S. Eliot, France, and the Mind of Europe Jayme Stayer, 2015-09-18 In late 1910 after graduating from Harvard with a master's degree in philosophy the young T S Eliot headed across the Atlantic for a year of life and study in France a country whose poets had already deeply affected his sensibility His short year there was to change him even more decisively as he rubbed up against the artistic philosophical psychological and political currents of early century Paris The absorbent mind of Eliot as shaped by what he later termed the mind of Europe was a node in this interlocking grid of influences As there is no understanding T S Eliot without considering the impact of French art and thought on his development this volume serves both as a centennial commemoration of Eliot's year in Paris and as a reconsideration of the role of France and more widely Europe as they bore on his growth as an artist and critic Most scholarship on Eliot and France has focused on Eliot's relationship to the nineteenth century Symbolists and to the philosophy of Henri Bergson This old frame of reference is broken apart in favor of a much wider field that still takes Paris as its center but reaches across national borders. The volume is divided into two overlapping sections the first Eliot and France focuses on French authors and trends that shaped Eliot and on the personal experiences in Paris that are legible in his artistic development The second section Eliot and Europe situates Eliot in a broader matrix including Anglo French literary theory evolutionary sociology and German influences Contributors include several highly respected names in the field of modernist studies including Jean Michel Rabat Jewel Spears Brooker and Joyce Wexler as well as a number of well established Eliot scholars Reflecting multiple perspectives this volume does not offer a single revisionist take on French and European influence in Eliot's work Rather it circles back to familiar territory deepening and complicating the accepted narratives It also opens up new veins of inquiry from unexpected sources and understudied phenomena drawing on the recently published letters and essays that are currently remapping the field of Eliot studies The Rhetoric of Photography in Modern Japanese Literature Atsuko Sakaki, 2015-10-20 In The Rhetoric of Photography in Modern Japanese Literature Atsuko Sakaki closely examines photography inspired texts by four Japanese novelists Tanizaki Jun ichir 1886 1965 Abe K b 1924 93 Horie Toshiyuki b 1964 and Kanai Mieko b 1947 As connoisseurs practitioners or critics of this visual medium these authors look beyond photographs status as images that document and verify empirical incidents and existences articulating instead the physical process of photographic production and photographs material presence in human lives This book offers insight into the engagement with photography in Japanese literary texts as a means of bringing forgotten subject object dynamics to light It calls for a fundamental reconfiguration of the parameters of modern print culture and its presumption of the transparency of agents of representation Modern Scottish Gaelic Poems ,1977 Although the number of Gaelic speakers has declined during the twentieth century the last forty years have seen an astonishing flowering of Scottish Gaelic poetry much of it in the modern idiom This bilingual anthology provides a selection of the best work of poets who have contributed most to that revival Sorely Maclean George Campbell Hay Derick Thomson Iain Crichton Smith and Donald MacAulay Modernism, Space and the City Andrew Thacker, 2019-01-22 This innovative text examines the development of modernist writing in four European cities London Paris Berlin and Vienna Birds. Beasts, and Seas Jeffrey Yang, 2011 An anthology of poetry that traces the history of poetry's changing relationship to nature featuring the work of over 140 poets
