Phenomenology Of Landscape Places Paths And Monuments:

A Phenomenology of Landscape Christopher Tilley, 1994-12-14 Offers a new approach to landscape perception This book is an extended photographic essay about topographic features of the landscape It integrates philosophical approaches to landscape perception with anthropological studies of the significance of the landscape in small scale societies This perspective is used to examine the relationship between prehistoric sites and their topographic settings The author argues that the architecture of Neolithic stone tombs acts as a kind of camera lens focussing attention on landscape features such as rock outcrops river valleys mountain spurs in their immediate surroundings These monuments played an active role in socializing the landscape and creating meaning in it A Phenomenology of Landscape is unusual in that it links two types of publishing which have remained distinct in archaeology books with atmospheric photographs of monuments with a minimum of text and no interpretation and the academic text in which words provide a substitute for visual imagery Attractively illustrated with many photographs and diagrams it will appeal to anyone interested in prehistoric monuments and landscape as well as students and specialists in archaeology anthropology and human geography Reception perception and interpretation are key to understanding landscapes This book provides a useful starting point for comprehension of these topics Dr Stuart Prior University of Bristol

A Phenomenology of Landscape Christopher Tilley, 1997 Space and Spatial Analysis in Archaeology University of Calgary. Archaeological Association. Conference, Elizabeth C. Robertson, 2006 The archaeology of space and place is examined in this selection of papers from the 34th annual Chacmool Archaeological Conference

A Dictionary of Archaeology Ian Shaw, Robert Jameson, 2002-05-06 This dictionary provides those studying or working in archaeology with a complete reference to the field

The Spaces and Places of Horror Francesco Pascuzzi, Sandra Waters, 2020-01-16 This volume explores the complex horizon of landscapes in horror film culture to better understand the use that the genre makes of settings locations spaces and places be they physical imagined or altogether imaginary In The Philosophy of Horror No 1 Carroll discusses the geography of horror as often situating the filmic genre in liminal spaces as a means to displace the narrative away from commonly accepted social structures this use of space is meant to trigger the audience s innate fear of the unknown This notion recalls Freud s theorization of the uncanny as it is centered on recognizable locations outside of the Lacanian symbolic order In some instances a location may act as one of the describing characteristics of evil itself In A Nightmare on Elm Street teenagers fall asleep only to be dragged from their bedrooms into Freddy Krueger s labyrinthine lair an inescapable boiler room that enhances Freddie s powers and makes him invincible In other scenarios the action may take place in a distant little known country to isolate characters Roth s Hostel films or as a way to mythicize the very origin of evil Bava s Black Sunday Finally anxieties related to the encroaching presence of technology in our lives may give rise to postmodern narratives of loneliness and disconnect at the crossing between virtual and real places in Kurosawa s Pulse the internet acts as a gateway between the living and spirit worlds

creating an oneiric realm where the living vanish and ghosts move to replace them This suggestive topic begs to be further investigated this volume represents a crucial addition to the scholarship on horror film culture by adopting a transnational comparative approach to the analysis of formal and narrative concerns specific to the genre by considering some of the most popular titles in horror film culture alongside lesser known works for which this anthology represents the first piece of relevant scholarship

Handbook of Landscape Archaeology Bruno David, Julian Thomas, 2016-06-03 Over 80 archaeologists from four continents create a benchmark volume of the ideas and practices of landscape archaeology covering the theoretical and the practical the research and conservation and encasing the term in a global framework

The Oxford Handbook of Anglo-Saxon Archaeology Helena Hamerow, David A. Hinton, Sally Crawford, 2011-03-31 Written by a team of experts and presenting the results of the most up to date research The Handbook of Anglo Saxon Archaeology will both stimulate and support further investigation into a society poised at the interface between prehistory and history

The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Death and Burial Sarah Tarlow, Liv Nilsson Stutz, 2013-06-06 This Handbook reviews the state of mortuary archaeology and its practice with forty four chapters focusing on the history of the discipline and its current scientific techniques and methods Written by leading scholars in the field it derives its examples and case studies from a wide range of time periods and geographical areas

Trail of Story, Traveller's Path Leslie Main Johnson, 2010 This sensitive examination of the meanings of landscape draws on the author's rich experience with diverse environments and peoples the Gitksan and Witsuwit'en of northwestern British Columbia the Kaska Dena of the southern Yukon and the Gwich'in of the Mackenzie Delta Johnson maintains that the ways people understand and act upon land have wide implications shaping cultures and ways of life determining identity and polity and creating and maintaining environmental relationships and economies Her emphasis on landscape and ways of knowing the land provides a particular take on ecological relationships of First Peoples to land

Megaliths and Geology: Megálitos e Geologia Rui Boaventura, Rui Mataloto, André Pereira, 2020-06-18 This book presents contributions from MegaTalks 2 Portugal 2015 part of the MegaGeo project which aimed to analyse the raw material economy in the construction of megalithic tombs in multiple territories showing the representation of several prehistoric communities that raised them and their relationship with the surrounding areas

Conversations With Landscape Karl Benediktsson, Katrín Anna Lund, 2016-05-13 Conversations With Landscape moves beyond the conventional dualisms associated with landscape exploring notions of landscape and its relation with humans through the metaphor of conversation Such an approach conceives of landscape as an actor in the ongoing communication that is inherent in any perception recognising the often ignored mutuality of encounters between human and non human actors With contributions drawn from a variety of disciplines including anthropology geography archaeology philosophy literature and the visual arts this book explores the affects and emotions engendered in the conversations between landscape and humans Offering scope for an original and coherent approach to the study of landscape this book will appeal to scholars and researchers across a range of social sciences and humanities Evolutionary and Interpretive Archaeologies Andrew Gardner, 2011-06 This collection of original articles compares various key archaeological topics agency violence social groups diffusion from evolutionary and interpretive perspectives These two strands represent the major current theoretical poles in the discipline By comparing and contrasting the insights they provide into major archaeological themes this volume demonstrates the importance of theoretical frameworks in archaeological interpretations Chapter authors discuss relevant Darwinian or interpretive theory with short archaeological and anthropological case studies to illustrate the substantive conclusions produced The book will advance debate and contribute to a better understanding of the goals and research strategies that comprise these distinct research traditions Nagabharana: Recent Trends in Jainism Studies Prof.Dr.PEDARAPU CHENNA REDDY, 2022-02-24 Experiencing Etruscan Pots Lucy Shipley, 2015-02-28 What was it like to use and live with Etruscan pottery Characterising that experience of Etruscan pottery is the concern of this book More specifically this volume aims to unpick both the physical encounter between vessel and hand and the emotional interaction between the user of a pot and the images inscribed upon its surface The Neolithic of the Irish Sea Chris Fowler, 2015-03-31 This collection of 24 papers aims to reconsider the nature and significance of the Irish Sea as an area of cultural interaction during the Neolithic period The traditional character of work across this region has emphasised the existence of prehistoric contact with sea routes criss crossing between Ireland the Isle of Man Anglesey and the British mainland A parallel course of investigation however has demonstrated that the British and Irish Neolithics were in many ways different with distinct indigenous patterns of activity and social practices The recent emphasis on regional studies has further produced evidence for parallel yet different processes of cultural change taking place throughout the British Isles as a whole This volume brings together some of these regional perspectives and compares them across the Irish Sea area The authors consider new ways to explain regional patterning in the use of material objects and relate them to past practices and social strategies Were there practices that were shared across the Irish Sea area linking different styles of monuments and material culture or were the media intrinsic to the message The volume is based on papers presented at a conference held at the University of Manchester in 2002 The Archaeology and Anthropology of Landscape Robert Layton, Peter Ucko, 2003-09-02 The Archaeology and Anthropology of Landscape contributes to the development of theory in archaeology and anthropology provides new and varied case studies of landscape and environment from five continents and raises important policy issues concerning development and the management of heritage Archaeological Theory Today Ian Hodder, 2014-02-27 Now in a revised and updated second edition this volume provides an authoritative account of the current status of archaeological theory as presented by some of its major exponents and innovators over recent decades It summarizes the latest developments in the field and looks to its future exploring some of the cutting edge ideas at the forefront of the discipline The volume captures the diversity of contemporary archaeological theory Some authors argue for an approach close to the natural sciences others for an engagement with cultural debate about representation of the past Some minimize the relevance of culture to societal change while others see it as central some focus on the contingent and the local others on long term evolution While few practitioners in theoretical archaeology would today argue for a unified disciplinary approach the authors in this volume increasingly see links and convergences between their perspectives The volume also reflects archaeology's new openness to external influences as well as the desire to contribute to wider debates The contributors examine ways in which archaeological evidence contributes to theories of evolutionary psychology as well as to the social sciences in general where theories of social relationships agency landscape and identity are informed by the long term perspective of archaeology The new edition of Archaeological Theory Today will continue to be essential reading for students and scholars in archaeology and in the social sciences more generally

The Sacred Landscape of Dra Abu el-Naga during the New Kingdom María de los Ángeles Jiménez-Higueras, 2020-10-12 In The Sacred Landscape of Dra Abu el Naga during the New Kingdom ngeles Jim nez Higueras offers the reconstruction of the physical religious and cultural landscape of Dra Abu el Naga south and its conceptual development from the 18th to the 20th Dynasties 1550 1069 BC A wider insight into the Theban necropolis is provided including the position played by the Dra Abu el Naga cemetery within the Theban funerary context understood as an inseparable complex of diverse components For this study ngeles Jim nez Higueras has reconciled textual and archaeological perspectives with theories relating to Landscape Archaeology which efficiently manages to compile and to link prosopographical genealogical archaeological and GIS Geographical Information System data

Landscape Appreciation David Jacques, 2019-12-02 This book examines the many theories of preferred landscape over the last half century and informs those readers teaching or in landscape practice of the main lines of argument so that they can make up their own minds

TRAC 2015 Matthew J. Mandich, Sergio Gonzalez Sanchez, Giacommo Savani, Eleonora Zampieri, Thomas J. Derrick, 2016-05-16 The 2015 TRAC proceedings feature a selection of 14 papers summing up some of the key sessions presented at the conference held at the University of Leicester in March 2015 which drew over 180 delegates of 17 nationalities from a variety of universities museums and research institutions in the UK Europe and North America As this conference marked the 25th anniversary of TRAC the volume opens with a preface commemorating the last 25 years with an eye toward the future direction of both conference and community The proceedings begin with Dr Andrew Gardner's keynote paper on the topic of Debating Roman Imperialism Critique Construct Repeat This is followed by an array of papers with topics ranging in geographic scope and period from small finds in early Roman Britain to bathing practices Late Antique North Africa and from the investigation of deviant burials to the application of urban scaling theory in Roman contexts Because of this diversity the volume is not broken into specific sections however papers with similar themes are grouped accordingly allowing the text to flow and be read as a whole The range of contributing authors is also of note as papers were submitted by PhD students post doctoral researchers and university faculty all helping to make the 25th anniversary of this series one that continues to emphasis and reflect the aims of TRAC both as a conference and as a conduit for exploring more theory driven approaches to the Roman past
