Harrison,2008-07-08 Which cultural values beliefs and attitudes best promote democracy social justice and prosperity How can we use the forces that shape cultural change such as religion education and political leadership to promote these values in the Third World and for underachieving minorities in the First World In this book Lawrence E Harrison offers intriguing answers to these questions in a valuable follow up to his acclaimed Culture Matters Drawing on a three year research project that explored the cultural values of dozens of nations from Botswana Sweden and India to China Egypt and Chile Harrison offers a provocative look at values around the globe revealing how each nation s culture has propelled or retarded their political and economic progress The book presents 25 factors that operate very differently in cultures prone to progress and those that resist it including one s influence over destiny the importance attached to education the extent to which people identify with and trust others and the role of women in society Harrison pulls no punches and many of his findings are controversial Contradicting the arguments of multiculturalists this book contends that when it comes to promoting human progress some cultures are clearly more effective than others It convincingly shows which values beliefs and attitudes work and how we can foster them Harrison takes up the question that is at the center of politics today Can we self consciously change cultures so they encourage development and modernization David Brooks New York Times I can think of no better entrance to the topic both for what it teaches and the way it invites and prepares the reader to continue A gateway study David S Landes author of The Wealth and Poverty of Nations Art Journal ,1984

Emotions, Communities, and Difference in Medieval Europe Maureen C. Miller,Edward Wheatley,2017-01-12 This book of eleven essays by an international group of scholars in medieval studies honors the work of Barbara H Rosenwein Professor emerita of History at Loyola University Chicago Part I Emotions and Communities comprises six essays that make use of Rosenwein s well known and widely influential work on the history of emotions and what Rosenwein has called emotional communities These essays employ a wide variety of source material such as chronicles monastic records painting music theory and religious practice to elucidate emotional commonalities among the medieval people who experienced them The five essays in Part II Communities and Difference explore different kinds of communities and have difference as their primary theme difference between the poor and the unfree between power as wielded by rulers or the clergy between the western Mediterranean region and the rest of Europe and between a supposedly great king and lesser ones
