Making Sense Of: Health, Illness and Disease ,2021-10-25 Health illness and disease are topics well suited to interdisciplinary inquiry This book brings together scholars from around the world who share an interest in and a commitment to bridging the traditional boundaries of inquiry We hope that this book begins new conversations that will situate health in broader socio cultural contexts and establish connections between health illness and disease and other socio political issues This book is the outcome of the first global conference on Making Sense of Health Illness and Disease held at St Catherine s College Oxford in June 2002 The selected papers pursue a range of topics from the cultural significance of narratives of health illness and disease to healing practices in contemporary society as well as patients illness experiences Researchers and health care practitioners now live in the age of interdisciplinarity which has transformed both health care delivery and research on health The essays in this collection transcend the traditional boundaries of biomedicine and draw attention to the many ways in which health is embedded in socio cultural norms and how these norms in turn shape health practices and health care This volume is of interest not only to researchers but also to those delivering health care From Ink Lake ,1995 This highly acclaimed anthology is an unexpected and discerning mix of traditional short stories and untraditional tales as selected by one of Canada s most beloved writers Michael Ondaatje He has chosen 49 stories by a wide array of writers including Alistair MacLeod Margaret Laurence Carol Shields Dionne Brand Mavis Gallant Stephen Leacock Glenn Gould Alice Munro Rohinton Mistry David Adams Richards and many more Full of diversity and surprise these writings reveal the geographical emotional and literary range of the country Above all Michael Ondaatje s personal selection offers good reading and great entertainment Short Story Index ,1989 The Anansi Reader Lynn Coady,2007 In 1967 then unknown writers David Godfrey and Dennis Lee founded a small press they grandly named The House of Anansi after an African trickster spider god Their goal was to publish groundbreaking new Canadian work in three core genres literary fiction poetry and topical nonfiction Forty years later Anansi is not only going strong but enjoying a fascinating creative renaissance bolstered by both its important backlist and its renewed commitment to seeking out the best new writers and ideas to publish alongside its established ones Assembled by award winning writer Lynn Coady The Anansi Reader features excerpts from ten of the best books from each decade of the existence of the press for a total of 40 entries Samples from Lynn Crosbie s Queen Rat Northrop Frye s The Educated Imagination and Kevin Connelly s Drift are among the treasures included In a thoughtful coda Coady shows readers the future with selections from seven exciting works in progress coming from Anansi in the next two years Fiction in French - Fiction in Soviet British Library,2013-02-07 No detailed description available for Fiction in French Fiction in Soviet Canadian Book Review Annual ,1995 Agencies in Feminist Translator Studies Elena Castellano-Ortolà,2024-04-16 This book sets out a new framework for a feminist history of translators drawing on the legacy of Canadian scholar Barbara Godard and her work in establishing the Canadian literary landscape as a means of exploring agency in feminist translation studies and its implications for cross disciplinary debates The volume is organised in three sections establishing feminist translator studies as its own approach examining these dynamics at work in a comprehensive portrait of Barbara Godard s scholarly and literary history and looking ahead to future directions In situating the discussion on Godard and Canadian literary history Elena Castellano calls attention to a geographic context in which translation and its practice has been at the heart of debates around national identity and intersected with the rise of feminism and feminist literary scholarship The book demonstrates how an in depth exploration of the agency of an individual stakeholder whose activities spanned diverse communities and oft conflicting interests can engage in key questions at the intersection of nation making translation and feminism paving the way for future research and the further development of feminist translator studies as methodological framework This book will be of interest to scholars in translation studies feminist literature cultural history and Canadian literature
