American Landscapes Ann J. Abadie, J. Richard Gruber, 2023-10-20 American Landscapes Meditations on Art and Literature in a Changing World is a major contemporary survey of landscapes in art and literature of the United States especially the American South Inspired by William Dunlap s extraordinary landscape Meditations on the Origins of Agriculture in America and a collection of forty paintings and photographs by Southern artists this volume brings together artists authors and scholars to present new perspectives on art and literature both past and present The volume includes art and text from artists John Alexander Jason Bouldin William Dunlap Carlyle Wolfe Lee Ke Francis Linda Burgess Randy Hayes photographers Sally Mann Ed Croom and Huger Foote museum directors Betsy Bradley Jane Livingston and Julian Rankin and authors W Ralph Eubanks John Grisham J Richard Gruber Jessica B Harris Lisa Howorth Julia Reed Natasha Trethewey Curtis Wilkie Joseph M Pierce and Drew Gilpin Faust This diverse group explores major eras of American history portrayed in Dunlap s painting a landscape that evokes the displacement and genocide of Native Americans the enslavement of Africans the Civil War and William Faulkner s fiction They examine the history of landscape art in America connecting art with the works of major writers like William Faulkner Eudora Welty Natasha Trethewey and Jesmyn Ward In eighteen new essays written during the pandemic and since the events of January 6 2021 the essayists emphasize how the key issues Dunlap addressed in his 1987 artwork have become part of the national discourse and make his work even more vital today The American Roadside in Émigré Literature, Film, and Photography Elsa Court, 2020-01-06 The American Roadside in migr Literature Film and Photography 1955 1985 traces the origin of a postmodern iconography of mobile consumption equating roadside America with an authentic experience of the United States through the postwar road narrative a narrative which Elsa Court argues has been shaped by and through white male migr narratives of the American road in both literature and visual culture While stressing that these narratives are limited in their understanding of the processes of exclusion and unequal flux in experiences of modern automobility the book works through four case studies in the American works of European born authors Vladimir Nabokov Robert Frank Alfred Hitchcock and Wim Wenders to unveil an early phenomenology of the postwar American highway one that anticipates the works of late twentieth century spatial theorists Jean Baudrillard Michel Foucault and Marc Aug and sketches a postmodern aesthetic of western mobility and consumption that has become synonymous with contemporary America Remembering Roadside America John A. Jakle, Keith A.

Sculle,2011-09-30 The use of cars and trucks over the past century has remade American geography pushing big cities ever outward toward suburbanization spurring the growth of some small towns while hastening the decline of others and spawning a new kind of commercial landscape marked by gas stations drive in restaurants motels tourist attractions and countless other retail entities that express our national love affair with the open road By its very nature this landscape is ever changing indeed ephemeral What is new quickly becomes old and is soon forgotten In this absorbing book John Jakle and Keith Sculle ponder how Roadside America might be remembered especially since so little physical evidence of its earliest years survives In straightforward and lively prose supplemented by copious illustrations historic and modern photographs advertising postcards cartoons roadmaps they survey the ways in which automobility has transformed life in the United States Asking how we might best commemorate and preserve this part of our past which has been so vital economically and politically so significant to the cultural aspirations of ordinary Americans yet so often ignored by scholars who dismiss it as kitsch they propose the development of an actual outdoor museum that would treat seriously the themes of our roadside history Certainly museums have been created for frontier pioneering the rise of commercial agriculture and the coming of water and steam powered industrialization and transportation especially the railroad Is now not the time the authors ask for a museum forcefully exploring the automobile s emergence and the changes it has brought to place and landscape Such a museum need not deny the nostalgic appeal of roadsides past but if done properly it could also tell us much about what the authors describe as the most important kind of place yet devised in the American experience John A Jakle is Emeritus Professor of Geography at the University of Illinois Urbana Champaign Keith A Sculle is the former head of research and education at the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency They have coauthored such books as America s Main Street Hotels Transiency and Community in the Early Automobile Age Motoring The Highway Experience in America Fast Food Roadside Restaurants in the Automobile Age and The Gas Station in America See You in the U.S.A. , Ansel Adams and the American Landscape Jonathan Spaulding,1995 Spaulding provides a full biography and a critical analysis of the work of the man who introduced the general public to photography as art The Making of the American Landscape Michael P. Conzen,2014-06-03 The only compact yet comprehensive survey of environmental and cultural forces that have shaped the visual character and geographical diversity of the settled American landscape The book examines the large scale historical influences that have molded the varied human adaptation of the continent s physical topography to its needs over more than 500 years It presents a synoptic view of myriad historical processes working together or in conflict and illustrates them through their survival in or disappearance from the everyday landscapes of today Lost Highways, Embodied Travels: The Road Movie in American Experimental Film and Video Kornelia Boczkowska,2023-02-06 Often identified as one of the most genuine and enduring American film genres the road movie has never been explored in the context of experimental filmmaking To fill this gap Lost Highways Embodied Travels provides the first book length study of over eighty unique and often obscure films and videos and situates them within the corporeal turn in American avant garde cinema so far mostly associated with body genres and sexually explicit films Drawing on unpublished archival materials the book offers a fresh take on both past and current practices of the experimental film community for scholars students makers and film buffs

Rhetorical Landscapes in America Gregory Clark, 2021-11-24 A panoramic explanation of civic tourism and the shaping of a national identity At the same time a reading of Kenneth Burke and of tourist landscapes in America Gregory Clark's new study explores the rhetorical power connected with American tourism Looking specifically at a time when citizens of the United States first took to rail and then highway to become sightseers in their own country Clark traces the rhetorical function of a wide ranging set of tourist experiences He explores how the symbolic experiences Americans share as tourists have helped residents of a vast and diverse nation adopt a national identity In doing so he suggests that the rhetorical power of a national culture is wielded not only by public discourse but also by public experiences Clark examines places in the American landscape that have facilitated such experiences including New York City Shaker villages Yellowstone National Park the Lincoln Highway San Francisco's 1915 Panama Pacific International Exposition and the Grand Canyon He examines the rhetorical power of these sites to transform private individuals into public citizens and he evaluates a national culture that teaches Americans to experience certain places as potent symbols of national community Invoking Burke's concept of identification to explain such rhetorical encounters Clark considers Burke's lifelong study of symbols linguistic and otherwise and their place in the construction and transformation of individual identity Clark turns to Burke's work to expand our awareness of the rhetorical resources that lead individuals within a community to adopt a collective identity and he considers the implications of nineteenth and twentieth century tourism for both visual rhetoric and the rhetoric of display

Driving While Black: African American Travel and the Road to Civil Rights Gretchen Sorin, 2020-02-11 Bloomberg Best Nonfiction Books of 2020 A tour de force The basis of a major PBS documentary by Ric Burns this excellent history The New Yorker reveals how the automobile fundamentally changed African American life Driving While Black demonstrates that the car the ultimate symbol of independence and possibility has always held particular importance for African Americans allowing black families to evade the dangers presented by an entrenched racist society and to enjoy in some measure the freedom of the open road Melding new archival research with her family's story Gretchen Sorin recovers a lost history demonstrating how when combined with black travel guides including the famous Green Book the automobile encouraged a new way of resisting oppression

Native American Landscapes Cheryl Claassen, 2024-01-12 This collection of essays focuses on what Cheryl Claassen terms the multi vocal landscape the idea that different groups and genders look upon the same natural features but perceive different meanings and potential in what they are seeing Through ten chapters various contributors showcase the ways in which native peoples see and interact with the natural world At the heart of this book is the idea that Europeans associated nature with the feminine and saw the natural world as a passive frontier to be dominated

Native Americans however looked at landscape differently They saw nature as a place in which to engage in complex negotiations between spirits and humans This approach to nature cemented a relationship to the land based more on a partnership rather than subjugation These essays deepen our understanding of the interaction between native people and the land While other books focus on the gendered gaze of European men upon the landscape this collection emphasizes that native men and native women looked upon natural formations and constructed landscapes differently from one another a difference in perception that is important for archaeologists and anthropologists to understand While there have been advances toward admitting this more complex view in the rest of the world Native American Landscapes is the first to focus on how native men and women viewed the world around them Native American Landscapes is organized by region taking readers across the country from the rock shelters of the Cumberland Plateau in the east to the Mojave Desert and the Mexican Gulf Coast then north to what is now British Columbia and farther west to Hawaii Readers of this collection through a study of creation myths vision quests fertility shrines and other ritualized uses of landscape will learn more about the land and about humans perception of our natural surroundings which forms the bedrock of our present relationship with the natural world CHERYL CLAASSEN is professor of anthropology at Appalachian State University She is the author or editor of six books on Native American prehistory including Feasting with Shellfish in the Southern Ohio Valley Shells Rituals and Beliefs in Archaic North America and Women in Prehistory North America and Mesoamerica

Road Scars Robert Matej Bednar, 2020-07-21 Despite the ubiquity of automobility the reality of automotive death is hidden from everyday view There are accident blackspots all over the roads that we use and go past every day but the people that have died there or been injured are not marked unless by homemade shrines and personal memorialization Nowhere on the planet is this practice as densely actioned as in the United States Road Scars is a highly visual scholarly monograph about how roadside car crash shrines place the collective trauma of living in a car culture in the everyday landscapes of automobility Roadside shrines or road trauma shrines are vernacular memorial assemblages built by private individuals at sites where family and friends have died in automobile accidents either while driving cars or motorcycles or being hit by cars as pedestrians bicyclists or motorcyclists Prevalent for decades in Latin America and in the American Southwest roadside car crash shrines are now present throughout the U S and around the world Some are simply small white crosses almost silent markers of places of traumatic death Others are elaborate collections of objects texts and materials from all over the map culturally and physically all significantly brought together not in the home or in a cemetery but on the roadside in drivable public space a space where private individuals perform private identities alongside each other in public and where these private mobilities sometimes collide with one another in traumatic ways that are negotiated in roadside shrines This book touches on something many of us have seen but few have explored intellectually

Constructing Image, Identity, and Place Alison K. Hoagland, Kenneth A. Breisch, 2003 Although vernacular architecture scholarship has expanded beyond its core fascination with common buildings and places its attention remains fixed on the social function of building Consistent with this expansion of interests Constructing Image Identity and Place includes essays on a wide variety of American building types and landscapes drawn from a broad geographic and chronological spectrum Subjects range from examinations of the houses hotels and churches of America s colonial and Republican elite to analyses of the humble cottages of Southern sharecroppers and mill workers Mississippi juke joints and the ephemeral rustic arbors and bowers erected by Civil War soldiers Other contributors examine or reexamine the form of early synagogues in Georgia colonial construction technologies in the Chesapeake the appropriation and use of storefront windows by San Francisco suffragists and the evolution of the modern factory tour Other decidedly twentieth century topics include the impact of the automobile on American building forms and landscapes including parkways drive in movie theaters and shopping malls Drawn from the Vernacular Architecture Forum conferences of 1998 and 1999 these seventeen essays represent the broad range of topics and methodologies current in the field today The volume will introduce newcomers to the breadth and depth of vernacular architecture while also bringing established scholars up to date on the field s continued growth and maturation The Editors Alison K Hoagland is associate professor of history and historic preservation at Michigan Technological University Kenneth A Breisch is director of Programs in Historic Preservation at the University of Southern California He is author of Henry Hobson Richardson and the Small Public Library in America The Contributors Shannon Bell Robert W Blythe Timothy Davis Stephanie Dyer Willie Graham Kathleen LaFrank William Littmann Carl Lounsbury Al Luckenbach Sherri M Marsh Maurie McInnis Steven H Moffson Jason D Moser Jennifer Nardone Martin C Perdue Mark Reinberger Andrew K Sandoval Strausz Jessica Sewell Donna Ware and Camille Wells

The Gas Station in America John A. Jakle, Keith A. Sculle, 1994 The first architect designed gas station a Pittsburgh Gulf station in 1913 was also the first to offer free road maps the familiar Shell name and logo date from 1907 when a British mother of pearl importer expanded its line to include the newly discovered oil of the Dutch East Indies the first enclosed gas stations were built only after the first enclosed cars made motoring a year round activity and operating a service station was no longer a seasonal job the system of octane rating was introduced by Sun Oil as a marketing gimmick 74 for premium in 1931 As the number of true gas stations continues its steady decline from 239 000 in 1969 to fewer than 100 000 today the words and images of this book bear witness to an economic and cultural phenomenon that was perhaps more uniquely American than any other of this century Jacket

Rethinking Kerouac Erik Mortenson, Tomasz Sawczuk, 2024-12-12 This long overdue reevaluation of Jack Kerouac gives fresh perspectives on his unique literary output his vexed relation to issues of race class and gender as well as his continuing cultural afterlife This collection of essays by esteemed Beat commentators reassesses one of the 20th century s most emblematic but often misunderstood American writers Despite amassing a substantial body of influential work and becoming a recognizable icon globally Kerouac has often suffered critical neglect and this volume seeks to offer a range of fresh perspectives on his unique artistic output as well as his continuing cultural afterlife Through an examination of classic texts like On the Road to more obscure ones like Pic these essays recalibrate our understanding of the writer by placing his creative output into dialogue with current cultural issues to provide a rethinking of how concerns such as race gender relations artificial intelligence populist rhetoric and queerness inform his work and its contemporary reception These essays also examine how the peculiarities of global circulation and social media influence the ongoing cultural appropriation of Kerouac in popular music literature and online Through these varied approaches Rethinking Kerouac Afterlives Continuities Reappraisals provides an indispensable account of the continued relevance of both Kerouac the writer and Kerouac the cultural icon in the 21st century

Signs, Streets, and Storefronts Martin Treu, 2012-10-30 Treu tackles the architectural history and signage of Main Street and the strip from painted boards nailed over crude storefronts to sleek cinemas topped with neon glitz Honorable Mention Architecture and Urban Planning 2012 PROSE Awards Signs Streets and Storefronts addresses more than 200 years of signs and place marking along America s commercial corridors From small town squares to

Broadway State Street and Wilshire Boulevard Martin Treu follows design developments into the present and explores issues of historic preservation Treu considers common architecture and its place defining business signs as well as influential high style design examples by taste making leaders Combining advertising and architectural history the book presents a full picture of the commercial landscape including design adaptations made for motorists and the migration from Main Street to suburbia The dynamic between individual businesses and the common good has a major effect on the appearance of our country's Main Streets Several forces are at work technological advances design imagination and the media corporate propaganda customer needs and municipal mandates Present day controls have often led to a denuding of traditional commercial corridors Such reform Treu argues has suppressed originality and radically cleared away years of accumulated history based on the taste of a single generation A must read for city planners town councils architects sign designers concerned citizens and anyone who cares about the appearance and vitality of America's commercial streets this heavily illustrated book is equally appealing to armchair historians small town enthusiasts and lovers of Americana

Routes, Roads and Landscapes Brita Brenna, Janike Kampevold Larsen, 2016-12-05 Routes and roads make their way into and across the landscape defining it as landscape and making it accessible for many kinds of uses and perceptions Bringing together outstanding scholars from cultural history geography philosophy and a host of other disciplines this collection examines the complex entanglement between routes and landscapes It traces the changing conceptions of the landscape from the Enlightenment to the present day looking at how movement has been facilitated imagined and represented and how such movement in turn has conditioned understandings of the landscape A particular focus is on the modern transportation landscape as it came into being with the canal the railway and the automobile These modes of transport have had a profound impact on the perception and conceptualization of the modern landscape a relationship investigated in detail by authors such as Gernot Böhme Sarah Bonnemaïson Tim Cresswell Finola O'Kane Charlotte Klonk Peter Merriman Christine Macy David Nye Vittoria Di Palma Charles Withers and Thomas Zeller

The Road Movie Book Steven Cohan, Ina Rae Hark, 2002-01-04 The Road Movie Book is the first comprehensive study of an enduring but ever changing Hollywood genre its place in American culture and its legacy to world cinema The road and the cinema both flourished in the twentieth century as technological advances brought motion pictures to a mass audience and the mass produced automobile opened up the road to the ordinary American When Jean Baudrillard equated modern American culture with space speed cinema technology he could just as easily have added that the road movie is its supreme emblem The contributors explore how the road movie has confronted and represented issues of nationhood sexuality gender class and race They map the generic terrain of the road movie trace its evolution on American television as well as on the big screen from the 1930s through the 1980s and finally consider road movies that go off the road departing from the US landscape or travelling on the margins of contemporary American culture Movies discussed include Road classics such as It Happened One Night The Grapes of Wrath The Wizard of

Oz and the Bob Hope Bing Crosby Road to films 1960 s reworkings of the road movie in Easy Rider and Bonnie and Clyde
Russ Meyer s road movies from Motorpsycho to Faster Pussycat Kill Kill Contemporary hits such as Paris Texas Rain Man
Natural Born Killers and Thelma and Louise The road movie Australian style from Mad Max to the Adventures of Priscilla
Queen of the Desert Lincoln Highway United States. National Park Service,2004

Roadsides Images Of The American Landscape: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the captivating narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This heartfelt tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can succeed. Roadside Images Of The American Landscape : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Roadside Images Of The American Landscape : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and gripping novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
