Who's who in Australia ,2007 Dietary Patterns

in Cancer Prevention and Survival Raul Zamora-Ros, Esther Molina-Montes, 2024-09-13 Cancer is a leading cause of death worldwide accounting for nearly 10 million deaths in 2020 or nearly one in six deaths. Although some individuals are at higher risk due to non-modifiable risk factors, between 30-40% of all cancer cases are estimated to be preventable through healthy lifestyles including healthy diets. In 2018, a report from the World Cancer Research Fund and the American Institute for Cancer Research promoted ten cancer prevention recommendations on diet and nutrition. But characterizing a healthy diet is not easy since foods and nutrients are not consumed alone. Over the past decade, dietary pattern analysis has emerged as an alternative and complementary approach to evaluating the relationship between diet and cancer risk. Instead of looking at individual nutrients or foods, dietary pattern analysis examines the effects of the overall diet. Conceptually, dietary patterns represent a broader picture of food and nutrient consumption and may thus be more predictive of disease risk than individual foods or nutrients. Research on the effects of diet, nutrition, and physical activity on the risk of cancer in cancer survivors is growing, but it is much more limited than that on risk. Therefore, the current lifestyle recommendations for cancer survivors should be similar to those for cancer prevention until we do not have specific recommendations. The Publishers Weekly, 2000

Concise Manual of Hematology and Oncology Michael Andreeff, Dietmar P. Berger, Benjamín Koziner, Monika Engelhardt, Hans A. Messner, Hartmut Henß, Roland Mertelsmann, N. Thatcher, 2008-05-16 A real boon for medical practitioners from a number of disciplines, this is a practice-oriented manual of medical oncology and hematology for day-to-day use in caring for patients with hematologic and neoplastic diseases. It is founded on the longstanding experience of a large specialized university department accustomed to having to provide reliable advice in a broad range of circumstances. The authors have chosen not to give a comprehensive review of the various subjects but have instead focused on practical methods which have proven to be useful in their experience, with special emphasis on standardizing chemotherapy protocols.

Who's who in Australia 2008, 2007 A biographic reference to notable people in Australia. Entrants are drawn from all areas of Australian life including the arts, politics, education, medicine, defence, business, diplomatic service, and recipients of honours and awards.
