Administrative Reform in Post-Mao China Stephen K. Ma, 1996 This book analyzes China's bureaucratic behavior since the inauguration of administrative reform in the late 1970s Although bureaucratic behavior in China in the past decade was increasingly corrupted this aspect of China's post Mao reform has not been subjected to a rigorous scrutiny This book explores the gulf between desired and the actual bureaucratic behavior among China's public administrators The author argues that this behavioral gap in China's modernization stems from several factors including the nation's cultural heritage the ruling party's approach to government and the absence of trusted full fledged academic groups assigned to advise on administrative reform The book then probes one of the gravest consequences of the behavioral gap reform corruption a phenomenon which seems to be a mixed blessing of modernization

Law Reform in Developing and Transitional States Timothy Lindsey, 2007 Law reform in developing countries has become an increasingly topical subject in recent years A critical issue is why so many law reform projects in developing economies are regarded by their sponsors and recipients as unsuccessful This informative book examines examples of law reform projects in post socialist and post authoritarian states in Asia identifies common problems proposes analytical frameworks for understanding the problems identified Though parallels between Asian models and those in developing states elsewhere in the world are strong the book has been developed to avoid suggestion that the issues covered are somehow peculiarly Asian indeed it is shown that cultural relativist approaches to Asia are unsustainable This is an invaluable reference for those involved in the areas of development economics Asian studies and comparative politics

Foreign Direct Investment in Transitional Economies Michael Du Pont, 2000-08-17 Foreign Direct Investment in Transitional Economies presents a detailed investigation into the recent changes in the patterns and determinants in inflows of FDI to transitional economies. The author re-evaluates conventional theories of FDI and analyses the many changes taking place in the nature of international business both in terms of the drives of the trans-border transactions and the strategic orientation of the firms that engage in those transactions. This comparative investigation is based on original research detailing the experiences of FDI in the economies of China and Poland through case studies of over 200 multinationals and takes into account the dynamic forces of globalization and their effects on FDI. Dynamics of Local Governance in China During the Reform Era Tse-Kang Leng, Yun-han Chu, 2009-12-23 Since the Chinese economic reform was realized in the early 1990s a significant revolution has been launched socially, economically and politically in China. At present, China is an indispensable actor in the international arena so that the transitions domestically bring about substantial influence on the whole world. Dynamics of Local Governance in China during the Reform takes close look at China's current transformation and its broader implications. Through their thought-provoking essays, the contributors to this volume dissect China's transformation by examining various topics in the field of contemporary China studies, such as rural industrialization, development of civic society, socio-economic transformation and local self-governance. Reforming China Sen Peng, 2010-09-01 This book offers an in-depth study of the historical background to China's economic reforms and analyzes the reforms process with reference to the experiences of different countries.
