Metaphysical Poetry Colin Burrow, 2013-07-04 A key anthology for students of English literature Metaphysical Poetry is a collection whose unique philosophical insights are some of the crowning achievements of Renaissance verse edited with an introduction and notes by Colin Burrow in Penguin Classics Spanning the Elizabethan age to the Restoration and beyond Metaphysical poetry sought to describe a time of startling progress scientific discovery unrivalled exploration and deep religious uncertainty This compelling collection of the best and most enjoyable poems from the era includes tightly argued lyrics erotic and libertine considerations of love divine poems and elegies of lament by such great figures as John Donne George Herbert Andrew Marvell and John Milton alongside pieces from many other less well known but equally fascinating poets of the age such as Anne Bradstreet Katherine Philips and Thomas Traherne Widely varied in theme all are characterized by their use of startling metaphors imagery and language to express the uncertainty of an age and a profound desire for originality that was to prove deeply influential on later poets and in particular poets of the Modernist movement such as T S Eliot In his introduction Colin Burrow explores the nature of Metaphysical poetry its development across the seventeenth century and its influence on later poets and includes A Very Short History of Metaphysical Poetry from Donne to Rochester This edition also includes detailed notes a chronology and further reading Colin Burrow is Reader in Renaissance and Comparative Literature at Gonville and Caius College Cambridge He has edited Shakespeare s Sonnets for OUP and The Complete Works of Ben Jonson and is working on the Elizabethan volume of the Oxford English Literary History If you enjoyed Metaphysical Poetry you might like John Donne s Selected Poems also available in Penguin Classics

A Short History of English Literature Harry Blamires,2013-02-28 First published in 2012 This work of introduction is designed to escort the reader through some six centuries of English literature It begins in the fourteenth century at the point at which the language written in our country is recognizably our own and ends in the 1950s It is a compact survey summing up the substance and quality of the individual achievements that make up our literature The aim is to leave the reader informed about each writer s main output sensitive to the special character of his gifts and aware of his place in the story of our literature as a whole

The Poetry of Clare, Hopkins, Thomas, and Gurney Andrew Hodgson,2019-12-31 This book attends to four poets John Clare Gerard Manley Hopkins Edward Thomas and Ivor Gurney whose poems are remarkable for their personal directness and distinctiveness It shows how their writing conveys a potently individual quality of feeling perception and experience each poet responds with unusual commitment to the Romantic idea of art as personal expression The book looks closely at the vitality and intricacy of the poets language the personal candour of their subject matter and their sense obdurate but persuasive of their own strangeness As it traces the tact and imagination with which each of the four writers realises the possibilities of individualism in lyric it affirms the vibrancy of their contributions to nineteenth and twentieth century poetry

George Meredith Jacqueline P. Banerjee,2012 George Meredith was a lyrical yet searingly honest poet and an influential novelist whose fiction distilled contributed to and animated the major debates of the Victorian age He became at once an arbiter of taste in his own times and a trailblazer for modernism In many ways an extraordinary larger than life figure he has always had his admirers and critics have continued to be drawn to the biographical socio political scientific and experimental aspects of his oeuvre Some of his works including the sonnets of Modern Love his Essay on Comedy and the Uses of the Comic Spirit and novels like The Egoist have attained the status of classics The present study focuses on such works putting them in context to show how innovatively this versatile writer shaped and reshaped his material and how powerfully his inimitable voice still resonates with and challenges us in the twenty first century

Criticism After Theory from Shakespeare to Virginia Woolf Perry Meisel,2022-05-30 The argument of this book is a simple one that criticism after theory is a single movement of thought defined by synthesis and continuity rather than by conflict and change The most influential figures in criticism since Saussure Bakhtin Derrida and Foucault are wholly consistent with Saussure s foundational Course in General Linguistics 1916 no matter the traditions of complaint that have followed in Saussure s wake from Bakhtin forward These complaints vitiate despite themselves and often hilariously so the misconceptions that have made cottage industries out of quarrels with

Saussurean semiology that are based on notions of Saussure that are incorrect The materialist criticism dominant today is actually dependent upon on the legacy of a presumably formalist structuralism rather than a step beyond it New Historicism postcolonialism gender studies environmental criticism archive studies even shared and surface reading are like deconstruction the by products of Saussure s structuralism not its foils Saussure s sign is sensory and concrete Language and materiality are not distinct but one and the same history society the psychological subject even the environment are systems of signs material archives read and reread by futures that produce the past after the fact Without Saussure contemporary criticism would have no identifiable or effective source The book begins with chapters on Saussure and Derrida Bakhtin and Shakespeare and Freud and Foucault followed by chapters on Victorian and American fiction D H Lawrence and modern poetry Virginia Woolf and Melanie Klein and the historicist tropology of psychoanalysis It concludes with a coda in life writing on the author s epileptic disability

Leigh Hunt Leigh Hunt,2003-11-20 Leigh Hunt 1784 1859 was a prolific versatile and engaging writer He outlived many of the poets and essayists of his generation whose reputations overshadowed his but Coleridge Wordsworth Shelley and Keats all owed a debt to his advocacy as did Tennyson and Browning A poet of charm and technical skill and an able translator and playwright Leigh Hunt excelled as an essayist literary critic and letter writer His concern was always in the words of his son to open more widely the door of the library to share his literary enthusiasms and extend his readers tastes This anthology draws on the full range of Hunt s poetry and prose revealing a writer committed to the humane and civilizing powers of literature and friendship

The Remembered Dead Sally Minogue,Andrew Palmer,2018-05-31 Explores the ways poets address the difficult question of how to remember and commemorate those killed in the First World War and beyond

Major Women Writers of Seventeenth-century England James Fitzmaurice,1997 The first comprehensive anthology of seventeenth century English women writers

The Artist and Academia Helen Phelan,Graham F. Welch,2021-03-29 The Artist and Academia explores the relationship between artistic and academic ways of knowing Historically these have often been presented as opposites the former characterized as passionate and intuitive and the latter portrayed as systematic and rigorous Recent scholarship presents a more complex picture Artistic knowledge demands high levels of skill and rigor while academic research requires creativity and innovative thinking This edited collection brings together leading artists and scholars as well as artist scholars to offer a variety of philosophical educational experiential reflexive and imaginative perspectives on the artist and academia The contributions include in depth scholarly discussions on the nature of knowledge and creativity as well as personal artistic statements from musicians dancers actors and writers Additionally it explores both the mediational and subversive spaces created by the meeting of artistic and academic traditions While the book addresses global themes by global writers its core case study is an educational experiment called the Irish World Academy of Music and Dance at the University of Limerick in Ireland Established in 1994 it set out to reconfigure the place of the artist in the context of contemporary higher education The material is clustered into three parts Part One and Part Two explore the artist as mediator educator and subversive in academia Grounded in close to practice research Part Three concludes the volume with a set of case studies from the Irish World Academy Artistic and academic knowledge come together in this unique set of pieces to explore the development of more inclusive and imaginative pedagogical values

Romanticism Gendered Andrea Fischerová,2020-11-09 This study focuses on the six writing men who have been throughout decades regarded as the alpha and omega of British Romanticism Byron Coleridge Keats Scott Shelley and Wordsworth It sees these men as a representative cohort of their time and examines their letters as results of a reading process Although letters are usually seen as additional sources of reference in literary studies in this book they are treated as the dominant information material correspondence enables to reconsider British Romanticism on the basis of the epistolary communication of the first half of the nineteenth century The target information from the letters are references to women writers and to their writings A detailed analysis of the correspondence manages to answer the question whether male Romantics regarded writing women as provoking from time to time as Duncan Wu assumes and whether the gender identity of the woman author influenced the way male readers read her literary works The examination of the correspondence thus takes a gendered perspective on British Romanticism This approach to the target research data discloses a long list of almost 120 names of women writers from different periods and of different literary genres Whereas the male readers in question have acquired a well established stable long term position within literary history the women were often marginalized even forgotten The study presents plentiful examples proving the discrepancies between what the twenty first century reader regards as the core of women s Romantic literary tradition and what the Romantic reader did The following women writers are discussed in the study in detail Susannah Centlivre Anne Finch Lady Winchelsea Ann Radcliffe Mary Robinson Felicia Hemans Mary Shelley Joanna Baillie Maria Edgeworth Maria Jane Jewsbury Catherine Grace Godwin and Emmeline Fisher

The Nature of Modernism Elizabeth Black,2017-11-22 This books presents the first extended study of the relationship between British modernist poetry and the environment Challenging reductive associations of modernism as predominantly anthropocentric in character and urban in focus the book s central argument is that within British modernist poetry there is a clear and sustained interest in the natural world which has yet to receive adequate critical attention Whilst modernist studies continues to emphasize the plurality of the movement and the breadth of voices and concerns within it the environmental consciousness of modernist literature and its response to changes to human nature relations following the experience of war and modernity remain largely unexamined Exploring British modernist poetry from an ecocritical perspective offers a fresh approach to the movement and its context and produces original readings of both canonical and more marginalized modernist voices This book opens by discussing the relationship between modernism and ecocriticism and the benefits of creating a dialogue between the two It then presents new readings of Edward Thomas T S Eliot Edith Sitwell and Charlotte

Mew that reveal a shared preoccupation with environmental issues and a common desire to find new ways of achieving physical psychological and artistic reconnection with nature Building on the continuing growth of ecocriticism this book demonstrates how green approaches to modernist studies can produce new insights into both individual poets and the modernist movement as a whole making it an essential resource for students of modernism ecocriticism and early twentieth century literature
