Torres,2020-02-04 The disaster in the Indian Ocean started with a massive undersea earthquake off the coast of Indonesia. What followed was a surge of water called a tsunami that killed thousands of people in nearly a dozen countries. Water rose up miles inland and destroyed everything in its path. Children were ripped from their parents' arms; family members were lost to each other forever. This is their story. But more importantly, this is a story of hope of how people woke up to destroyed cities and missing children and did not give up. They showed what they were made of by licking their wounds and then trying to find their lives again. This is also the story of how the world responded with the biggest humanitarian effort in history. Countries from all over the world sent money, food, water, soldiers, and doctors. This moving account is based on the author's extensive research, including his personal trip to Indonesia in January 2005 where he witnessed the devastation firsthand and spoke to dozens of survivors.

Slammed by a Tsunami! Miriam Aronin, 2010-01-01 On December 26, 2004, carpenter Ari Afrizal was helping build a house on the Indonesian island of Sumatra. Suddenly, he heard a loud whooshing sound and saw a wall of water heading directly toward him. The huge wave was a tsunami that destroyed the house he was working on and swept him out to sea. Alone in the ocean, Ari struggled to survive. Against all odds, he lived through this horrible ordeal. Eyewitness accounts and incredible photos bring to life the experiences of ordinary people who faced catastrophic danger and lived to tell their stories. Kids will discover the causes and characteristics of tsunamis and learn about scientific advances in warning systems. Safety tips show young readers what to do in case a tsunami occurs. After the wave, 2005 Tsunamis Marne Ventura, 2019-08-01 A big tsunami hit Japan's coast in March 2011. The tallest wave was as high as a 12-story building. Find out more in Tsunamis, one of the titles in the Surviving series. Surviving is a series of AV2 media-enhanced books.
