Robert Irwin: a Selection of Works 1958 to 1970 PaceWildenstein (Firm),1998 Atmospheres of Projection Giuliana Bruno,2022-10-13 Following on the success of Surface Bruno's previous book with us in this new one she explores the act and art of projection in its manifold guises and what those can tell us about how we think and feel and create the world we inhabit This is not just an exploration of the psychological operation of projection the idea that we cast onto others the qualities we refuse to acknowledge in ourselves It is a major work of cultural history and media archaeology As a way to transform space and atmosphere projection has a long history in the arts dating back to shadow plays camera obscuras magic lantern shows and phantasmagoria But the atmosphere of projection is not a thing of the past alone It is alive and well today It continues to fascinate us as screens filled with moving figures pervade the spaces of the art gallery and the museum as well as the environments of our daily lives What is the root of our fascination How does it manifest in contemporary art How do we define atmosphere How is projection an atmosphere Are these two modalities conceptually and historically related and how so Why are artists today so interested in environments and in elements of projection To explain this continual fascination with projection and atmosphere Bruno traverses psychoanalysis architecture the history of science visual art and moving image culture to see how projective mechanisms and their environments have developed over time

Creating the Future Michael

Fallon,2014-08-18 Conceived as a challenge to long standing conventional wisdom Creating the Future is a work of social history cultural criticism that examines the premise that the progress of art in Los Angeles ceased during the 1970s after the decline of the Ferus Gallery the scattering of its stable of artists Robert Irwin Ed Kienholz Ed Moses Ed Rusha and others and the economic struggles throughout the decade and didn't resume until sometime around 1984 when Mark Tansey Alison Saar Judy Fiskin Carrie Mae Weems David Salle Manuel Ocampo among others became stars in an exploding art market However this is far from the reality of the L A art scene in the 1970s The passing of those fashionable 1960s era icons in fact allowed the development of a chaotic array of outlandish and independent voices marginalized communities and energetic sometimes bizarre visions that thrived during the stagnant 1970s Fallon s narrative describes and celebrates through twelve thematically arranged chapters the wide range of intriguing artists and the world not just the objects they created He reveals the deeper more culturally dynamic truth about a significant moment in American art history presenting an alternative story of stubborn creativity in the face of widespread ignorance and misapprehension among the art cognoscenti who dismissed the 1970s in Los Angeles as a time of dissipation and decline Coming into being right before their eyes was an ardent local feminist art movement which had lasting influence on the direction of art across the nation an emerging Chicano Art movement spreading Chicano murals across Los Angeles and to other major cities a new and more modern vision for the role and look of public art a slow consolidation of local street sensibilities car fetishism gang and punk aesthetics into the earliest version of what would later become the Lowbrow art movement the subversive co opting in full view of Pop Art of the values aesthetics and imagery of Tinseltown by a number of young and innovative local artists who would go on to greater national renown and a number of independent voices who lacking the support structures of an art movement or artist cohort pursued their brilliant artistic visions in near isolation Despite the lack of attention these artists would later reemerge as visionary signposts to many later trends in art Their work would prove more interesting more lastingly influential and vastly more important than ever imagined or expected by those who saw it or even by those who created it in 1970 s Los Angeles

Creating the Future is a visionary work that seeks to recapture this important decade and its influence on today s generation of artists Year Book Association of the Bar of the City of New York,1981 The Death-ego and the Vital Self Gavriel Reisner,2003 This volume presents original views of the relationship between desire and romance It begins by looking anew at the nature of desire citing its central theoretical text as Freud s Beyond the Pleasure Principle It traces the struggle between myth and romance between the ego on its way to death and the self in search of life through close readings of poems and letters of John Keats and in detailed considerations of a series of novels including Frankenstein Wuthering Heights Jane Eyre and Sons and Lovers Patio and Pavilion Penelope Curtis,2008 This book examines the relationship between modern sculpture and architecture in the mid twentieth century an interplay that has laid the ground for the semi sculptural or semi architectural works by architects such as Frank Gehry and artists such as Dan Graham The first half of the book looks at how the addition of sculpture enhanced several architectural projects including Mies van der Rohe s Barcelona Pavilion 1929 and Eliel Saarinen s Cranbrook Campus 1934 The second half of the book uses several additional case studies including Philip Johnson s sculpture court for New York s Museum of Modern Art 1953 to explore what architectural spaces can add to the sculpture they are designed to contain Curtis argues that it was in the middle of the twentieth century before sculptural and architectural forms began to converge that the complementary nature of though essential difference between the two art forms began to clearly emerge how figurative sculpture highlighted the modernist architectural experience and how the abstract qualities of that architecture imparted to sculpture a heightened role
