Research for What? Barbara E. Moely, Barbara A. Holland, Jeff Keshen, 2010-11-01 Research on service learning and community engagement has exploded over the past decade It is a field now characterized by increasing methodological and theoretical sophistication vast quantitative and qualitative studies interdisciplinary research myriad subjects and the internationalization of scholarship The papers in this volume were selected from nearly 100 presentations made at the 2009 annual conference of the International Association for Research on Service Learning and Community Engagement held in Ottawa Canada s national capital The conference theme Research for What emphasized fundamental questions namely to what extent is rigorous research uncovering best practices in and demonstrating the positive results of service learning on teaching learning and building better communities The papers examine such themes through lenses that include the application of theory to practice K 12 and university based service learning interdisciplinary initiatives and international service learning The introduction provides an overview of the very recent but remarkable growth of service learning in Canada and the conclusion written by the recipient of the Association s annual Distinguished Researcher Award discusses major developments and continuing challenges in service learning research The Gastronomica Reader Darra Goldstein, 2010 Rarefied but unpretentious each issue is an artfully curated collection of essays poems art and journalistic reportage Gastronomica s fare never fails to nourish us Saveur magazine I am so impressed with this journal It indicates an accuracy and diversity of information and style that will inspire and encourage people to pay attention to what they are eating Alice Waters Food even more than sex is the basis for human relationships and if Brillat Savarin s Tell me what you eat and I will tell you who you are is right Gastronomica The Journal of Food and Culture will enhance your life and improve your relationships with your family and your friends Jacques P pin Gastronomica deserves the food world s attention Paul Levy A food journal of high standards that takes on substantive food issues Patricia Unterman Interacting with so many disciplines Gastronomica will assure a fine intellectual menu and reinvigorate the worlds of food and culture with ever higher standards of scholarship Anne Willan One of my top food favorites from 2008 A delightful study of all things food even those that touch the world of food in a peripheral way The Zest food blog For Reasons of the Heart Nancy A. Schneider, William Donohue Ellis, 1993 Stirring the Pot with Benjamin Franklin Rae Katherine Eighmey, 2018-01-16 In this remarkable work Rae Katherine Eighmey presents Franklin s delight and experimentation with food throughout his life At age sixteen he began dabbling in vegetarianism In his early twenties citing the health benefits of water over alcohol he convinced his printing press colleagues to abandon their traditional breakfast of beer and bread for water gruel a kind of tasty porridge he enjoyed Franklin is known for his scientific discoveries including electricity and the lightning rod and his curiosity and logical mind extended to the kitchen He even conducted an electrical experiment to try to cook a turkey and installed a state of the art oven for his beloved wife Deborah Later in life on his diplomatic missions he lived fifteen years in England and nine in France Franklin ate like a local Eighmey discovers the meals served at his London home away from home and analyzes his account books from Passy France for insights to his farm to fork diet there Yet he also longed for American foods Deborah sent over favorites including cranberries which amazed his London kitchen staff He saw food as key to understanding the developing culture of the United States penning essays presenting maize as the defining grain of America Stirring the Pot with Benjamin Franklin conveys all of Franklin s culinary adventures demonstrating that Franklin s love of food shaped not only his life but also the character of the young nation he helped build New Essays on Life Writing and the Body Christopher Stuart, Stephanie Todd, 2009-03-26 In light of materialist revisions of the Cartesian dual self and the increased recognition of memoir and autobiography as a crucial cultural index the physical body has emerged in the last twenty five years as an increasingly inescapable object of inquiry speculation and theory that intersects all of the various subgenres of life writing New Essays on Life Writing and the Body thus offers a timely original focused and yet appropriately interdisciplinary study of life writing This collection brings together new work by established authorities in autobiography such as Timothy Dow Adams G Thomas Couser Cynthia Huff and others along with essays by emerging scholars in the field

Subjects range from new interpretations of well known autobiographies by Edith Wharton Gertrude Stein and Lucy Grealy as well as scholarly surveys of more recently defined subgenres such as the numerous New Woman autobiographies of the late 19th century adoption narratives and sibling memoirs of the mentally impaired Due to their wide interdisciplinary focus these essay will prove valuable not only to more traditional literary scholars interested in the classic literary autobiography but also to those in Women s Studies Ethnic and African American Studies as well as in emerging fields such as Disability Studies and Cognitive Studies

Farming the Home Place Valerie J. Matsumoto,2019-06-30 In 1919 against a backdrop of a long history of anti Asian nativism a handful of Japanese families established Cortez Colony in a bleak pocket of the San Joachin Valley Valerie Matsumoto chronicles conflicts within the community as well as obstacles from without as the colonists responded to the challenges of settlement the setbacks of the Great Depression the hardships of World War II internment and the opportunities of postwar reconstruction Tracing the evolution of gender and family roles of members of Cortez as well as their cultural religious and educational institutions she documents the persistence and flexibility of ethnic community and demonstrates its range of meaning from geographic location and web of social relations to state of mind

Kitchenspace Maria Elisa Christie,2009-08-17 Throughout the world the kitchen is the heart of family and community life Yet while everyone has a story to tell about their grandmother s kitchen the myriad activities that go on in this usually female world are often devalued and little scholarly attention has been paid to this crucial space in which family gender and community relations are forged and maintained To give the kitchen the prominence and respect it merits Maria Elisa Christie here offers a pioneering ethnography of kitchenspace in three central Mexican communities Xochimilco Ocotepc and Tetecala Christie coined the term kitchenspace to encompass both the inside kitchen area in which everyday meals for the family are made and the larger outside cooking area in which elaborate meals for community fiestas are prepared by many women working together She explores how both kinds of meal preparation create bonds among family and community members In particular she shows how women s work in preparing food for fiestas gives women status in their communities and creates social networks of reciprocal obligation In a culture rigidly stratified by gender Christie concludes kitchenspace gives women a source of power and a place in which to transmit the traditions and beliefs of older generations through quasi sacramental food rites

Manuscript Recipe Books as Archaeological Objects Madeline Shanahan,2014-11-18 During the mid to late seventeenth century women in Irish houses from elite backgrounds started to collect recipes which they recorded in domestic manuscripts While these manuscripts were made elsewhere at an earlier date they were an almost entirely new arrival to Ireland in this period and their sudden proliferation said much about changes taking place in society at large This book is a detailed study of such manuscripts from the perspective of historical archaeology which will argue that they are artifacts which clearly demonstrate that a profound series of changes was taking place The written word penetrated people s daily lives and homes to a degree that it had not in previous periods and it had a profound influence on how they related to their world objects and each other While this book will address how we can use them as sources for the study of food history and material culture it is ultimately concerned with the meanings of manuscript recipe books and specifically what they say about the individuals and society that made them The proliferation of these manuscripts signaled a profound change not just in cuisine but also in the way people thought about and related to food as a form of material culture Ultimately this book will argue that these manuscripts are not simply excellent records which can tell us about material culture within the early modern house but that they are a profoundly important type of artifact in their own right Undertaking research that situates textual objects such as recipe books at the very core of historical archaeology is critical to understanding some of the most significant changes that took place in the early modern world The Oxford Companion to Food Alan Davidson,2014 Twenty years in the making the first edition of this bestselling reference work appeared in 1999 to worldwide acclaim Combining serious and meticulously researched facts with entertaining and witty commentary it has been deemed unique by chefs and reviewers around the globe It contains both a comprehensive catalog of foodstuffs crackers and cookies named for battles and divas body parts from toe to cerebellum breads from Asia to the Mediterranean and a richly allusive account of the culture of food whether expressed in literature and cook books or as dishes special to a country or community Retaining Alan Davidson s wisdom and wit this new edition also covers the latest developments across the whole spectrum of this subject Tom Jaine has taken the opportunity to update the text and alert readers to new perspectives in food studies There is new coverage on attitudes towards food consumption production and perception such as food and genetics food and sociology and obesity New entries include terms such as convenience foods gastronomy fusion food leftovers obesity local food and many more There are also new entries on important personalities who are of special significance within the world of food among them Clarence Birdseye Henri Nestle and Louis Pasteur Now in its third edition the Companion maintains its place as the foremost food reference resource for study and home use Race and Repast Urszula Niewiadomska-Flis,2022-12-15 Race and Repast Foodscapes in Twentieth Century Southern Literature examines how race relations are expressed through struggles over the meaning of food and access to food in Southern literature This innovative investigation offers new perspectives on the history of racial conflict in the South while illuminating how the very act of eating together allowed Southerners to cross race and class lines at a time of great strife The Oxford Handbook of Early Modern Women's Writing in English, 1540-1700 Elizabeth Scott-Baumann,Danielle Clarke,Sarah C. E. Ross,2022 A Handbook on early modern women s writing that combines new developments in historical and critical research with theoretical and conceptual approaches Food Paul Freedman,2007 This richly illustrated book applies the discoveries of the new generation of food historians to the pleasures of dining and the culinary accomplishments of diverse civilizations past and present Freedman gathers essays by French German Belgian American and British historians to present a comprehensive chronological history of taste BITE: Recipes for Remarkable Research ,2014-01-01 FREELY AVAILABLE ONLINE AS OPEN ACCESS BOOK
