with emotional distress and cultural adjustments could be framed into a scholarly analysis of academia in exile In today s globalized world the term refugee often evokes both sympathy and criticism leaving refugee scholars in Western universities to ponder the ambivalent nature of their identity This duality of identity creates new opportunities for rethinking concepts such as humanitarianism indigenization asylum diversity equity and integration scholar activism and the transnational production of knowledge in the universities of the twenty first century Assembling scholars from around the world working in political sciences international studies anthropology law philosophy and the humanities this volume addresses both the geopolitical predicaments and the intellectual contributions of exiled academics in our troubled times Journal of International Students 2016 Vol 6 Issue 2
