Cybriwsky,2011 For most of the latter half of the twentieth century Roppongi was an enormously popular nightclub district that stood out from the other pleasure quarters of Tokyo for its mix of international entertainment and people It was where Japanese and foreigners went to meet and play With the crash of Japan s bubble economy in the 1990s however the neighborhood declined and it now has a reputation as perhaps Tokyo s most dangerous district a hotbed of illegal narcotics prostitution and other crimes Its concentration of bad foreigners many from China Russia and Eastern Europe West Africa and Southeast Asia is thought to be the source of the trouble Roman Adrian Cybriwsky examines how Roppongi s nighttime economy is now under siege by both heavy handed police action and the conservative Japanese construction state an alliance of large private builders and political interests with broad discretion to redevelop Tokyo The construction state sees an opportunity to turn prime real estate into high end residential and retail projects that will clean up the area and make Tokyo more competitive with Shanghai and other

rising business centers in Asia Roppongi Crossing is a revealing ethnography of what is arguably the most dynamic district in one of the world's most dynamic cities Based on extensive fieldwork it looks at the interplay between the neighborhood's nighttime rhythms its emerging daytime economy of office towers and shopping malls Japan's ongoing internationalization and changing ethnic mix and Roppongi Hills and Tokyo Midtown the massive new construction projects now looming over the old playground

Twenty-first Century Force Charles E. Heller, 1993 This report has one primary objective to retain and perhaps increase the Active Army's combat maneuver elements despite declining appropriations and end strength The author builds a case for his alternative force structure by using the cyclical nature of the Army's history in the 20th century and the lessons learned in Operation Desert Shield Storm His analysis leads to a new force generation model of a two not three component 21st century Total Force a Federal Army and a militia the National Guard The Federal Army is structured to perform forward presence contingency operations and support base missions It relies heavily on an integration of U S Army Reserve units and individuals in primarily support roles with additional domestic infrastructure missions The National Guard maintains its combat maneuver structure but has a reinforcing and reconstitution mission thus allowing it time to conduct post mobilization training and concentrate on its state missions in peacetime Foreword
