Risjord, 2001 Like the preceding books in The Representative Americans series The Romantics makes history human by putting tissue on the skeletal framework of names and dates It treats people whose principal contributions fell in the first half of the nineteenth century And while certain individuals may be unfamiliar to readers the slaves Prince and Free Frank a black farmer of Kentucky and Illinois and the Lowell Girls Lucy Lacom and

Sarah Bagley the majority of the figures studied are well known such as Andrew Jackson and John Quincy Adams Ralph Waldo Emerson Margaret Fuller Horace Mann and Catharine Beecher Tying it all together is the prevailing spirit of American Romanticism Visit our website for sample chapters

London and the Making of Provincial Literature Joseph Rezek,2015-07-10 In the early nineteenth century London publishers dominated the transatlantic book trade No one felt this more keenly than authors from Ireland Scotland and the United States who struggled to establish their own national literary traditions while publishing in the English metropolis Authors such as Maria Edgeworth Sydney Owenson Walter Scott Washington Irving and James Fenimore Cooper devised a range of strategies to transcend the national rivalries of the literary field By writing prefaces and footnotes addressed to a foreign audience revising texts specifically for London markets and celebrating national particularity provincial authors appealed to English readers with idealistic stories of cross cultural communion From within the messy and uneven marketplace for books Joseph Rezek argues provincial authors sought to exalt and purify literary exchange In so doing they helped shape the Romantic era belief that literature inhabits an autonomous sphere in society London and the Making of Provincial Literature tells an ambitious story about the mutual entanglement of the history of books and the history of aesthetics in the first three decades of the nineteenth century Situated between local literary scenes and a distant cultural capital enterprising provincial authors and publishers worked to maximize success in London and to burnish their reputations and build their industry at home Examining the production of books and the circulation of material texts between London and the provincial centers of Dublin Edinburgh and Philadelphia Rezek claims that the publishing vortex of London inspired a dynamic array of economic and aesthetic practices that shaped an era in literary history
