REDEMPTION

In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. And the earth was without form, and void, and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.
 And God said, Let there be light: and there was light. And God saw the light, that it was good: and God divided the light from the darkness. God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night. And the morning and the evening were the first day.
 And God said, Let there be a firmament in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters.
 And God made the firmament, and God called the firmament Heaven. And God divided the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were above the firmament:
 and God called the waters
 which were above the firmament Heaven. And the firmament was finished. This was the second day.
 And God said, Let the waters under the firmament be gathered together into one place, and let the dry land appear. And God called the dry land Earth, and the gathering together of the waters he called Seas. And God saw that it was good.
 And God said, Let the earth bring forth grass, and herb yielding seed, and the tree bearing fruit, which shall bear fruit after his kind: and let them multiply, and fill the earth. And God said, Let the earth bring forth living creatures after their kind, of the beast of the earth, and of the creeping creature, and of the wild beast of the earth, and of the creeping creature, and of the bird of the heaven, and of the fish of the sea, and every creeping creature that creepeth upon
 us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the heaven, and over the beast of the earth, and over every creeping
 the earth. And God created man in his own image, after his likeness: male and female created he them: and God blessed them, and said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and fill the earth, and subdue it: and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the heaven, and over the beast of the earth, and over every creeping
 the earth. And God said, Behold, I have given you every herb bearing seed, which I have created, unto you for meat:
 and unto the beast of the earth, and unto every creeping
 the earth, and unto every bird of the heaven, I have given every green herb for meat. And it was evening, and it was morning, the third day.

Redeeming Creation A Christian World Evolving:

The Christian Doctrine of Creation and Redemption Emil Brunner, 2014-10-10 Emil Brunner 1889 1966 was the most widely read theologian in the English speaking world throughout the mid twentieth century Brunner was Professor of Systematic and Practical Theology at the University of Zurich from 1924 55 His key works The Mediator The Divine Imperative and Man in Revolt were standard texts for Protestant seminaries for decades Perspectives on an Evolving Creation Keith B. Miller, 2003-09-25 According to the authors of this book who explore evolutionary theory from a clear Christian perspective the common view of conflict between evolutionary theory and Christian faith is mistaken Written by contributors representing the natural sciences philosophy theology and the history of science this thought provoking work is informed by both solid scientific knowledge and keen theological insight The three sections of the book address 1 relevant biblical historical and scientific background 2 the scientific evidence for an evolving creation and 3 theological issues commonly raised in connection with evolution including the nature of God s creative activity the meaning of the miraculous and the uniqueness of humankind Woven through the volume are short meditations designed to direct readers toward worshipping the God of providence Contributors Laurie J Braaten Warren S Brown Jr David Campbell Robin Collins Edward B Davis Terry M Gray Jeffrey K Greenberg Deborah B Haarsma Loren Haarsma James P Hurd Conrad Hyers David N Livingstone Keith B Miller John C Munday Jr George L Murphy Mark A Noll Robert John Russell Howard J Van Till David L Wilcox Jennifer Wiseman How to Read the Bible in Changing Times Mark L. Strauss, 2011-08-01 Many find it difficult to take words that were written thousands of years ago and apply them to twenty first century life in the Western world How do we read God s unchanging Word in a world that is increasingly defined by change How to Read the Bible in Changing Times shows everyday Christians how to interpret and apply the Scriptures regardless of time and culture Rather than seeing the Bible as a magic answer book a list of commands to obey or a series of promises to claim this insightful book allows the Bible to retain its identity as a complex inspired document while showing that the truth it contains is relevant and life changing It shows the reader how to determine the meaning of the text in its original context identify culturally relative features understand what the text teaches about God his will and his purposes apply the truths discovered to contemporary life situations It even shows readers how to discern God s will on the many modern issues that the Bible does not directly address Evolutionary Creation Denis O Lamoureux, 2009-02-26 In this provocative book evolutionist and evangelical Christian Denis O Lamoureux proposes an approach to origins that moves beyond the evolution versus creation debate Evolution: Really? Richard Terrell, 2011-04-19 Why is it that 150 years after the celebrated appearance of Charles Darwin s evolutionary vision reasonable people laity and professional scientists alike remain skeptical toward it Does Darwinian science as various new atheists assert nullify the rationality of theistic belief What is the nature of Evolutionism as a worldview with religious implications Author Richard Terrell explores these fundamental questions and more from the standpoint of the Humanities arguing that the issues of life's origin, human nature and human destiny call for a larger arena of discussion than can be provided by science alone. He rejects popular notions that science has put an irrefutable barrier in the path of theistic belief and casts light on how the evolutionary vision of life expressed as scientific materialism constitutes a religious worldview of its own with questionable implications for the human condition. Along the way Terrell considers the thoughts of such classic evolutionary thinkers as Ernst Haeckel, Julian Huxley, George Gaylord Simpson and Theodosius Dobzhansky along with more contemporary thinkers like Richard Dawkins and other new atheists. Drawing upon the rich historical storehouse of affirmation and skepticism concerning Darwinism, Terrell argues that opposition to Darwinian beliefs is not confined to religious objections but that the most serious challenges have come from scientists. Surprisingly, this minority report has existed through all the years of Darwinian cultural ascendancy and is gaining in strength today. Here is a challenge to encourage students free inquiry into Darwinian doctrine and cultural influence free of dogma and intimidation.

Creation and Evolution Friedrich S. Rothschild, 2018-05-04 The issues surrounding Darwin's theory of evolution as a function of the survival of the fittest have hardly abated since they were initially promulgated about 150 years ago. The reason is clear: behind the theory of evolution is a doctrine of structure of organisms that can be explained only by fitting the adaptation to the external world. The older doctrines of creation have been at odds with evolutionism from the outset, sometimes utilizing straight theological arguments and at other times employing sophisticated scientific arguments. Into the breach steps Friedrich S. Rothschild, a trained neurologist, psychologist and physician. On the basis of his researches in comparative embryology, Rothschild argues that the central nervous system of animals as well as humans conveys meaning just like language and is not just a system aimed at adaptation to the external environment. His theory of biosemiotics introduces the concept of inner adaptation. This adaptation to the principal forces assigns meaning to life. In monotheistic religions, this force is called God. The issue of adaptation is therefore both external and internal, related to growth of the person no less than the environment. This book is intended for those who are interested in life and its varied meanings to students of sociobiology and medicine as well as those concerned with humanities. Voluntas Dei Lily Dougall, 1912

Evolutionary History in Theological Perspective Mario Anthony Russo, 2024-06-10 Evolutionary History in Theological Perspective Exploring the Scientific Story of the Cosmos develops a new theological interpretation of evolutionary history Exploring both secular and theological interpretations of evolutionary history this new interpretation hinges on the similarities between individual redemption and the eschatological story of cosmic redemption as mediated by the Holy Spirit throughout evolutionary history This new lens is then applied to relevant questions raised by the evolutionary process especially suffering and helps overcome the current shortcomings of contemporary interpretations of evolutionary history

Human Significance in Theology and the Natural Sciences Christopher L. Fisher, 2010-02-03 The medieval worldview that regarded human beings as at the center of God s plans for His universe has long been regarded as obsolete its synthesis of Christian theology and Greek philosophy having collapsed under the weight of Copernicus Galileo and Darwin The popular stereotype is that Science both in the Copernican revolution that dethroned the earth centered view of the cosmos and in subsequent developments in evolutionary theory and general relativity has marginalized and trivialized human existence revealing humanity s place in the cosmos to be accidental peripheral and ultimately meaningless However an investigation into both modern Christian theology and contemporary twenty first century Science reveals just the opposite providing solid evidence in the interdisciplinary dialogue concerning the significance of humanity within the universe In this important study Christopher Fisher analyzes several modern theologians including Wolfhart Pannenberg Karl Rahner and John Zizioulas to reveal how contemporary ecumenical theology is deeply and intrinsically committed to a high view of human cosmic significance as a consequence of Christianity s indelible Trinitarian and incarnational faith Fisher then demonstrates how research in contemporary natural Science confirms this finding in its own way as recent primate intelligence studies artificial intelligence research and even the quest for extra terrestrial intelligence reveal the wonder of human uniqueness A contemporary version of the teleological argument also resurfaces in consideration of cosmic evolutionary perspectives on human existence Even ecological concerns take on a new poignancy with the realization that among material creatures only human beings are capable of addressing the world's situation. This interdisciplinary study uncovers the surprising coherence and convergence of Christian Theology and Natural Science on the subject of human existence and significance here at the beginning of the twenty-first century and it highlights the very unique role of humanity in global and cosmic history. Islam and Evolution Shoaib Ahmed Malik, 2021-05-03. This book attempts to equip the reader with a holistic and accessible account of Islam and evolution. It guides the reader through the different variables that have played a part in the ongoing dialogue between Muslim creationists and evolutionists. This work views the discussion through the lens of al-Ghazali (1058-1111), a widely known and well-respected Islamic intellectual from the medieval period. By understanding al-Ghazali as an Ash'arite theologian, a particular strand of Sunni theology, his metaphysical and hermeneutic ideas are taken to explore if and how much Neo-Darwinian evolution can be accepted. It is shown that his ideas can be used to reach an alignment between Islam and Neo-Darwinian evolution. This book offers a detailed examination that seeks to offer clarity if not agreement in the midst of an intense intellectual conflict and polarity amongst Muslims. As such, it will be of great interest to scholars of Science and Religion, Theology, Philosophy of Religion, Islamic Studies, and Religious Studies more generally. Winner of the International Society for Science Religion (ISSR) book prize 2022 academic category. Laying Down Arms to Heal the Creation-Evolution Divide Gary N. Fugle, 2015-01-01. Battles over creation or evolution have been perpetuated for years by vocal Christians and scientists alike. But conflict has never been the only choice. Laying Down Arms to Heal the Creation-Evolution Divide presents a comprehensive uplifting alternative that brings together an orthodox biblical view of a sovereign Creator God and the meaningful discoveries of modern evolutionary biology. Gary Fugle offers unique insights into this debate from his dual perspective as both an award-winning biology professor and a committed leader in conservative evangelical churches. In focusing on the stumbling blocks that surround creation and evolution debates, Fugle sensitively addresses the concerns of skeptical Christians and demonstrates how believers may celebrate evolution as a remarkable aspect of God's glory. He describes how the mainstream scientific community as well as numerous Christians may alter current approaches to eliminate conflicts. He explains conservative readings of early Genesis that respect both the inerrant words of Scripture and the evolutionary revelations in God's natural creation. This book is for individuals who sense that biblical Christian faith and evolution are compatible without compromising core convictions. If given good reasons to do so, are we willing to lay down our arms to affirm an encompassing vision for the future? Creator God, Evolving World Cynthia S. W. Crysdale, Neil Ormerod, 2013-01-01. Cynthia Crysdale and Neil Ormerod here present a robust theology of God in light of supposed tensions between Christian belief and evolutionary science. Those who pit faith in an almighty and unchanging God over against a world in which chance is operative have it wrong on several accounts; they insist. Creator God, Evolving World clarifies a number of confused assumptions in an effort to redeem chance as an intelligible force interacting with stable patterns in nature. A proper conception of probabilities and regularities in the world's unfolding reveals neither random chaos nor a predetermined blueprint but a view of the universe as the fruit of both chance and necessity By clarifying terms often used imprecisely in both scientific and theological discourse the authors make the case that the role of chance in evolution neither mitigates God's radical otherness from creation nor challenges the efficacy of God's providence in the world

Saving the Neanderthals Mark S. McLeod-Harrison, 2019-10-29 What happens when the wrench of evolution is dropped into the hopper of Christian theology Written by a philosopher Saving the Neanderthals takes evolution as its foil and shows what might have to change in Christian theology in order to make theology compatible with evolution If the Christian faith is shown consistent with what Mark S McLeod Harrison calls hard evolution then the softer versions will also be compatible Indeed that is exactly what the book argues specifically for the Christian doctrines of sin and salvation These doctrines typically rely on some fairly strong realist version of essentialism which hard evolution denies but McLeod Harrison proposes an approach to sin and salvation that is compatible with the anti essentialist claims of hard evolution
