Rhythm and Will in Victorian Poetry Matthew Campbell, 1999-04-22 In Rhythm and Will in Victorian Poetry first published in 1999 Matthew Campbell explores the work of four Victorian poets Tennyson Browning Hopkins and Hardy as they show a consistent and innovative concern with questions of human agency and will The Victorians saw the virtues attendant upon a strong will as central to themselves and to their culture and Victorian poetry strove to find an aesthetic form to represent this sense of the human will Through close study of the metre rhyme and rhythm of a wide range of poems including monologue lyric and elegy Campbell reveals how closely technical questions of poetics are related in the work of these poets to issues of psychology ethics and social change He goes on to discuss more general questions of poetics and the implications of the achievement of the Victorian poets in a wider context from Milton through Romanticism and into contemporary critical debate John Shaw Neilson Hewson, Helen, 1997-02-11 The selection begins in 1906 when A G Stephens started up The Bookfellow From this crucial point and throughout the ensuing thirty five years we follow Neilson the man farming and working in the bush maintaining caring relationships with his scattered family and finally moving in 1928 to Melbourne and a job as an interdepartmental messenger with the Country Roads Board in Carlton Helen Hewson has chosen and edited her material from more than a thousand existing letters most of which have not been published previously They cover family social and publishing correspondence in addition to the detailed letters about writing poetry which passed between Neilson and his three very different editorial advisers A G Stephens Robert H Croll and James Devaney his first biographer Other writers of the period who corresponded with Neilson included Robert Bridges Mary Gilmore Christopher Brennan Vance and Nettie Palmer Hubert Church Percival Serle and Frank Wilmot The letters are full of revealing details about his association with many institutions and personalities the Australian Literature Association the Bread and Cheese Club Coles Book Arcade the Hill of Content the Hawthorn Press Blamire Young Vance and Nettie Palmer Mary Gilmore Bernard O Dowd Frank Wilmot Victor Kennedy and others John Shaw Neilson A Life in Letters establishes a social background and a literary context which ends any suggestion that Neilson is merely a bush poet or a simple singer This complex poet participated in an intricate network of literary relationships and literary production and it is only through reading the letters that one realises the degree to which he reflected on his own and other people s poetry and writing Putnam's Library Companion ,1878
