School Age Care Theory And Practice:

School-age Care Steve Musson,1994 School Age Care Steve Musson,1998-12 The text is aimed at Introduction to School Age Care or Introductory ECE in Early Childhood programs at community college Bridging the gap between theory and practice School Age Care explores the complex set of skills knowledge and attitudes that adults need to work effectively in school age care The Second Edition has been carefully revised to ensure that the needs of instructors and students are met in this growing and evolving field College Students Working in After-school and School-age Care Programs ,2001

Learning to Lead, Second Edition Debra Ren-Etta Sullivan,2009-12-01 Learning to Lead combines theory and practice with important topics such as human development diversity anti bias and social change New to this edition is information on leadership connections in school age care and nurturing leadership in children Each chapter is designed to prompt self evaluation and personal leadership development Listening to Children's Advice about Starting School and School

Age Care Sue Dockett,Johanna Einarsdottir,Bob Perry,2019-03-06 Reflecting the importance of drawing on children s perspectives to shape professional practice this book offers a nuanced approach to understanding the aims implications and practicalities of accessing and incorporating children s perspectives in pedagogical practices relating to transitions Listening to Children s Advice about Starting School and School Age Care emphasises the importance of listening to and respecting children s perspectives at the time of their transitions to school and school age care shares children s perspectives of the transition to school and school age care in ways that are both authentic and provocative explores implications for practice as a consequence of children s input provokes a deep level of critical reflection and practice policy development that is informed by a dialogue between research and practice Chapters report research conducted in seven different countries to highlight approaches that acknowledge and respect children s input and use this as a basis for critical reflection on practice with a view to improving the children s transition experiences Using examples of practice and offering practical and theoretical insights the book illustrates the multiplicity of children s perspectives and prompts educators to reflect on and critique practice This book will be invaluable reading for researchers students educators and practitioners involved in young children s transitions to school and school age care Developing Social Competency in Young Children Christine A.

Schmidt,2019-07-02 Social competency is a set of skills that provide children with the tools and abilities to successfully navigate the world around them Developing Social Competency in Young Children looks at each of the seven Cs of social competence communication community building coping confidence conflict resolution control and curiosity During any given day a child will enter and exit many group situations More often than not children lack the knowledge experience or emotional intelligence to be socially competent in all situations There is not a switch or a specific age when children automatically become socially competent and adults often assume that when children reach a certain age or milestone they will know how to effectively employ the seven Cs of social competency without being taught These skills must be taught and environments need to be designed to encourage the development of these skills while intentionally providing opportunities to test and hone them. Developing Social Competency in Young Children examines the role of the adult in designing the environment and using intentional strategies to maximize a child's success. At the end of each skill discussed there are parent and staff educational tips and strategies that can be used in everyday life.

Playwork Practice at the Margins Jennifer Cartmel, Rick Worch, 2020-11-26 Playwork Practice at the Margins explores the circumstances where playwork practice intersects with practice from diverse contexts and settings encompassing disciplines such as health education, early intervention and community development. Each chapter focuses on a research project situated in a unique setting or space such as zoos, hospitals, refuges and rainforests. In these settings the authors reflect on Playwork Principles and consider these in relation to the theory, research design and findings of their project. By presenting research from settings at the margins of traditional playwork, the authors use shared values and principles to consider the significance of playwork when embedded in transdisciplinary work. The book is underpinned by a model of reflective thinking that is used to examine how playwork practice is intertwined with knowledge from other disciplines. With a range of international contributions from both researchers and practitioners, this is the ideal text for academics and researchers in the fields of early childhood education, allied health, community development and social work disciplines, as well as human geographers and practitioners in children's services worldwide.

Programming and Planning in Early Childhood Settings Leonie Arthur, Bronwyn Beecher, Elizabeth Death, Susan Dockett, Sue Farmer, 2017-08-07 Programming and Planning in Early Childhood Settings explores a range of approaches to curriculum and to documenting children's learning in early childhood settings. This valuable resource for early childhood education students and practitioners provides a broad view of the concepts and issues in early childhood curriculum. Chapters reflect ongoing discussions about what is meant by the terms planning and programming in the context of early childhood, what is authentic curriculum for young children and effective teaching strategies to extend young children's learning. The strong focus on sociocultural theories of learning promotes awareness of children's diverse experiences, competencies and learning styles and helps readers recognise the need for collaborative partnerships between educators, children and families in order to develop appropriate programs. Thoroughly revised and updated, this new edition shows how chapters of the text are relevant to the Australian Professional Standards for teachers and highlights connections to the school-based context. Numerous real-life examples, reflections, articles and case studies assist students to understand a variety of educational theories, philosophies and frameworks. Throughout the book there is a focus on the processes of reflection, evaluation and ongoing improvement.

Play and Learning in Early Childhood Settings Ingrid Pramling Samuelsson, Marilyn Fleer, 2008-11-14 This book represents the outcome of the joint activities of a group of scholars who were concerned about the lack of international research in play for children from birth to 3 years. The authors are members of the Organisation Mondiale pour l'Éducation Prescolaire (OMEP). For further information see <http://www.om-ong.net>. The idea of carrying out a research project internationally was born at the OMEP's World Congress in Melbourne Australia 2004 All member countries were invited and 10 countries decided to participate of which three have withdrawn during the process The reason for this might be that in these countries only one person was working with the project while other seven countries have been working in a team of two or more persons The countries that have carried out research and contributed to this book with a chapter each are Australia Chile China Japan New Zealand Sweden and USA Wisconsin For more information about the participating countries and their corresponding addresses see Appendix I This book project started in Melbourne with a discussion about what is general in early childhood education globally and what is culturally specific The discussion was inspired by one of the keynote speakers Nazhat Shameem 2004 judge in the supreme court in Fiji when she said If we all think we are so different and specific in each culture the role of human rights has no value anymore We formulated three questions Resources in Education, 2001 Nursing Today - E-Book JoAnn Zerwekh, Ashley Zerwekh
