Introduction to Critical Reflection and Action for Teacher Researchers Bernie Sullivan, Máirín Glenn, Mary Roche, Caitriona McDonagh, 2016-04-28 Introduction to Critical Reflection and Action for Teacher Researchers provides crucial direction for educators looking to improve their teaching and maximise learning While many students can grasp the basic elements of researching their practice and can write about practitioner research some need guidance and assistance to reflect meaningfully on their teaching practice so as to articulate their educational values This book provides this guidance By exploring how to engage in an authentic practical and personalised framework the book encourages critical reflection and action on educational practice Moving through the process of reflecting on practice engaging in critical thinking and planning and taking action it helps the reader to subsequently generate educational theory from their own personal learning

Examples from the authors experiences illustrate the issues raised in each section with Pause and Reflect activities guidelines for conducting a research project and annotated further reading available for every chapter Introduction to Critical Reflection and Action for Teacher Researchers is based on the idea that reflection is in itself a deliberate action and something we must live it is key to understanding our practice and is a core component of action research This book is a valuable guide for teachers trainee teachers and researchers interested in reflecting on and enhancing their teaching practice Reflective Practice Research in Higher Education Pedagogies Michael Noah Weiss,Guro Hansen Helskog,2023 This anthology examines university lecturers experiences with pedagogical practices across various higher education disciplines The experiences are investigated by means of reflective practice research a phenomenological and hermeneutical approach intended to make implicit practical knowledge explicit and thus to develop a deeper understanding of professional practices While instrumental practice research gives a practitioner knowledge of facts reflective practice research gives the practitioner orientational knowledge in line with a so called kaleidoscopic epistemology Reflective Practices in Arts Education Pamela Burnard,Sarah Hennessy,2006-08-12 It is an exciting time to be an artist and artist educator Networks of schools and artists are being motivated by arts partnerships a relatively new phenomenon in a field which whilst disparate in its character and practice is marked by a common intention to respond effectively and critically to politically driven agendas of accountability school improvement and pupil attainment More than ever artists and educators alike have begun to realise the need to develop practices which offer the development of artist educator pedagogies as agencies for change and political action Understanding the function of reflective practice the conditions which support it and its impact on learning are addressed throughout this book We hope that the book will motivate readers with a diversity of interests and needs to engage in reflections of their own professional practices and of the practices of the communities in which they work This book is about reflection The thesis about the field it covers and major premise of this book is that reflection matters at every turn in arts engagement and even more so in educational settings where artist educators share a passion for facilitating and understanding the how of learners engagement with particular art forms It aims to show ways in which reflection can inform and transform practice in terms of what when and how reflection is embodied in arts engagement Reflective Practice for Educators Karen F. Osterman,Robert B. Kottkamp,2004-04-08 In this age of mandated reforms reflective practice is a truly effective empowering way to make meaningful positive changes Reflective Theory and Practice in Teacher Education Robyn Brandenburg,Kathryn Glasswell,Mellita Jones,Josephine Ryan,2017-03-30 This book offers a detailed examination of reflective practice in teacher education In the current educational context where reflective practice has been mandated in professional standards for teachers in many countries it analyses research based evidence for the power of reflective practice to shape better educational outcomes The book presents multiple theoretical and practical views of this often taken for granted practice so that readers are challenged to consider how factors such as gender and race shape understandings of reflective practice Documenting approaches that enhance learning the contributions discuss reflective practice across the globe with a focus on pre service in service and university teachers At a time when there is pressure to measure teachers work through standardised tests the book highlights the professional thinking that is integral to teaching and demonstrates ways it can be encouraged in beginning teachers Aimed at the international community of teacher educators in schools and universities it also includes a critical examination of methodological issues in analysing and evaluating reflective practice and showcases the kind of reflective practice that empowers teachers and pre service teachers to make a difference to students

Reflective Teacher Education Linda Valli,1992-09-01 An increasing number of educators are arguing for conceptually sound reflective or inquiry oriented teacher education programs The argument is based on the fact that reflective teaching is possible and the belief that teachers should develop habits of consciously informed action Those who promote reflective teaching argue for teacher empowerment within a self renewing profession Reflective Teacher Education offers case studies from seven universities that have organized teacher education programs around the concept of reflection The cases represent public and private institutions and alternative and traditional models of teacher preparation The studies represent efforts to transform the entire professional education component rather than individual courses or isolated strategies The volume also considers reflection as a conceptual orientation commenting on its power to inform and improve teacher education and assessing the implementation of reflection in these specific programs The six critiques raise intriguing questions about the possibility and desirability of reflective reform efforts by viewing the cases from varying perspectives development cognitive feminist social reconstructionist and post modern

Understanding Educational Research David Scott,Robin Usher,2002-08-26 This book explores educational research in terms of the relationship between epistemology methodology and practice Divided into two sections the first examines the frameworks which underpin the methods educational researchers use The second looks at a broad spectrum of approaches including feminist approaches action research ethnography and biographical research The issues covered are central to all within the research community including students undertaking research degrees or research methodology courses

Introduction to Educational Research W. Newton Suter,2012 W Newton Suter argues that what is important in a changing education landscape is the ability to think clearly about research methods reason through complex problems and evaluate published research He explains how to evaluate data and establish its relevance

Conceptualising Reflection In Teacher Development James Calderhead,Peter Gates,2003-09-02 Reflection has become widely recognised as a crucial element in the professional growth of teachers Terms such as reflective teaching enquiry orientated teacher education teachers as researchers and reflective practitioner have become quite prolific in discussions of classroom practice and professional development It is frequently presumed that reflection is an intrinsically good and desirable aspect of teaching and teacher education and that teachers in becoming more reflective will in some sense be better teachers though such claims have been rarely subject to detailed scrutiny Each of the chapters in this book is concerned with exploring the concept of reflection and considering its contributions to teacher education The papers range across different stages of professional development some focusing in particular on pre service education others on in service or professional development generally Some of the papers are concerned with particular strategies for promoting reflection and how they might operate in a teacher education context others dwell more upon a theoretical appreciation of how reflection facilitates in the processes of professional development and how it relates to issues of quality in teacher education
