Bandung, Global History, and International Law Luis Eslava, Michael Fakhri, Vasuki Nesiah, 2017-11-30 In 1955 a conference was held in Bandung Indonesia that was attended by representatives from twenty nine nations Against the backdrop of crumbling European empires Asian and African leaders forged new alliances and established anti imperial principles for a new world order The conference came to capture popular imaginations across the Global South and as counterpoint to the dominant world order it became both an act of collective imagination and a practical political project for decolonization that inspired a range of social movements diplomatic efforts institutional experiments and heterodox visions of the history and future of the world In this book leading international scholars explore what the spirit of Bandung has meant to people across the world over the past decades and what it means today It analyzes Bandung s complicated and pivotal impact on global history international law and most of all justice struggles after the end of formal colonialism

International Law and the History of Resource Extraction in Africa George Forji Amin, 2023-09-22 This book investigates the historical economic and legal regimes that legitimated the resource extraction and exploitation of Africa between the 15th and 19th centuries and led to the continent s trajectory of underdevelopment in the world system The book interrogates the economic and legal structures that supported European intervention in Africa It explores the trade and private property rights which were to shape the economic future of the continent most notably the trade in human beings as legitimate private property by European powers The book then looks at the techniques used to submerge African sovereignty under European sovereignty during the scramble for territorial control in the 19th century concluding with the validation of occupation in international law following the 1884 85 Berlin Conference The book argues that the doctrines of trade and property rights sanctioned by international law led to a trend of African dispossession that set the continent on a path to underdevelopment with long reaching consequences This book will be of interest to researchers and students across law history economics international relations and African studies

A Cultural History of Democracy in the Modern Age Eugenio Biagini, Gary Gerstle, 2022-12-15 This volume explores democracy in the 20th century examining the triumph crises recovery and resilience of democracy and its associated cultures in this period From 1920 democracy became the hegemonic discourse in political cultures to the extent that even its enemies claimed its legacy The end of empires ushered in an unprecedented globalization of democratic aspirations Barriers of gender and race were gradually removed and greater equality gave new meaning to citizenship Yet already in 1922 democracy was on its back foot with the rise of fascism Even after the latter s defeat in 1945 liberal democracy died wherever communist democracy triumphed The situation changed again from 1989 but democratic hubris was then checked by the rise of a new enemy populism The paradox is that the century of democracy's triumph was also that of its near final defeat while the peace and stability that everybody desired and many expected as the outcome of the extension of democracy were at best intermittent and geographically limited Each chapter takes a different theme as its focus sovereignty liberty and the rule of law the common good economic and social democracy religion and the principles of political obligation citizenship and gender ethnicity race and nationalism democratic crises revolutions and civil resistance international relations and democratic politics beyond the polis These ten different approaches to democracy since 1920 offer a global synoptic and probing exploration of the subject The Making of

History M. A. Rabie, 2001-07-29 This book describes the development of human societies over time and identifies the major forces of change that guide history and influence its course The book argues that the course of history has been driven not by leaders states ideas or war but rather by four societal processes whose actions reactions and interactions have governed the nature and pace of historical change These processes are the socio cultural political economic and infomedia processes Three major conceptions of world history the cyclical linear and chaotic have tried to describe the course of history and explain the dynamics of change This book reviews these conceptions and concludes that each one of them is only partially able to provide an understanding of the historical dynamics of change The book incorporates these conceptions into one theory the locomotive theory of history that provides a comprehensive explanation of the movement and dynamics of change throughout history The locomotive theory explains why certain nations have made more progress than others why some people are getting richer while others remain poor and why democracy has succeeded in some countries and failed in others The multiplicity of issues that the book covers makes its analysis and conclusions of particular interest to all people engaged in politics economics socioeconomic development and globalization Explaining the History of American Foreign Relations
