Gardner, Ted Gittinger, 2013-12-06 This anthology examines the turmoil and conflicting advice that led the US into Vietnam and the roles played by Presidents Kennedy and Johnson For many Americans Oliver Stone's film JFK left no doubt that before his assassination Kennedy had determined to quit Vietnam Yet the historical record offers a more complex view In this fresh look at the archival evidence noted scholars take up the challenge to provide us with their conclusions about the early decisions that put the United States on the path to the greatest American tragedy since the Civil War The book is divided into four sections Parts one and two delve into the political and military contexts of the early decisions Part three raises the intriguing questions of Kennedy's and Johnson's roles in the conflict particularly the thorny issue of whether Kennedy did in fact intend to withdraw from Vietnam and whether Johnson reversed that policy Part four reveals an uncanny parallel between early Soviet policy toward Hanoi and US policy toward Saigon

Winter,2017-09-01 Ever since Thucydides pondered reasons for the outbreak of the Peloponnesian War writers philosophers and social scientists have tried to identify factors that promote conflict escalation for example history tomorrow s wars are often rooted in yesterday s conflicts changing balance of power among nations or domestic political forces In the end however these causes are constructed by human beings and involve the memories emotions and motives of both the leaders and the led In July 1914 the long standing peace of Europe was shattered when the Sarajevo assassinations quickly escalated to World War I In contrast at the height of the Cold War the Cuban Missile Crisis could have easily plunged the world into a thermonuclear world war but was ultimately peacefully resolved Why the different outcomes In Roots of War Wanting Power Seeing Threat Justifying Force David G Winter identifies three psychological factors that contributed to the differences in these historical outcomes the desire for power exaggerated perception of the opponent's threat and justification for using military force Several lines of research establish how these factors lead to escalation and war comparative archival studies of war and peace crises laboratory experiments on threat perception and surveys of factors leading people to believe that a particular war is just The research findings in Roots of War also demonstrate the importance of power in preserving peace through diplomatic interventions past and present Freedom
