Self And Society In Aging Processes:

The Self and Society in Aging Processes Carol D. Ryff, PhD, Victor W. Marshall, PhD, 1999-06-23 This volume focuses on the experience of growing old as it is linked to societal factors Ryff and Marshall construct this macro view of aging in society by bridging disciplines and bringing together contributors from all the social sciences The book is organized into three sections theoretical perspectives socioeconomic structures and contexts of self and society Leading psychologists anthropologists gerontologists and sociologists present theoretical and empirical advances that forge links between the individual and the social aspects of aging It is must reading for researchers in all gerontologic specialties and a valuable text for graduate courses in human development psychology of aging and other social aspects of aging Identity Process Theory Rusi Jaspal, Glynis M. Breakwell, 2014-04-17 We live in an ever changing social world which constantly demands adjustment to our identities and actions Advances in science technology and medicine political upheaval and economic development are just some examples of social change that can impact upon how we live our lives how we view ourselves and each other and how we communicate Three decades after its first appearance identity process theory remains a vibrant and useful integrative framework in which identity social action and social change can be collectively examined This book presents some of the key developments in this area In eighteen chapters by world renowned social psychologists the reader is introduced to the major social psychological debates about the construction and protection of identity in face of social change Contributors address a wide range of contemporary topics national identity risk prejudice intractable conflict and ageing which are examined from the perspective of identity process theory Towards an Interdisciplinary Perspective on the Life Course René Levy, Paolo Ghisletta, Jean-Marie Le Goff, Dario Spini, Eric Widmer, 2005-11-17 Despite the well established consensus on the need for an interdisciplinary research paradigm to understand the unfolding of human lives within their social context existing empirical research rarely embraces this belief This volume aims at examining the feasibility and hurdles of interdisciplinarity specific to given research fields by bringing together leading North American and European researchers in sociology psychology social psychology and social demography all highly concerned with fostering an interdisciplinary perspective for the study of the human life course The contributions are organized along four major axes three of them substantive agency and structure transitions and biographical reconstructions and one methodological methodological innovations leaving ample leeway for the contributions to address the specific gains and difficulties of empirical interdisciplinary research within their particular domain The editors introduce the volume by discussing general features theoretical linkages and transversal substantive themes of interdisciplinarity in life course research Likewise the volume is ended by the editors conclusions based on the contributions they single out major challenges and difficulties for the interdisciplinary study of the life course together with some promising research meant to address such difficulties and improve current knowledge about the life course The volume speaks to both experienced scholars and graduate students of the life course Advanced scholars will benefit from the latest in life course research domains and from a comprehensive overview of life course methodologies Graduate students of the life course will find in the book an original introduction to many empirical aspects of life course research and to the application of innovative methods to various research settings as well as rich bibliographical references from the research literature in English German and French

Rubinstein Edmund Sherman Carolyn Norris Baker and Rick Scheidt among others As a special feature this volume concludes with critical commentaries from three eminent scholars Amos Rapoport Kim Dovey and Marie Versperi This volume will be of interest to practitioners researchers upper level graduates graduate level students in gerontology environmental psychology social work and nursing It will be valuable to everyone in the helping professions who seek a deeper understanding of the ways in which being at home and attachment to place plays a key role in the life experience and well being of their clients as they grow older

The Need for Theory Simon Biggs, Jon Hendricks, Ariela

Lowenstein,2020-11-25 The Need for Theory speaks to the burgeoning need for critical thinking in social gerontology The editors have brought together some of the foremost contributors to theoretical advances in the field This volume incorporates state of the art theorizing with a focus on selected topical areas facing gerontologists around the world Using their keen insights into substantive issues the contributors examine personal and structural changes affecting individuals over the life course Extolling the need for theory is not enough the contributors focus their insights on a panoply of substantive issues linking the personal with the political and with the structural parameters that shape the process of aging no matter where it occurs Authenticity in Culture, Self, and Society J. Patrick Williams,2016-12-05 Across sociology and cultural studies in particular the concept of authenticity has begun to occupy a central role yet in spite of its popularity as an ideal and philosophical value authenticity notably suffers from a certain vagueness with work in this area tending to borrow ideas from outside of sociology whilst failing to present empirical studies which centre on the concept itself Authenticity in Culture Self and Society addresses the problems surrounding this concept offering a sociological analysis of it for the first time in order to provide readers in the social and cultural sciences with a clear conceptualization of authenticity and with a survey of original empirical studies focused on its experience negotiation and social relevance at the levels of self culture and specific social settings Research Anthology on Supporting Healthy Aging in a Digital Society Management Association,

Information Resources,2022-02-04 In today s rapidly evolving society there has been an increase in technologies and systems available to support the elderly throughout various aspects of life We have come a long way in the quality of life we can offer our aging populations in recent years due to these technological innovations medical advancements and research initiatives However further study of these developments is crucial to ensure they are utilized to their utmost potential in securing a healthier elderly population The Research Anthology on Supporting Healthy Aging in a Digital Society discusses the current challenges of aging in the modern world as well as recent developments in medicine and technology that can be used to improve the quality of life of elderly citizens Covering a wide range of topics such as smart homes remote healthcare and aging in place this reference work is ideal for healthcare professionals gerontologists therapists government officials policymakers researchers academicians practitioners scholars instructors and students Communication and the Aging Process Lois M. Tamir,2013-10-22 Communication and the Aging Process Interaction throughout the Life Cycle focuses on the process of development from infancy through old age particularly noting the value of communication social interaction and social networks The manuscript first offers information on development throughout the life cycle as well as models of development crisis and change and methodology The text then discusses communicative interaction and origins of communication including interpersonal cognition social interaction caretaker child interaction communication between children and language development The book surveys adolescence and adulthood psychological characteristics of the aged and social world of the aged Personality and morale retirement and widowhood attitudes toward the aged and norms and
