Robert Bresson A Spiritual Style In Film:

Robert Bresson Joseph Cunneen, 2004-04-19 Although Robert Bresson is widely regarded by movie critics and students of the cinema as one of the greatest directors of the twentieth century his films are largely unknown and are rarely shown in the English speaking world Nonetheless Susan Sontag has called Bresson the master of the reflective mode in film Martin Scorsese suggested that a young filmmaker should ask Is it as tough as Bresson Is meaning as ruthlessly pared down as direct as unflinching in its gaze at aspects of life I might feel more comfortable ignoring Questions that every reader of this book and every viewer of Bresson s films will also ask Joseph Cunneen s book now in paperback introduces Bresson s movies to a broader audience assesses thirteen of his most significant films in the context of detailed plot summaries vivid descriptions of characters and settings and perceptive jargon free insights into the director s execution intention and technique Each of these films in its own way illustrates what Joseph Cunneen calls Bresson s spiritual style Though not necessarily focused on the explicitly religious they illustrate two complementary principles on the negative side the rejection of what the director called photographed theater with its artificiality and dependence on celebrity performers On the more positive side as Bresson himself expressed it the conviction that The supernatural is only the real rendered more precise real things seen close up

Robert Bresson Joseph E. Cunneen, 2003 Introducing Bresson s movies to a broad audience this volume assesses his work in the context of detailed plot summaries vivid descriptions of characters and settings and perceptive jargon free insights into the director s execution intention and technique The Bressonians Codruța Morari, 2017-07-01 How should we understand film authorship in an era when the idea of the solitary and sovereign auteur has come under attack with critics proclaiming the death of the author and the end of cinema The Bressonians provides an answer in the form of a strikingly original study of Bresson and his influence on the work of filmmakers Jean Eustache and Maurice Pialat Extending the discourse of authorship beyond the idea of a singular visionary it explores how the imperatives of excellence function within cinema s pluralistic community Bresson s example offered both an artistic legacy and a creative burden within which filmmakers reckoned in different often arduous and altogether compelling ways Bresson and Others Bert Cardullo, 2009 A number of writers have attempted to capture Robert Bresson s style as well as his substance with such terms as minimalist austere ascetic elliptical autonomous pure even gentle Most famously Paul Schrader once called Bresson s films transcendental while Susan Sontag described them as spiritual Both these critics thus extended in anglicized form a tendency that had early been dominant in Bresson criticism in France the attempt made by such Catholic writers as Andre Bazin Henri Agel Roger Leenhardt and Amedee Ayfre to understand Bresson s work in religious terms seeing his camera as a kind of god and the material world as paradoxically a thing of the spirit That attempt in Sontag s essay led to the introduction of Bresson to the New York based avant garde of the 1960s and 1970s whose films such as Richard Serra s Hand Catching Lead 1968 for one show the influence of the French director s severe reductivist style Jean Luc

Godard of course needed no such critical introduction to Robert Bresson for in his iconoclasm and integrity in his rejection of the Gallic Cinema du Papa as well as in his embrace of film as an independent art Bresson was one of the heroes of the young directors who constituted the French New Wave in the early 1960s So much so that Godard was moved to say in Cahiers du cinema in 1957 that Bresson is French cinema as Dostoyevsky is the Russian novel and Mozart is German music The result is that Bresson has undeniably influenced a slew of contemporary European filmmakers including Chantal Akerman Olivier Assayas Laurent Cantet Alain Cavalier Jean Pierre and Luc Dardenne Claire Denis Jacques Doillon Bruno Dumont Michael Haneke Benoit Jacquot and Maurice Pialat not to speak of his influence on Asian and American cinema Bresson and Others Spiritual Style in the Cinema is an attempt to document this influence through essays on fifteen international directors who followed in Bresson's wake who in fact may have influenced him Carl Dreyer or who contemporaneously worked veins similar to those found in Bresson's films Ingmar Bergman Yasujiro Ozu These essays are preceded by an introduction to the cinema of Robert Bresson and followed by film credits a bibliography of criticism and an index The subject of Bresson and Others then may specifically be Bressonian cinema but in a general sense it could also be said to be spirit and matter or film and faith

European Directors and Their Films Bert Cardullo, 2012-08-09 In European Directors and Their Films Essays on Cinema Bert Cardullo offers readable analyses of some of the most important film artists and individual films of the last several decades Beyond simple biographical capsules and plot summaries these readings demonstrate with elegance and clarity what cinema means as well as shows explaining how international moviemakers use the resources of the medium to pursue complex significant human goals

Film, Lacan and the Subject of Religion Steve Nolan, 2009-07-23 In their study of religion and film religious film analysts have tended to privilege religion Uniquely this study treats the two disciplines as genuine equals by regarding both liturgy and film as representational media Steve Nolan argues that in each case subjects identify with a represented other which joins them into a narrative where they become participants in an ideological reality Finding many current approaches to religious film analysis lacking Film Lacan and the Subject of Religion explores the film theory other writers ignore particularly that mix of psychoanalysis Marxism and semiotics often termed Screen theory that attempts to understand how cinematic representation shapes spectator identity Using translations and commentary on Lacan not originally available to Screen theorists Nolan returns to Lacan's contribution to psychoanalytic film theory and offers a sustained application to religious practice examining several priest films and real life case study to expose the way liturgical representation shapes religious identity Film Lacan and the Subject of Religion proposes an interpretive strategy by which religious film analysts can develop the kind of analysis that engages with and critiques both cultural and religious practice

Screening Schillebeeckx A. Sison, 2006-11-13 The book is an exploration of the creative crossings between the liberative stream of the eschatology of Edward Schillebeeckx and the stylistic strategies of Third Cinema political cinema dedicated to the representation of Third World liberation analysis textbook contains sixteen essays on historically significant artistically superior films released between 1922 and 1982. Written for college high school and university students, the essays cover central issues raised in today's cinema courses and provide students with practical models to help them improve their own writing and analytical skills. This film casebook is geographically diverse with eight countries represented: Italy, France, the United States, Russia, Germany, Great Britain, Japan, and India. The essays, sophisticated yet not overly technical or jargon heavy, are perfect introductions to their respective films as well as important contributions to the field of film studies in general. The book's critical apparatus features credits, images, and bibliographies for all films discussed; filmographies for the directors; a glossary of film terms; the elements of film analysis; a chronology of film theory and criticism; topics for writing and discussion; a bibliography of film criticism; and a comprehensive index.

Understanding Film: A Viewers Guide bucks the trend of current film analysis texts, few of which contain actual film analyses, by promoting analysis of the chosen films alongside the methods and techniques of film analysis. It has been prepared as a primary text for courses in film analysis and a supplementary text for courses such as Introduction to Film or Film Appreciation, History of Film or Survey of Cinema, and Film Directors or Film Style and Imagination. Music in Films on the Middle Ages John Haines, 2013-10-30. This book explores the role of music in some five hundred feature-length films on the Middle Ages produced between the late 1890s and the present day. Haines focuses on the tension in these films between the surviving evidence for medieval music and the idiomatic tradition of cinematic music. The latter is taken broadly as any musical sound occurring in a film, from the clang of a bell off screen to a minstrel singing his song. Medieval film music must be considered in the broader historical context of pre-cinematic medievalisms and of medievalist cinema's main development in the course of the twentieth century as an American appropriation of European culture. The book treats six pervasive moments that define the genre of medieval film: the church tower bell, the trumpet fanfare or horn call, the music of banquets and courts, the singing minstrel performances of Gregorian chant, and the music that accompanies horse-riding knights. With each chapter visiting representative films as case studies, these six signal musical moments create a fundamental visual-aural core central to making a film feel medieval to modern audiences. It originates in medievalist works predating cinema by some three centuries. Film as an Expression of Spirituality Kenneth R. Morefield, 2023-09-29. What makes a film spiritually significant? These twelve essays explore the religious, political, social, and psychological importance of films on the Arts & Faith Top 100 list of spiritually significant films. The anthology features close readings and analyses of films by Dreyer, Antonioni, Pasolini, Kubrick, Scorsese, Schrader, Miyazaki, and others. It provides both important contributions to the understanding of canonical directors and a foundational introduction for those seeking to understand film as one expression of human spirituality.

Twenty-One Landmark European Films 1939-1999 Bert Cardullo, 2015-04-01. The essays in this insightful film analysis text show and cover twenty-one of the best European films made between the coming of World War II and the end of the twentieth century, showing what makes each of them outstanding. These essays are clear and readable; that is sophisticated and meaty yet not overly technical or jargon heavy They will make perfect introductions to their respective films as well as important contributions to the field of film studies in general Written with university students in mind these essays cover some of the central films treated and central issues raised in today's cinema courses and provide students with practical models to help them improve their own writing and analytical skills A list of questions for discussion is included to trigger further thinking among film buffs and to help educators prepare for class The book is aimed at students teachers and cinephiles with an interest in European cinema in particular and cinema studies in general as well as at those educated readers with an interest in the practice of film analysis and criticism The only competition comes from Stanley Kauffmann's relatively brief Ten Great Films 136 pp 2012 The current work offers twenty one illustrated essays Kauffmann's book contains no images and focuses on Europe The countries represented are France Italy England Hungary Belgium Sweden Scotland Denmark Russia Spain Germany Scotland and Finland Twenty One Landmark European Films 1939-1999 overlaps with Kauffmann's book only in the case of L'avventura though the two approach this film from vastly different angles Moreover the book provides a complete critical apparatus notes bibliographies credits and filmographies whereas Kauffmann's has none This book could be one of the primary texts for courses in film analysis to accompany a work like Timothy Corrigan's A Short Guide to Writing about Film 8th edition 2011 It would also be a suitable supplementary or secondary text in such courses as Introduction to Film or Film Appreciation Western European Cinema History of Film or Global Cinema and Film Directors or Film Style and Imagination

Cinema at the Margins Wheeler Dixon, 2013-12 More and more just a few canonical classics such as Michael Curtiz's Casablanca 1942 or Victor Fleming's Gone With The Wind 1939 are representing the entire film output of an era to a new generation that knows little of the past and is encouraged by popular media to live only in the eternal present What will happen to the rest of the films that enchanted informed and transported audiences in the 1930s 1940s and even as recently as the 1960s This collection of essays aims to highlight some of the lesser known treasures of the past those titles that have been pushed aside by today's wave of cinema amnesia

Hermeneutic Humility and the Political Theology of Cinema Sean Desilets, 2016-06-10 This book revisits the tradition of Western religious cinema in light of scholarship on St Paul's political theology The book's subtitle derives from the account in the Book of Acts that St Paul was temporarily blinded in the wake of his conversion on the road to Damascus In imitation of Paul the films on which Sean Desilets's analysis hinges including those of Carl Th. Dreyer Robert Bresson Pier Paolo Pasolini and Carlos Reygadas place a god blind mechanism the camera between themselves and the divine Desilets calls the posture they adopt hermeneutic humility hermeneutic in that it interprets the world but humble in that it pays particular even obsessive attention to its own limits Though these films may not consciously reflect Pauline theology Desilets argues that they participate in a messianic hermeneutic tradition that runs from Paul through St Augustine Blaise Pascal Karl Barth and Walter Benjamin and which contributes significantly to contemporary discussions in poststructuralist literary theory political theology and religious studies Desilets's insightful explication of Jean Luc Nancy's deconstruction of Christianity and Giorgio Agamben's recent work on religion makes a substantial contribution to film philosophy and emerging critical trends in the study of religion and film This book puts forward a nuanced theoretical framework that will be useful for film scholars students of contemporary political theology and scholars interested in the intersections of religion and media The Holy Fool in European Cinema Alina G. Birzache, 2016-02-05 This monograph explores the way that the profile and the critical functions of the holy fool have developed in European cinema allowing this traditional figure to capture the imagination of new generations in an age of religious pluralism and secularization Alina Birzache traces the cultural origins of the figure of the holy fool across a variety of European traditions In so doing she examines the critical functions of the holy fool as well as how filmmakers have used the figure to respond to and critique aspects of the modern world Using a comparative approach this study for the first time offers a comprehensive explanation of the enduring appeal of this protean and fascinating cinematic character Birzache examines the trope of holy foolishness in Soviet and post Soviet cinema French cinema and Danish cinema corresponding broadly to and permitting analysis of the three main orientations in European Christianity Orthodox Catholic and Protestant This study will be of keen interest to scholars of religion and film European cinema and comparative religion The Art and Craft of Motion Pictures Vincent LoBrutto, 2019-08-02 This volume can rightfully be called a film school in a single book Investigating and analyzing the elements and concepts of motion picture creation this book looks closely at 25 films that represent a wide range of styles and subjects Although most motion picture viewers have seen numerous movies in their lifetime few in the general public have a firm and deep understanding of how motion pictures are created or a grasp of the intricacies of cinematic storytelling and content By presenting 25 films American and international Hollywood and independent this book educates and enlightens readers about the details of the motion picture creation process Some readers will have viewed certain films in the volume but many will be introduced to major cinematic works within the canon of great and essential films for the very first time Topics explored include animation period films editing directorial style and non linear cinematic structure Readers will learn about the origin of the jump cut in Breathless time and space in Hiroshima Mon Amour and the editing in Orson Welles's essay film F is for Fake The Art and Craft of Motion Pictures 25 Movies to Make You Film Literate will educate the novice and avid moviegoer alike about the inner workings of this dynamic popular and culturally significant art form Film, Art, New Media: Museum Without Walls?

Angela Dalle Vacche, 2012-06-12 In the footsteps of Andre Bazin this anthology of 15 original essays argues that the photographic origin of twentieth century cinema is anti anthropocentric Well aware that the twentieth century stands out as the only period in history with its own photographic film record for posterity Angela Dalle Vacche has convened international scholars at The Sterling and Francine Clark Art Institute and asked them to rethink the history and theory of the cinema as a new model for the museum of the future By exploring the art historical tropes of face and landscape and key areas of film studies such as early cinema Soviet film theory documentary the avant garde and the newly born genre of the museum film this collection includes detailed discussions of installation art and close analyses of media relations which range from dance to painting to performance art Thanks to the title of Andre Malraux's famous project Film Art New Media Museum Without Walls invites readers to reflect on the museum of the future where twentieth century cinema will play a pivotal role by interrogating the relation between art and science technology and nature from the side of photography in dialogue with digitalization

Cinematic Modernism and Contemporary Film Howard Finn, 2022-10-06 Cinema was the most important new artistic medium of the twentieth century and modernism was the most important new aesthetic movement across the arts in the twentieth century However what exactly is the relationship between cinema and modernism Cinematic Modernism and Contemporary Film explores how in the early twentieth century cinema came to be seen as one of the new technologies which epitomised modernity and how cinema itself reflected ideas hopes and fears concerning modern life Howard Finn examines the emergence of a new international style of cinema combining a poetic aesthetic of the image with genre based fictional narrative and documentary realism He provides concise accounts of how theorists such as Andr Bazin Siegfried Kracauer Gilles Deleuze and Jacques Ranciere have discussed this cinematic aesthetic clarifying debates over terms such as realism classical and avant garde as well as recent controversies over terms such as slow cinema and vernacular modernism He further argues the influence of modernism through close readings of many contemporary films including films by Abbas Kiarostami Bela Tarr Jia Zhangke and Angela Schanelec Drawing on a broad range of examples including Soviet montage Italian neorealism postwar new waves and the new cinema of Taiwan and Iran this book explores the cultural significance of modernism and its lasting influence over cinema
