SEX

A set of biological attributes including chromosomes, gene expression, hormone levels and functions, and reproductive anatomy. Sex is usually assigned at birth by observation of a baby's external genitalia, not by their internal organs, hormones, or genes.

GENDER

Society constructed roles, behaviors, expressions, and identities. Gender is often treated, erroneously, as equivalent to sex (boys/men = male and girls/women = female).

GENDER EXPRESSION

External manifestations of gender, expressed through a person's name, pronouns, appearance, clothing, voice, and/or behavior.

GENDER DIVERSE

An umbrella term describing any person whose gender identity, role, or expression differs from socially prescribed gender norms.

INTERSEX

Describes a person with one or more male sex characteristics, including genitalia, internal reproductive organs, and chromosomes, that fall outside of binary conceptions of male or female bodies. Around 1.7% of people are born intersex, comparable to the number of people born with red hair.

GENDER IDENTITY

A person's internal, deeply held knowledge of their gender.

CISGENDER

Describes a person whose gender identity matches their sex assigned at birth.

TRANSGENDER (TRANS)

Describes a person whose gender identity differs from the sex they were assigned at birth.

NONBINARY (ALSO GENDER FLUID, GENDERQUEER, AND AGENDER)

Describes a person whose experience of their gender identity and/or gender expression falls outside the binary gender categories of "man" and "woman."

GENDER DYSPHORIA

The distress a person experiences when their gender identity does not match their sex assigned at birth.

GENDER-AFFIRMING CARE

An umbrella term to describe surgical, hormonal, psychological, or other medical services provided to transgender and gender diverse people.

GENDER EUPHORIA

The comfort and joy someone experiences when their gender expression is aligned with their gender identity.

TRANSITIONING

The medical, legal, and/or social process a person undertakes to bring their gender expression closer to their body into alignment with their gender identity.

MISGENDERING

When someone addresses or refers to another person by the wrong gender. This includes referring to a person using the wrong pronouns or honorifics such as Mr. or Ms., or by calling a trans person by their deadname—the name they used before they transitioned.

Sexualities in World Politics Manuela Lavinas Picq, Markus Thiel, 2015-05-15 As LGBTQ claims acquire global relevance how do sexual politics impact the study of International Relations This book argues that LGBTQ perspectives are not only an inherent part of world politics but can also influence IR theory making LGBTQ politics have simultaneously gained international prominence in the past decade achieving significant policy change and provoked cultural resistance and policy pushbacks Sexuality politics more so than gender based theories arrived late on the theoretical scene in part because sexuality and gender studies initially highlighted post structuralist thinking which was hardly accepted in mainstream political science This book responds to a call for a more empirically motivated but also critical scholarship on this subject It offers comparative case studies from regional cultural and theoretical peripheries to identify ways of rethinking IR Further it aims to add to critical theory broadening the knowledge about previously unrecognized perspectives in an accessible manner

Being aware of preoccupations with the de queering disciplining nature of theory establishment in the social sciences we critically reconsider IR concepts from a particular LGBTQ vantage point and infuse them with queer thinking Considering the relative dearth of contemporary mainstream IR theorizing authors ask what contribution LGBTQ politics can provide for conceiving the political subject as well as the international structure in which activism is embedded This book will be of interest to students and scholars of gender politics cultural studies and international relations theory
