Limitations within International Criminal Proceedings Nicolas A.J. Croquet, 2016-01-12 The aim of this monograph is to analyze how the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda and the International Criminal Court have resorted to proportionality and other limitation techniques when placing implied external limits upon the exercise of substantive and procedural human rights enjoyed by the accused and other actors affected by international criminal proceedings Implied external limits in this context are defined as those limits that override the exercise of a human right on public interest grounds or on grounds relating to competing human rights and that either fall outside the scope of a limitation qualification clause of an international criminal court's internal legal instruments or go beyond its express and ordinary terms The present monograph will point to various sources of legal uncertainty which international criminal courts have generated in the limitation process of those human rights relevant to international criminal proceedings and to the definition of international crimes The monograph will examine the relation between human rights limitations on human rights standards and proportionality under international criminal procedural law and international criminal law understood substantively in light of the limitation and proportionality practices of international human rights monitoring bodies The Legacy of the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia A. H. J. Swart, Alexander Zahar, Göran Sluiter, 2011-05-19 The International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia ICTY was established in 1993 and is due to complete its trials by 2011 Easily the most credible and prodigious of the international tribunals established in this period the ICTY is by far the most important source of case law on international criminal law This is reflected in the citations it receives by other courts and by learned commentators Long after its dissolution the ICTY will most likely serve as an important frame of reference for the International Criminal Court and other courts dealing with international crimes including national courts The publication of this book coincides with the year of cessation of trial activity at the ICTY Its purpose is to mark this significant milestone in international law with a series of in depth critical reflections on the institution's legacy by eminent scholars and practitioners In the course of seventeen chapters the contributing authors analyse the main features of the ICTY's work in an unprecedented examination of the institution's legitimacy core principles methodologies unstated assumptions political circumstances and impact and indeed its legacy The Oxford Companion to International Criminal Justice, 2009-01-22 The move to end impunity for human rights atrocities has seen the creation of international and hybrid tribunals and increased prosecutions in domestic courts The Oxford Companion to International Criminal Justice is the first major reference work to provide a complete overview of this emerging field Its nearly 1100 pages are divided into three sections In the first part 21 essays by leading thinkers offer a comprehensive survey of issues and debates surrounding international humanitarian law international criminal law and their enforcement The second part is arranged alphabetically containing 320 entries on doctrines procedures institutions and personalities The final part contains over 400 case summaries on different trials from international and domestic courts dealing with war crimes crimes against humanity genocide torture and terrorism With analysis and commentary on every aspect of international criminal justice this Companion is designed to be the first port of call for scholars and practitioners interested in current developments in international justice

Ineffective Legal Assistance Jill E.B. Coster van Voorhout,2016-11-28 In Ineffective Legal Assistance Redress for the Accused in Dutch Criminal Procedure and Compliance with ECHR Case Law Dr Jill E B Coster van Voorhout LL M MSc examines the extent to which ineffective legal assistance and its redress for the accused in the Netherlands abide by minimum guarantees set by the European Court on Human Rights regarding the right to an effective defence in a fair trial Coster van Voorhout demonstrates convincingly that currently Dutch law and case law do not fully guarantee the right to effective legal assistance and related minimum guarantees This book offers recommendations as to how redress for ineffective legal assistance could better conform to the relevant ECHR standards
