The Self-Donation of God Jack D. Kilcrease, 2013-03-20 In The Self Donation of God Jack Kilcrease argues that the speech act of promise is always an act of self donation. A person who unilaterally promises to another is bound to take a particular series of actions to fulfill that promise. Being that creation is grounded in God's promising speech the divine human relationship is fundamentally one of divine self donation and human receptivity. Sin disrupts this relationship and therefore redemption is constituted by a reassertion of divine promise of salvation in the face of the condemnation of the law. Gen 3:15. As a new and effective word of grace the promise of a savior begins the process of redemption within which God speaks forth a new narrative of creation. In this new narrative God gives himself in an even deeper manner to humanity. By donating himself through a promise first to the protological humanity and then to Israel he binds himself to them. At the end of this history of self binding God in Christ enters into the condemnation of the law neutralizes it in the cross and brings about a new creation through his omnipotent word of promise actualized in the resurrection.

Providence and Narrative in the Theology of John Chrysostom Robert Edwards, 2022-12-15 This book is the first major study of providence in the thought of John Chrysostom a popular preacher in Syrian Antioch and later archbishop of Constantinople ca 350 to 407 CE. While Chrysostom is often considered a moralist and exegete this study explores how his theology of providence profoundly affected his larger ethical and exegetical thought. Robert Edwards argues that Chrysostom considers biblical narratives as vehicles of a doctrine of providence in which God is above all loving towards humankind. Narratives of God's providence thus function as sources of consolation for Chrysostom's suffering audiences and may even lead them now amid suffering to the resurrection life the life of the angels. In the course of surveying Chrysostom's theology of providence and his use of scriptural narratives for consolation Edwards also positions Chrysostom's theology and exegesis which often defy categorization within the preacher's immediate Antiochene and Nicene contexts Nineteenth-Century Lutheran Theologians Matthew L. Becker, Günter Frank, Ute Lotz-Heumann, Barbara Mahlmann-Bauer, Johannes Schilling, Günther Wassilowsky, Siegrid Westphal, Tarald Rasmussen, Mathijs Lamberigts, Bruce Gordon, David M. Whitford, 2015-12-09 This collection of essays a companion volume to the book Twentieth Century Lutheran Theologians Vandenhoeck Ruprecht 2013 examines important nineteenth century figures from the perspective of contemporary European and North American scholars Each essay provides an overview of the life and central ideas of a key Lutheran Protestant theologian who has had a significant impact on theological reflection down to the present The focus here is on those thinkers who were active between 1799 the year when Schleiermacher's Speeches appeared and the First World War These are individuals who deserve repeated examination whose insights are still worth pondering today and whose theological positions help us to understand better where contemporary theology has come from Karl Barth All of the essays were initiated by the journal Lutheran Quarterly in order to assess our theological heritage as we move further into a new millennium The goal of the authors each a leading theologian has been to describe a given thinker's life and vocation and how that person's work continues to impact theology today Confessional Lutheranism and German Theological Wissenschaft James Ambrose Lee II, 2022-01-19 This book investigates the relationship between nineteenth century German theological Wissenschaft and the emergence of confessional Lutheranism It argues that the first generation of confessional Lutherans contributed to the discourse over the nature of theological Wissenschaft Part I examines the intellectual context of nineteenth century theological Wissenschaft Chapter 2 presents Kant's and Schelling's conceptions of Wissenschaft in relationship to theology Chapter 3 analyzes Schleiermacher's contribution to the debate about the integrity of theology as a Wissenschaft and concludes by considering the developments represented by F C Baur and Albrecht Ritschl Part II investigates the different Lutheran approaches to theological Wissenschaft represented by Adolf Harle August Vilmar and Johannes von Hofmann Chapter 4 examines Harle's Theologische Encyclopädie as the first expression towards a confessional Lutheran Wissenschaft Chapter 5 highlights Vilmar's antagonistic posture towards modern German theology while attending to his construction of an alternative approach to modern theology Chapters 6 and 7 contextualize Hofmann against the landscape of German theology while situating his theological Wissenschaft within his contentious work Der Schriftbeweis Chapter 8 reflects upon these efforts at establishing a theological Wissenschaft in service to the church and the university The God of the Gospel Scott R. Swain, 2013-04-03 Scott R Swain provides what might be the definitive critical reading of Robert Jenson's trinitarian theology from an evangelical perspective Setting Jenson within the larger story of the twentieth century trinitarian revival Swain proposes constructive pathways back to a classical understanding of the Trinity The Oxford Dictionary of the Christian Church Andrew Louth, 2022-02-17 Uniquely authoritative and wide ranging in its scope The Oxford Dictionary

Biblical Theology Carey Walsh, Mark W. Elliott, 2016-08-03. This book offers two things in particular first these are papers that have been commented on and re worked in the context of a set of lively sessions from International SBL conferences from 2012 to 2014 Amsterdam St Andrews Vienna. Second they offer an insight into the origins of the discipline as one which became conscious of itself in the early modern era and the turn to history and the analysis of texts to offer something exegetical and synthetic. The fresh wind that the enterprise received in the latter part of the twentieth century is the focus of the second part of the volume which describes the recent activity up to the present state of the question. The third part takes a step further to anticipate the way forward for the discipline in an era where canon but also Scripture and theology seem to be alien terms and where other ideologies are advanced in the name of neutrality. Biblical Theology will aim to be true to the evidence of the text it will not always see clearly but it will rely on the best of biblical criticism and theological discernment to help it. That is the spirit with which this present volume is imbued.

Twentieth-Century Lutheran Theologians Mark C. Mattes, 2013-08-14. This collection of essays examines important twentieth century Lutheran theologians including European and North American voices. Each essay provides an overview of the life and thought of important confessional Lutherans who shaped theology with an ecumenical world wide impact. The focus here is not on later twentieth century figures but earlier ones selected similar to the spirit manifest in Karl Barth's contention lest we forget where contemporary theology came from Protestant Theology. From Rousseau to Ritschl. The essays composed over the last five years were initiated by Lutheran Quarterly in order to assess our recent past as we move into a new millennium. The goal of each author each a leading theologian has been to describe each thinker's life and vocation and how each thinker's work continues to impact theology today.

Kierkegaard's Kenotic Christology David R. Law, 2013-01-10. The orthodox doctrine of the incarnation affirms that Christ is both truly divine and truly human. This however raises the question of how these two natures can co exist in the one united person of Christ without undermining the integrity of either nature Kenotic theologians address this problem by arguing that Christ emptied himself of his divine attributes or prerogatives in order to become a human being David R Law contends that a type of kenotic Christology is present in Kierkegaard s works developed independently of the Christologies of contemporary kenotic theologians Like many of the classic kenotic theologians of the 19th century Kierkegaard argues that Christ underwent limitation on becoming a human being Where he differs from his contemporaries is in emphasizing the radical nature of this limitation and in bringing out its existential consequences The aim of Kierkegaard s Christology is not to provide a rationally satisfying theory of the incarnation but to highlight the existential challenge with which Christ confronts each human being Kierkegaard advances existential kenoticism a form of kenotic Christology which extends the notion of the kenosis of Christ to the Christian believer who is called upon to live a life of kenotic discipleship in which the believer follows Christ s example of lowly humble and suffering service Kierkegaard thus shifts the problem of kenosis from the intellectual problem of working out how divinity and humanity can be united in Christ s Person to the existential problem of discipleship

Writing the History of Early Christianity Markus

Vinzent,2019-03-14 Brings a new approach to the interpretation of the sources used to study the Early Christian era reading history backwards This book will interest teachers and students of New Testament studies from around the world of any denomination and readers of early Christianity and Patristics

The German Roots of Nineteenth-Century American Theology Annette G. Aubert,2013-07-30 By exploring the significant influence of German theology especially mediating theology on American religious thought this book sheds new and welcome light on nineteenth century American Reformed theology It is the first full scale examination of that influence on the Mercersburg theology of Emanuel V Gerhart and the Princeton theology of Charles Hodge Annette Aubert shows that in the development of their works Gerhart and Hodge took into account both the tradition of the church and the contemporary theological developments in Europe especially Germany Aubert masterfully incorporates the German sources of Schleiermacher Ullmann Tholuck Hagenbach Dorner Hengstenberg and other nineteenth century German scholars to show that the work of Gerhart and Hodge is much better appreciated when interpreted in a wide intellectual and religious context Aubert s organic and transatlantic approach offers a deeper understanding of the American Reformed theology of two influential thinkers and illuminates the extent of the cross fertilization between American and German thought

Ecumenical and Confessional Writings Edmund

Schlink,2022-12-12 Although many writings of Edmund Schlink 1903 1984 have been available in English for several decades the publication of the new German edition offered a significant impetus for providing a fresh and more accurate translation of them Matthew L Becker and his co translators have consistently translated key terms that occur in all five volumes Also they corrected infelicitous and misleading renderings of Schlink s language into English which more or less happened in all the earlier editions In this second volume Becker provides the first ever English translation of Schlink s dogmatics

Representing the culmination of five decades of scholarly work by one of the most important theologians and ecumenists of the twentieth century Schlink's opus magnum sets forth the basic features of Christian doctrine that all Christian churches hold in common Schlink's Ecumenical Dogmatics thus offers a consistent witness to the living triune God who calls sinners to repentance and faith who acts mightily to save them and who sends them back into the world to share God's gospel and love in word and deed

Christ the Logos of Creation: An Essay in Analogical Metaphysics John R. Betz, 2023-09-28 The Prologue of the Gospel of John identifies Jesus Christ as the eternal Word or Logos of the Father who became flesh for the salvation of the world Yet the world that Christ saves is his world from the beginning for he is also the Logos of creation the one through whom all things were made John 1:3 This divinely revealed claim has profound implications not only for theology but also for metaphysics whose relation to Christian doctrine was undermined over the course of the twentieth century such that the Christian faith has become an increasingly private affair rather than a credible account of reality and an invitation to participate more fully in it With Christ the Logos of Creation John Betz seeks to recover a Christ-centered analogical metaphysics and to establish the indispensability of such metaphysics for Christian theology and the Christian vision of reality In Part I he dispels the fog of confusion about analogical metaphysics and addresses the ecumenical issues posed by Karl Barth's famous rejection of the analogia entis Part II demonstrates how analogical metaphysics helps to explain Christian doctrine and sheds new light on the interrelationship between individual doctrines including Trinitarian theology Christology and soteriology and theological anthropology In Part III Betz explores how this analogical perspective can aid in resolving a number of theological disputes including the metaphysical relationship between nature and grace and the issue of divine humility Finally Part IV outlines further directions toward a fully Christological metaphysics that is proportionate both to the challenges of modern theology and the reality of our life in Christ the Logos

The Oxford Handbook of the Trinity Gilles P. Emery, Matthew Levering, 2011-10-27 This handbook examines the history of Trinitarian theology and reveals the Nicene unity still at work among Christians today despite ecumenical differences and the variety of theological perspectives The forty-three chapters are organized into the following seven parts the Trinity in Scripture Patristic witnesses to the Trinitarian faith Medieval appropriations of the Trinitarian faith the Reformation through to the 20th Century Trinitarian Dogmatics the Trinity and Christian life and Dialogues addressing ecumenical interreligious and cultural interactions The phrase Trinitarian faith can hardly be understood outside of reference to the Councils of Nicaea and Constantinople and to their reception the doctrine of the Trinity is indissociably connected to the reading of Scripture through the ecclesial and theological traditions The modern period is characterized especially by the arrival of history under two principal aspects historical theology and philosophies of history In contemporary theology the principal theological loci are Trinity and creation Trinity and grace Trinity and monotheism Trinity and human life ethics society politics and culture and more broadly Trinity and history In all these areas this handbook offers essays that do justice to the diversity of view points while also providing insofar as possible a coherent ensemble

God's Radical Love in Missio Dei Edward Kim, 2024-12-30 Although missio Dei the mission of God has been a burning theme in missiology since the end of the twentieth century a key verse John 3 16 has been widely neglected in missiology until today Yet John 3 16 reveals missio Dei as the triune God's salvific activities in the world and shows us the very motivation for missio Dei God's Radical Love a love so vast transcultural and universal that no English words can translate the Hebrew Three questions are explored herein How does God's Radical Love in John 3 16 justify God's motivation for missio Dei as the work of the triune God in the Old Testament What does God really plan to achieve in missio Dei And how can missio Dei be applied by Christians in the twenty first century Based on his own experiences the author specifically explores how Messianic Jewish congregations in Israel could respond to and participate in missio Dei with the hope that thoughtful readers may apply this study to their own contexts to engage their own congregations with a deeper understanding of God's Radical Love in missio Dei

Theology and the University in Nineteenth-Century Germany Zachary Purvis, 2016-07-21 Theology and the University in Nineteenth Century Germany examines the dual transformation of institutions and ideas that led to the emergence of theology as science the paradigmatic project of modern theology associated with Friedrich Schleiermacher Beginning with earlier educational reforms across central Europe and especially following the upheavals of the Napoleonic period an impressive list of provocateurs iconoclasts and guardians of the old faith all confronted the nature of the university the organization of knowledge and the unity of theology's various parts quandaries which together bore the collective name of theological encyclopedia Schleiermacher's remarkably influential programme pioneered the structure and content of the theological curriculum and laid the groundwork for theology's historicization Zachary Purvis offers a comprehensive investigation of Schleiermacher's programme through the era's two predominant schools speculative theology and mediating theology Purvis highlights that the endeavour ultimately collapsed in the context of Wilhelmine Germany and the Weimar Republic beset by the rise of religious studies radical disciplinary specialization a crisis of historicism and the attacks of dialectical theology In short the project represented university theology par excellence Engaging in detail with these developments Purvis weaves the story of modern university theology into the broader tapestry of German and European intellectual culture with periodic comparisons to other national contexts In doing so he Purvis presents a substantially new way to understand the relationship between theology and the university both in nineteenth century Germany and indeed beyond
