Selected Topics in Clinical Oncology J.M. Debois,2012-12-06 By Prof Dr A T Van Oosterom Head of the Department of Oncology at the Catholic University of Leuven Belgium The word cancer defines over 180 different diseases Some occurring quite often and are well known others are very rare and sometimes so unknown that the diagnosis is not even suspected at operation In this book Dr Debois a retired radiation oncologist describes a selected group of cancer types some of which are difficult to find in the standard textbooks in a logical format starting with their bibliography history incidence anatomy clinical presentation diagnosis and staging treatment and follow up For the general oncologist in the community it gives the appropriate data to understand the described diseases and to familiarize him with the peculiar patient he has identified The many tables and figures in every chapter contain an enormous amount of data difficult to collect without extensive searches The mix of historical and new genetic data makes reading attractive In my opinion this book will find his place in the library of every oncologist who wants to know more about the rarer tumors he or she encounters We know a lot about the common tumors but too little about the diseases described here

Forthcoming Books Rose Army,2000-06 Coping with Cancer Stress B.A. Stoll,2012-12-06 The emotional pressures on cancer patients and their families are increasing and traditional supports are decreasing This book attempts to provide a readable authoritative and balanced review of the emotional pressures and coping methods of cancer patients and the help currently available to them The special problems of children and terminal patients with cancer and the role of the family in coping are also examined A balanced and critical assessment is made of defects in health organisation training of personnel and attitudes to cancer patients in Western society A similar assessment is made of the growing tendency to self help mutual help and group activities for such patients While each individual needs to select coping aids best suited to his or her own temperament medical advisors need to make more time available for discussion of technical emotional social and sexual problems The availability of a cancer treating team makes this feasible Chapters were invited from physicians psychiatrists psychologists and sociologists expert in this field and they have responded to the challenge of writing in non technical language This is so that readership can cross disciplinary boundaries and thus stimulate physicians nurses psychologists sociologists clergy and others to satisfy some of the currently unmet needs of cancer patients The reader may note a small amount of overlap between some chapters permitted in order to maintain continuity and make each chapter complete in itself

Journal of the National Cancer Institute ,1999-10 Cancer Survivorship Patricia A. Ganz,2007-07-28 cancer survivors have increased in number more than threefold over the last 30 years to the current level of 10 million and growing Among patients diagnosed today nearly Ctwo thirds are expected to survive 5 or more years This success may be attributed to the expertise of physicians and nurses from multiple disciplines who precisely execute a complex plan based in clinical research Yet after a period of orchestrated and frequent int action with healthcare professionals bolstered by the attention and encouragement of family and friends the cancer patient may view the end of treatment with anxiety and concern And what exactly is the plan Just as healthcare providers are expected to keep up to date with the latest in treatment and prevention they must now coordinate and provide comprehensive s vivor care This signi cant text organized and edited by Patricia A Ganz and involving the contributions of over 40 distinguished authors provides a greatly needed resource for survivor care today and tomorrow The current attention on cancer survivorship represents a confluence of burgeoning survivor numbers a corpus of data on late treatment effects in children and adults and increased public and professional awareness Dr Ganz and many of the contributors to this comprehensive text pioneered cancer survivorship and they must justifiably be proud that their advocacy and commitment to survivor care and research have resulted in in-depth reports by the President's Cancer Panel several Institute of Medicine studies and this timely text
