Scenes Of Seduction

Ned Lukacher

Scenes Of Seduction:

Scenes of Seduction Jann Matlock, 1994 Jann Matlock's study of prostitution, hysteria and the novel in nineteenth century France considers for the first time the three topics together with their links to constructions of female marginality and desire. Made increasingly accessible to a large public by inexpensive printing methods, new forms of circulation like the roman feuilleton and rising literacy rates among women and workers, the novel became the medium for exchanges over women's bodies and desires. Matlock reveals the coincident traffic of the novel in the subjects of women on the fringe of society: prostitutes, hysterics and madwomen, and the invitations extended to its new readers to explore new worlds of sexuality and intrigue. In addition, Matlock examines debates on the tolerance of prostitution, sexual continence, the relationship between female sexuality and madness, and the dangers of literature by incorporating into her study material from a myriad of archives including medical case studies, police reports, newspaper editorials, and memoirs. Against this rich background, she discusses the novels of Balzac, Dumas, Flaubert, Sand, Souli, and Sue, many of which were directed at a female audience. Scenes of Seduction Jann Anne Matlock, 1988

Primal Scenes Ned Lukacher, 1986 Primal Scenes is concerned with those elements in the thought of Freud and Heidegger which make us continue to regard them as our contemporaries. It seeks to reassert their radical potential which the author believes has been minimized as critics celebrate the radicality of Lacan, Derrida, and others. Freud and the Scene of Trauma John Fletcher, 2013-12-02 This book will reward scholars across a number of disciplines: literary studies, trauma studies, psychoanalysis, and psychology and philosophy. Choice. This book argues that Freud's mapping of trauma as a scene is central to both his clinical interpretation of his patients' symptoms and his construction of successive theoretical models and concepts to explain the power of such scenes in his patients' lives. This attention to the scenic form of trauma and its power in determining symptoms leads to Freud's break from the neurological model of trauma he inherited from Charcot. It also helps to explain the affinity that Freud and many since him have felt between psychoanalysis and literature and artistic production more generally, and the privileged role of literature at certain turning points in the development of his thought. It is Freud's scenography of trauma and fantasy that speaks to the student of literature and painting. International Review of Educational Cinematograph, 1929 International Review of Education Cinematography, 1929

American Modernism's Expatriate Scene Daniel Katz, 2014-05-21 This book attempts to address the paradoxes inherent in international modernism, a literary movement which at once strove to cross borders of nation, language, and tradition yet which at the same time often endorsed nationalist and racial models of identity. The Federal Reporter, 1929

Young,2016-12-05 As he demonstrates that narratives of seduction function as a master plot for French literature in the eighteenth century Paul Young argues that the prevalence of this trope was a reaction to a dominant cultural discourse that coded the novel and the new practice of solitary reading as dangerous seductive practices Situating his study in the context of paintings educational manuals and criticism that caution against the act of reading Young considers both canonical and lesser known works by authors that include Rousseau Sade Bastide Laclos Crillon fils and the writers of two widely read libertine novels How these authors responded to a cultural climate that viewed literature and especially the novel as seductive sheds light on the perils and pleasures of authorship the ways in which texts interact with the larger cultural discourse and what eighteenth century texts tell us about the dangers of reading or writing Ultimately Young argues the seduction not in the text but by the text raises questions about the nature of pleasure in eighteenth century French literature and culture The Reality Effect Joel Black,2013-08-21 It used to be only movies were on film now the whole world is The most intimate and most banal moments of our lives are constantly recorded for public consumption In The Reality Effect Joel Black argues that the desire to make visible every aspect of our lives is an impulse derived from cinema one that has made life both more graphic and less real He approaches film as a documentary medium that has obscured if not obliterated the line between reality and fiction To illustrate this effect Black traces the uncanny interplay between movies and real life events through a series of comparative analyses from Lolita and the murder of JonBen t Ramsey to Wag the Dog and the Clinton scandal to Crash and Princess Diana s violent death Homer's Allusive Art Bruno Currie,2016-10-06 What kind of allusion is possible in a poetry derived from a centuries long oral tradition and what kind of oral derived poetry are the Homeric epics Comparison of Homeric epic with South Slavic heroic song has suggested certain types of answers to these questions yet the South Slavic paradigm is neither straightforward in itself nor necessarily the only pertinent paradigm Augustan Latin poetry uses many sophisticated and highly self conscious techniques of allusion which can this book contends be suggestively paralleled in Homeric epic and some of the same techniques of allusion can be found in Near Eastern poetry of the third and second millennia BC By attending to these various paradigms

this challenging study argues for a new understanding of Homeric allusion and its place in literary history broaching the question of whether there can have been historical continuity in a poetics of allusion stretching from the Mesopotamian epic of Gilgamesh via the Iliad and Odyssey to the Aeneid and Metamorphoses despite the enormous disparities of time and place and of language and culture including those represented by the cuneiform tablet the papyrus roll and by an oral performance culture The fundamental methodological problems are explored through a series of interlocking case studies treating of how the Odyssey conceivably alludes to the Iliad and also to earlier poetry on Odysseus homecoming the Iliad to earlier poetry on the Ethiopian hero Memnon the Homeric Hymn to Demeter to earlier poetry on Hades abduction of Persephone and early Greek epic to Mesopotamian mythological poetry pre eminently the Babylonian epic of Gilgamesh Screen Adaptation published and unpublished papers will be of interest to practicing psychoanalysts psychoanalytically oriented psychotherapists and students of the history of ideas and philosophy who have a particular interest in fantasy interpretation and Freud

Scenes of Subjection Saidiya V. Hartman, 1997 In the tradition of Eric Lott's award winning Love and Theft Hartman's new book shows how the violence of captivity and enslavement was embodied in many of the performance practices that grew from and about slave culture in antebellum America Using tools from anthropology and history as well as literary criticism she examines a wealth of material including songs dance stories diaries narratives and journals to provide new insights into a range of issues She looks particularly at the presentations of slavery and blackness in minstrelsy melodrama and the sentimental novel the disparity between actual slave culture and managed plantation amusements the construction of slave culture in nineteenth century ethnographic writing the rhetorical performance of slave law and slave narratives the dimension of slave performance practice and the political consciousness of folklore Particularly provocative is her analysis of the slave pen and auction block which transmogrified terror into theatre and her reading of the rhetoric of seduction in slavery law and legal cases concerning rape Persuasively showing that the exercise of power is inseparable from its display Scenes of Subjection will interest readers involved in a wide range of historical literary and cultural studies

Social Transformations in Hardy's Tragic Novels D. Musselwhite, 2003-09-16 Drawing on the theoretical work of Deleuze and Guattari and that of Jean Laplanche particularly his major and as yet still relatively unfamiliar notion of the phantasme Social Formation in Hardy's Major Novels is an original and groundbreaking rereading of Hardy's four major tragic novels The readings are sophisticated and yet accessible The theoretical work is complemented by the use of new and hitherto unregarded major empirical findings that reveal the very heart of Hardy's creative universe

Seduction and Power Silke Knippschild, Marta Garcia Morcillo, 2013-08-15 This volume focuses on the reception of antiquity in the performing and visual arts from the Renaissance to the twenty first century It explores the tensions and relations of gender sexuality eroticism and power in reception Such universal themes dictated plots and characters of myth and drama but also served to portray historical figures events and places from Classical history Their changing reception and reinterpretation across time has created stereotypes models of virtue or immoral conduct that blend the original features from the ancient world with a diverse range of visual and performing arts of the modern era The volume deconstructs these traditions and shows how arts of different periods interlink to form and transmit these images to modern audiences and viewers Drawing on contributions from across Europe and the United States a trademark of the book is the inclusive treatment of all the arts beyond the traditional limits of academic disciplines

Our Original Scenes Tomas Geyskens, 2005 Freud's ideas on infantile sexuality can only be understood as constructions that are necessary to understand the psychopathological formations of adults These constructions of infantile sexuality therefore must not be considered to be speculations about infant behaviour as such because in infancy sexuality is obviously a rather marginal problem and because consequently only their nachträglich effects reveal the significance of our infantile sexual experiences In the psychoanalytic cure these infantile experiences are never remembered as such The idea that what is repressed in adults can be observed in infants does not take into account this notion of Nachträglichkeit while Freud's theory cannot be understood without it The relation between the pathological and the infantile bridges the gap between pathology and normality because pathology is caused by universally human problems or weak points infantile sexuality and following our interpretation of the death instinct the infant's radical Hilflosigkeit In psychoanalysis therefore the analysis of the different pathologies has inevitably an anthropological claim To understand what it means to be human says Freud we must analyse the extreme paradigmatic answers to this problem that we all are ourselves The analysis of different pathologies will highlight the different aspects of our infantile experience and its nachträgliche effects In this perspective the difference between normality and pathology can only be a quantitative not a qualitative difference In this way Freud transformed the study of psychopathology into a clinical anthropology i.e. a clarification of the specifically human in human nature by analysing its pathological manifestations

Hidden Conversations David Livingstone Smith, 2018-05-08 Hidden Conversations introduces Robert Langs radical reinterpretation of psychoanalysis by presenting and expanding his ideas in new and accessible ways It is the first clear account of the theories underlying Langs approach placing them within the context of the history of psychoanalysis and showing for example that Freud nearly discovered the communicative approach in the late 1890s and that in the 1930s Ferenczi also anticipated the method David Livingstone Smith illustrates this communicative approach with a wealth of practical detail and clinical examples including verbatim accounts of communicative psychoanalytical sessions with a commentary on the unconscious processes underlying them
