Scenes From A War:

Imaging the Scenes of War Christof Decker,2022-04-04 In American visual culture the 1930s and 1940s were a key transitional period shaped by the era of modernism and the global confrontation of World War II Christof Decker demonstrates that the war and its iconography of destruction challenged visual artists to find new ways of representing its consequences Dealing with trauma and war crimes led to the emergence of complex aesthetic forms and media crossovers Decker shows that the 1940s were a pivotal period for the creation of horrific yet also innovative representations that boosted American visual modernism and set the stage for debates about the ethics of visual culture in the post 9 11 era

Train,1862 The Tradition of the Trojan War in Homer and the Epic Cycle Jonathan S. Burgess,2003-04-30 Although the Iliad and Odyssey narrate only relatively small portions of the Trojan War and its aftermath for centuries these works have overshadowed other more comprehensive narratives of the conflict particularly the poems known as the Epic Cycle In The Tradition of the Trojan War in Homer and the Epic Cycle Jonathan Burgess challenges Homer's authority on the war's history and the legends surrounding it placing the Iliad and Odyssey in the larger often overlooked context of the entire body of Greek epic poetry of the Archaic Age He traces the development and transmission of the Cyclic poems in ancient Greek culture comparing them to later Homeric poems and finding that they were far more influential than has previously been thought

Youngblood,2014-11-07 Sergei Bondarchuk's War and Peace one of the world's greatest film epics originated as a consequence of the Cold War Conceived as a response to King Vidor's War and Peace Bondarchuk's surpassed that film in every way giving the USSR one small victory in the cultural Cold War for hearts and minds This book taking up Bondarchuk's masterpiece as a Cold War film an epic a literary adaptation a historical drama and a rival to Vidor's Hollywood version recovers and expands a lost chapter in the cultural and political history of the twentieth century Like many great works of literature Tolstoy's epic tale proved a major challenge to filmmakers After several early efforts to capture the story's grandeur it was not until 1956 that King Vidor dared to bring War and Peace to the big screen American critics were lukewarm about the film but it was shown in the Soviet Union to popular acclaim This book tells the story of how the Soviet government military and culture ministry all eager to reclaim this Russian masterpiece from their Cold War enemies pulled together to make Bondarchuk's War and Peace possible Bondarchuk an actor who had directed only one film was an unlikely choice for director and yet he produced one of the great works of Soviet cinema a worthy homage to Tolstoy's masterpiece an achievement only sweetened when Russia's Cold War adversary recognized it with the Academy Award's Oscar for Best Foreign Language Film of 1968 Denise Youngblood examines the film as an epic and at seven hours long released in four parts at a cost of nearly 700 000 000 in today's dollars it was certainly that a literary adaptation a complex reflection on history and a significant artifact of the cultural Cold War between the US and the USSR From its various angles the book shows us Bondarchuk's extraordinary film in its many dimensions aesthetic political and historical even as it reveals what the film tells us about how Soviet patriotism and historical memory were constructed during the Cold War
