Reflections On Africa:

Reflections on Africa Grace L. Chavis, 1975 Reflections in Africa Harold F. Miller, 2018 In this volume of eclectic reflections drawn from a fifty year sojourn on the African continent Harold F Miller examines the African liberation century ecumenical movements paradigms of church and state examples of and models for peace and reconciliation the roles of nongovernmental organizations in Africa and global ethics These writings were produced over a number of decades each representing a subjective temporal vantage point They offer glimpses from a lifetime of engagement on a lively complex continent during a momentous century Christian Reflection in Africa Paul Bowers, 2018-07-05 This reference collection presents academic reviews of more than twelve hundred contemporary Africa related publications relevant for informed Christian reflection in and about Africa The collection is based on the review journal BookNotes for Africa a specialist resource dedicated to bringing to notice such publications and furnishing them with a one paragraph description and evaluation Now assembled here for the first time is the entire collection of reviews through the first thirty issues of the journal s history The core intention both of the journal and of this compilation is to encourage and to facilitate informed Christian reflection and engagement in Africa through a thoughtful encounter with the published intellectual life of the continent Reviews have been provided by a team of more than one hundred contributors drawn from throughout Africa and overseas The books and other media selected for review represent a broad cross section of interests and issues of personalities and interpretations including the secular as well as the religious The collection will be of special interest to academic scholars theological educators libraries ministry leaders and specialist researchers in Africa and throughout the world but will also engage any reader looking for a convenient resource relating to modern Africa and Christian presence there Reflections on Africa's Place in the World Laurence Caromba, Y Abba Omar, 2022 This volume of essays represents a decade of scholarship from the Mapungubwe Institute for Strategic Reflection MISTRA on the question African scholars have long posed Where to for Africa in the world The essays in this book cumulatively constitute what could be termed pragmatic pan Africanism a view of international relations that combines a realistic understanding of power politics with a commitment to a progressive Africa and its integration through continental institutions The authors hold diverse views and they do not agree on all foreign policy issues Nevertheless their work as a whole offers a consistent and overarching vision of Africa and its place in the world Africa Unbound Alex Quaison-Sackey, 2021-09-09 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public To ensure a quality reading experience this work has been proofread and republished using a format that seamlessly blends the original graphical elements with text in an easy to read typeface We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant From Divided Pasts to Cohesive Futures Hiroyuki Hino, Arnim Langer, John Lonsdale, Frances Stewart, 2019 Today the cohesion of multi ethnic societies is at risk across the globe African countries have been facing this challenge in the sixty years since independence They continue to do so Historical inequalities and social division undermine cohesion and sow seeds of instability Can Africa hope to build a future where ethnic and other groups can live at peace with each other This book rests on the assumption that with difficulty they can It draws together historians economists and political scientists each an authority on Africa to look back at the continent s divided histories to understand where Africans stand now and to reflect on how they might now work towards a more trusting society We bring conceptual clarity to bear on the often fuzzy processes and contexts Our case studies statistical expositions theoretical reflections and conceptual definitions apply beyond Africa to more developed countries including in Europe and North America Provided by publisher Kros: Reframing Africa Reflections on Moderni , 2023-04-13 This book takes readers on a series of stimulating intellectual journeys from the late nineteenth century to the contemporary era to explore notions of modernity in the production and reception of the African moving image and of African archival practices Ideas are presented from multiple historical and contemporary perspectives while inviting new voices to participate in discussions about the future of the African moving image Reframing Africa makes a plea for the recognition preservation and repatriation of the African moving image archive advancing ideas about how it speaks to contemporary Africans possessed of the power to elucidate their lived experiences and to reorientate perceptions of the past present and future On the basis of this wide ranging appreciation of the archive the book charts a way forward for African inflected film studies as well as other programmes in the humanities and social sciences Reframing Africa will appeal to scholars academics and practitioners across the continent and beyond Reflections on Africa and Its Future Julius K. Nyerere, 1987

Socio-ecological-economic reflections on the impacts of COVID-19 in Africa Willie Chinyamurindi, Philani Moyo, 2025-02-28 This scholarly book magnifies reflections from young scientists in South Africa Africa and beyond around the COVID 19 pandemic With contributions by upcoming scientists this scholarly book provides a synopsis of socio ecological economic views on the impact of COVID 19 Through its chapters the book takes a multi disciplinary approach to reflecting on what it was like to be a scientist during the COVID 19 pandemic By doing so each chapter re imagines science from the viewpoint of its discipline offering insights from the perspective of young scientists that could benefit other scholars academics and policymakers Women in Africa Toyin Falola, Olajumoke Yacob-Haliso, 2025-05-22 This book introduces readers to the rich and diverse experiences of women across the African continent covering their socio cultural political and economic realities from the precolonial era right up to the modern day In many precolonial African societies women were empowered and considered to be important participants in the social structures and political systems that managed their communities but during the colonial era women were often marginalized Now across the continent women are reasserting their agency This book explores the various ways in which gender has been constructed in different African cultures across history and how this has impacted the lived experiences of women The book encompasses a broad range of topics including history health sexualities gender based violence motherhood education economic activities science and technology religion popular culture politics peacebuilding feminism literature social media and migration Engaging and compelling this book invites us to think again about the changing roles identities and contributions of African women across time and space It is the perfect introduction for any student of gender or African studies as well as for anyone looking for a reader friendly guide to the subject

Ibuanyidanda (complementary Reflection) and Some Basic Philosophical Problems in Africa Today Innocent Asouzu, 2013 This book gives an insightful account of how some fundamental phenomena and mechanisms control human consciousness impacting the way we think will and act The book identifies these phenomena and mechanisms as the mkpuchi anya the super maxim and the inherently tension laden ambivalent character of our experience of reality It re-examines fundamental problems of philosophy from the perspective of ibuanyidanda complementary reflection and how the problems reappear in the way philosophy is conducted in Africa today Series Studies in African Philosophy Vol 8

Media and Identity in Africa John Middleton, Kimani Njogu, 2010-01-04 What is the role of the media in Africa How do they work How do they interact with global media How do they reflect and express local culture Incorporating both African and international perspectives Media and Identity in Africa demonstrates how media outlets are used to perpetuate question or modify the unequal power relations between Africa and the rest of the world Discussions about the construction of old and new social entities which are defined by class gender ethnicity political and economic differences wealth poverty cultural behavior language and religion dominate these new assessments of communications media in Africa This volume addresses the tensions between the global and the local that have inspired creative control and use of traditional and modern forms of media

The Bible in Africa Gerald O. West, Musa W. Dube Shomanah, 2000 Africa has made the Bible its own This comprehensive volume explores the many ways in which this took place Essays by a range of African scholars provide access to resources not readily available outside of the African continent This publication has also been published in paperback please click here for details

Assignments in Africa Per Wästberg, 1986 Cultural and Heritage Tourism in the Middle East and North Africa Siamak Seyfi, C. Michael Hall, 2020-09-28 This is the first book to provide a comprehensive account of cultural and heritage tourism in the Middle East and North Africa MENA region and the many complexities that heritage sites and tourist attractions face The MENA region has long been regarded as the cradle of Western and Arab civilisation and is the home of many of the world's major religions Because of this the region is rich in heritage sites that serve as major tourist attractions and as icons of national cultural and religious identity However as this book examines heritage in the region is simultaneously highly contested and has even become a target for terrorism creating a situation that brought major challenges for heritage management and sustainable tourism development Many of the region s innumerable cultural sites are threatened in some cases by overuse in others by neglect and in many simply by the pressures of economic development This book is therefore of interest not only to heritage managers and policy makers but those academics who seek to address the delicate balance between tourism development communities and the tourists who visit such sites in a turbulent but highly significant region of the world

The History of Geophysics in Southern Africa Johan H de Beer,2016-01-25 Geophysics is a comparatively young science which only evolved as a distinct discipline during the 19th century However its phenomena like earthquakes tsunamis volcanic eruptions and lightning had been objects of fear curiosity and speculation since ancient times In this book Johan de Beer and his research team reveal that geophysical activity in South Africa can be traced back to as early as 1488 This is a truly astonishing revelation which deserves to be firmly entrenched as part of the country's proud history. The book also discusses the history and formation of South African geophysical institutions that made a huge and seldom acknowledged contribution to the technological development of southern Africa. Petroleum Geoscience of the West Africa Margin T. Sabato Ceraldi, R. A. Hodgkinson, G. Backe, 2017-01-05. The West African margin has enjoyed a rich and varied exploration history remaining an exciting region for hydrocarbon discovery. Fusion of traditional approaches, imaginative ideas leveraged with modern technologies is still yielding success. This volume examines the margin from regional to pore scale, from surface processes to deep crustal levels, drawing on input from academia and industry. Truth and Reconciliation in South Africa Lyn S. Graybill, 2002. Graybill's mind and human interaction. U of Virginia provides students not only the facts about the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission but also the broader context in which it operated. She asks whether it led to reconciliation and healing, what criteria were used to decide whether to pardon or punish, whether politics necessitated the compromise, and other questions.
