Davis, 1985 Lists over 5 200 titles of books published by American poets between 1973 and 1983 Lifting the Veil Malcolm Guite, 2022-04-29 Christianity has often been suspicious of the human imagination equating it with what is imaginary or merely made up while in the secular world the arts are often seen as little more than a source of entertainment In Lifting the Veil Malcolm Guite explores the vision from which all his writing springs that there is a radiant reality at the heart of things which our dulled sight misses and that the imagination is an aspect of the image of God in us that can awaken us to the presence and truth of God shimmering through all creation He considers how Jesus appealed to the imagination in his use of stories parables and everyday metaphors often startling people into a fresh awareness of the kingdom of God and explores how poets and artists such as Blake and Coleridge sought to remove the dull film of familiarity that lies over our senses and reawaken a sense of wonder Malcolm argues that renewing our artistic imaginations strengthens our moral and prophetic imaginations making Lifting the Veil an inspiring manifesto for all who seek to embody the kingdom of God Romantic Poems, Poets, and Narrators Joseph C. Sitterson, 2000 Students of Blake Coleridge Wordsworth and Keats should appreciate these readings of the major romantic poems The book presents a guide to the various and complex discourses formalist psychanalytic deconstructive and new historicist in which these poems have been reviewed The Strength of Poetry James Fenton, 2003 A major account of modern poetry from one of its leading figures James Fenton examines issues of creativity and the earning of success of judgement tutorage rivalry and ambition He considers the juvenilia of Wilfred Owen the scarred lines of Philip Larkin the inheritance of imperialism and issues of constituency in Seamus Heaney The book contains insights into the work of Marianne Moore Elizabeth Bishop Sylvia Plath D H Lawrence and W H Auden African Studies Association Annual Meeting. [Program] African Studies Association, Poesis in Extremis Daniel Feldman, Efraim Sicher, 2024-02-08 How can genocide be witnessed through imaginative literature How can the Holocaust affect readers who were not there Reading the work of major figures such as Elie Wiesel Paul Celan Avrom Sutzkever Ida Fink Wladyslaw Szlengel Itzhak Katzenelson and Czeslaw Milosz Poesis in Extremis poses fundamental questions about how prose and poetry are written under extreme conditions either in real time or immediately after the Holocaust Framed by discussion of literary testimony with Wiesel s literary memoir Night as an entry point this innovative study explores the blurred boundary of fact and fiction in Holocaust literature It asks whether there is a poetics of the Holocaust and what might be the criteria for literary witnessing Wartime writing in particular tests the limits of poesis in extremis when poets faced their own annihilation and wrote in the hope that their words like a message in a bottle would somehow reach readers Through Poesis in Extremis Daniel Feldman and Efraim Sicher probe the boundaries of Holocaust literature as well as the limits of representation Words and Silence Thérèse Lentfoehr, 1979 Perceptions born of her friendship with Merton over the course of nearly three decades are shared in Sister Therese Lentfoehr's analysis of the entire corpus of the late Trappist monk's poetry The Ethics of Literary Communication Roger D. Sell, Adam Borch, Inna Lindgren, 2013-09-25 Viewing literature as one among other forms of communication Roger D Sell and his colleagues evaluate writer respondent relationships according to the same ethical criterion as applies for dialogue of any other kind In a nutshell Are writers and readers respecting each other's human autonomy If and when the answer here is Yes Sell's team describe the communication that is going on as genuine In this latest book they offer new illustrations of what they mean by this and ask whether genuineness is compatible with communicational directness and communicational indirectness Is there a risk for instance that a very direct manner of writing could be unacceptably coercive or that a more indirect manner could be irresponsible or positively deceitful The book's overall conclusion is Not necessarily A directness which is truthful and stimulates free discussion does respect the integrity of the other person And the same is true of an indirectness which encourages readers themselves to contribute to the construction and assessment of ideas stories and experiences sometimes literary indirectness may allow greater scope for genuineness than does the directness of a non literary letter By way of illustrating these points the book opens up new lines of inquiry into a wide range of literary texts from Britain Germany France Denmark Poland Romania and the United States

Literary History of England George Sherburn, Donald F. Bond, 1967 English historians in the Middle Ages is an overview of the history of English historians and their works in the Middle Ages English historians helped lay the groundwork for modern historical methodology provided vital accounts of the early history of England its culture and revelations about the historians themselves The most remarkable period of historical writing was during the High Middle Ages in the 12th and 13th centuries when English chronicles produced works with a variety of interest wealth of information and amplitude of range However one might choose to view the reliability Art's Emotions Damien Freeman, 2014-09-03 Despite the very obvious differences between looking at Manet's Woman with a Parrot and listening to Elgar's Cello Concerto both experiences provoke similar questions in the thoughtful aesthete why does the painting seem to express reverie and the music nostalgia How do we experience the reverie and nostalgia in such works of art Why do we find these experiences rewarding in similar ways As our awareness of emotion in art and our engagement with art's emotions can make such a special contribution to our life it is timely for a philosopher to seek to account for the nature and significance of the experience of art's emotions Damien Freeman develops a new theory of emotion that is suitable for resolving key questions in aesthetics He then reviews and evaluates three existing approaches to artistic expression and proposes a new approach to the emotional experience of art that draws on the strengths of the existing approaches Finally he seeks to establish the ethical significance of this emotional experience of art for human flourishing Freeman challenges the reader not only to consider how art engages with emotion but how we should connect up our answers to questions concerning the nature and value of the experiences offered by works of art

Rooted David R. Pichaske, 2009-05 David Pichaske has been writing and teaching about midwestern literature for three decades In Rooted by paying close attention to text landscape and biography he examines the relationship between place and art His focus is on seven midwestern authors who came of age toward the close of the twentieth century their lives and their work grounded in distinct places Dave Etter in small town upstate Illinois Norbert Blei in Door County Wisconsin William Kloefkorn in southern Kansas and Nebraska Bill Holm in Minnesota Linda Hasselstrom in Hermosa South Dakota Jim Heynen in Sioux County Iowa and Jim Harrison in upper Michigan The writers' intimate knowledge of place is reflected in their use of details of geography language environment and behavior Yet each writer reaches toward other geographies and into other dimensions of art or thought jazz music and formalism in the case of Etter gender issues in the case of Hasselstrom time past and present in the case of Kloefkorn ethnicity and the role of the artist in the case of Blei magical realism in the case of Heynen the landscape of literature in the case of Holm and the curious worlds of academia best selling novels and Hollywood films in the case of Harrison The result Pichaske notes is the growing away from roots the explorations and alter egos of these writers of place and the tension between the here and there that gives each writer's art the complexity it needs to transcend provincial boundaries Quoting generously from the writers Pichaske employs a practical jargon-free literary analysis fixed in the text making Rooted interesting readable and especially useful in treating the literary categories of memoir and literary essay that have become important in recent decades

A Critical Study of Philip Guston Dore Ashton, 1990-01-01 Dore Ashton has updated the bibliography and added a new concluding chapter to her classic study of the paintings and drawings of Philip Guston the only study of his work completely authorized by the artist Philip Guston 1913-1980 was one of the most independent of the painters whose work was loosely linked by the term abstract expressionism during the 1950s and he baffled admirers of his lushly beautiful abstract expressionist paintings by moving abruptly in mid-career to gritty figurative paintings in an almost cartoon-like style One of the few critics who saw this at the time as a progressive development in his work was Dore Ashton who here analyzes Guston's paintings and drawings in the context of the cultural milieu in which he worked illuminating the dilemma facing artists who try to live with understand and express both the ideals of art and the reality of the world Dore Ashton has updated the bibliography and added a new concluding chapter to her classic study of the paintings and drawings of Philip Guston the only study of his work completely authorized by the artist Philip Guston 1913 1980 was one of the most independent of the painters whose work was loosely linked by the term abstract expressionism during the 1950s and he baffled admirers of his lushly beautiful abstract expressionist paintings by moving abruptly in mid career to gritty figurative paintings in an almost cartoon like style One of the few critics who saw this at the time as a progressive development in his work was Dore Ashton who here analyzes Guston s paintings and drawings in the context of the cultural milieu in which he worked illuminating the dilemma facing artists who try to live with understand and express both the ideals of art and the reality of the world

Men and Women Writers of the 1930s Jan Montefiore, 1996 Jan Montefiore presents an original and challenging critique of the issues of memory and gender during the 1930s The book looks at the part played by memory in the political literature of the era and at the roles of women at that time

The Social Nature of Persons A.P. Tom Ormay, 2018-05-08 This book is a theoretical study of many interconnected facets of the social unconscious and the social part of the personality It takes us from what we thought we knew and knew we thought to the unthought and the unknown which is indeed both disturbing and creative

Nonlinear Temporality in Joyce and Walcott Sean Seeger, 2017-11-22 Nonlinear Temporality in Joyce and Walcott is the first dedicated comparative study of James Joyce and Derek Walcott The book examines the ways in which both Joyce s fiction and Walcott s poetry articulate a nonlinear conception of time with radical cultural and political implications For Joyce and Walcott equally the book argues it is only by reconceiving time in this way that it becomes possible to envisage a means of escape from what Joyce calls force hatred history and what Walcott calls the madness of history seen as sequential time A starting point for the comparisons drawn between Joyce and Walcott is their relationship to Homer Joyce s Ulysses is in one respect a rewriting of Homer s Odyssey Walcott s Omeros stands in an analogous relationship to the Iliad This book argues that these acts of rewriting far from being instances of influence intertextuality or straightforward repetition exemplify Joyce and Walcott s complex stance not just toward literary history but toward the idea of history as such The book goes on to demonstrate how an enhanced appreciation of the role of nonlinear temporality in Joyce and Walcott can help to illuminate numerous other aspects of their work

1960 Al Filreis, 2021-10-26 In 1960 when World War II might seem to have been receding into history a number of artists and writers instead turned back to it They chose to confront the unprecedented horror and mass killing of the war searching for new creative and political possibilities after the conservatism of the 1950s in the long shadow of genocide Al Filreis recasts 1960 as a turning point to offer a groundbreaking account of postwar culture He examines an eclectic group of artistic literary and intellectual figures who strove to create a new language to reckon with the trauma of World War II and to imagine a new world Filreis reflects on the belatedness of this response to the war and the Holocaust and shows how key works linked the legacies of fascism and antisemitism with American racism In grappling with the memory of the war he demonstrates artists reclaimed the radical elements of modernism and brought forth original ideas about testimony to traumatic history 1960 interweaves the lives and works of figures across high and popular culture including Chinua Achebe Hannah Arendt James Baldwin Amiri Baraka Paul Celan John Coltrane Frantz Fanon Roberto Rossellini Muriel Rukeyser Rod Serling and Louis Zukofsky and considers art forms spanning poetry fiction memoir film painting sculpture teleplays musical theater and jazz A deeply interdisciplinary cultural literary and intellectual history this book also offers fresh perspective on the beginning of the 1960s
