gathered in the Algonquin s Pergola Room later called the Oak Room at a long rectangular table As the gatherings increased in number the Algonquin manager Frank Case moved them to the Rose Room and a round table Daily association with each other both at the luncheons and outside of them inspired members of the Circle to collaborate creatively The entire group worked together successfully only once however to create a revue called No Sirree which helped launch a Hollywood career for Benchley His legacy in Hollywood includes his short film How to Sleep which was a popular success and won Best Short Subject at the 1935 Academy Awards He also acted with many memorable appearances in feature films such as Alfred Hitchcock s Foreign Correspondent 1940 and Nice Girl 1941 In Hollywood he worked for many of the major studios and as an actor was often called upon to create humorous points where either a plot could be explained or something that required explaining could be used as a clotheshorse for jokes In essence a screen image was established as a comic lecturer who tried but failed to clarify any given topic Whilst Benchley was highly paid and sought after it seemed to leave him less and less time to write the things he cared about Benchley s drinking already a problem had worsened over the years until he was diagnosed with cirrhosis of the liver Ironically when younger he had been a devoted teetotaler Robert Charles Benchley died in a New York hospital on November 21st 1945 His funeral was a private family affair and his body was cremated and interred in a family plot on the island of Nantucket
