Self, Earth, and Society Thomas N. Finger, 2020-03-12 Our era is experiencing unparalleled and rapid transience The twentieth century began with the telephone and ended with e mail People change jobs and homes a half dozen times or more in their lives Air and water pollution are threatening the well being of the earth itself Wars their multiplying refugees and political crises are tearing societies apart If there is a key word for our era it might be alienation Amid increasing and often chaotic complexity individuals struggle to attain an integrated stable self with durable relationships An expanding ecological consciousness reveals our estrangement from the earth Societies are internally divided by clashing political and economic perspectives and processes This profound and important book recognizes and reveals the connections among these three alienations Thomas Finger undertakes a probing critical conversation with culture and develops his own public theology Each alienation is analyzed in depth through the writings of secular authors His theological construction draws neither on modern philosophy nor worldviews but perhaps surprisingly on Scripture To support his emphasis on Christ Finger engages the skepticism of the much celebrated Jesus Seminar He rejects the widespread claim that Christianity s transcendent God is largely absent from the world and legitimates human exploitation of it For transcendence means that God is different but not distant from the world Finger then examines the roles of Jesus Father and Spirit in his earthly ministry In this and later scriptures these three act and interact in a salvific manner that can only be divine This means that his Father and Spirit also suffer with Jesus in his death and with all creation as Jürgen Moltmann brilliantly explains and accompany him in his resurrection This also means that the creation exists in God as some feminists maintain and originated as the overflow of God s love and character into a realm which was hardly distant from God yet very different In addition this entails that every human self and the process of becoming a self as God s creations must be respected as indeed must all earthly creatures and the basic structures needed to form and maintain any society Theological developments in the last decade have done much to critique misguided biblical interpretations which would justify unbridled human exploitation and abuse of creation But work in exploring how an understanding of a trinitarian transcendent God results in creative and caring relationship between humanity and creation has been less developed In discussing these matters with Dr Finger I am convinced that his proposed work holds the promise of meeting an important need within global theological discussions today Further I know that Dr Finger is fully capable of accomplishing this project Thus from my vantage point where I have the opportunity of hearing theological discussions on these subjects from the major Christian traditions and from throughout the globe it is clear that Dr Finger s proposal will fill a theological void and enrich and the Other Susan Petrilli, 2017-07-28 Ostentation of the Subject is a practice that is asserting itself ever more in today's world Consequently criticism by philosophers psychologists sociologists and anthropologists has been to little effect considering that they are not immune to such practices themselves The question of subjectivity concerns the close and the distant the self and the other the other from self and the other of self It is thus connected to the question of the sign It calls for a semiotic approach because the self is itself a sign its very own relation with itself is a relation among signs This book commits to developing a critique of subjectivity in terms of the material that the self is made of that is the material of signs Susan Petrilli highlights the scholarship of Charles Peirce Mikhail Bakhtin Roland Barthes Mary Boole Jacques Derrida Michael Foucault Emmanuel Levinas Claude Levi Strauss Maurice Merleau-Ponty Charles Morris Thomas Sebeok Thomas Szasz and Victoria Welby Included are American and European theories and theorists evidencing the relationships interconnecting American Italian French and German scholarship Petrilli covers topics from identity issues that are part of semiotic views to the corporeal self as well as responsibility reason and freedom Her book should be read by philosophers semioticians and other social scientists Self, World, and Art Dina Emundts, 2013-03-22 Is self-consciousness a condition of possibility for knowledge Does Kant's theory of self-consciousness commit us to transcendental idealism How convincing is Kant's theory of self-consciousness How should we understand transcendental idealism What is Hegel's alternative How do Kant and Hegel conceive of the beautiful How do their conceptions of beauty relate to their metaphysics In this volume some of the world's most renowned Kant and Hegel scholars seek to provide answers

The Selfless Mind Peter Harvey, 2013-09-13 This careful analysis of early Buddhist thought opens out a perspective in which no permanent Self is accepted but a rich analysis of changing and potent mental processes is developed. It explores issues relating to the not-Self, teaching self-development, moral responsibility, the between-lives period and the undetermined questions on the world, on the life principle and on the liberated one after death. It examines the person as a flowing continuity centred on consciousness or discernment, vinnana configured in changing minds, sets cittas. The resting state of this is seen as brightly shining like the Buddha nature of Mahayana thought so as to represent the potential for Nirvana. Nirvana is then shown to be a state in which consciousness transcends all objects and thus participates in a timeless unconditioned realm.

Re-Thinking the Sociality of the Self Kurt C. M. Mertel, 2025-07-16 This book is the first in a two-volume project that provides the first systematic interpretation of Martin Heidegger's fundamental ontology as a critical social ontology. It argues that fundamental ontology is at its core an emancipatory enterprise in that it is animated by an intent shared with critical theory, viz. to make philosophy concrete for the sake of individual and collective freedom. Focused on Division One of Being and Time, this volume maintains that the possibilities of individual emancipation and self-actualization are inextricably bound to their environmental and intersubjective preconditions. An adequate ontology of the self therefore is possible only as a social ontology. To fulfill its emancipatory aims, however, it is necessary to show that the fact that individuals are always already appropriated by society does not preclude the possibility of authentic self-appropriation. Hence this volume critically reconstructs the core commitments of the appropriative approach to social ontology and distinguishes between the foundational and peripheral aspects of fundamental ontology. The final part addresses important criticisms that have impeded a fruitful dialogue between fundamental ontology and critical theory to clear the ground for a fresh re-appraisal of the former as an emancipatory project.

Discovering Computer Science Jessen Havill, 2016-07-06 Discovering Computer Science: Interdisciplinary Problems, Principles, and Python Programming introduces computational problem solving as a vehicle of discovery in a wide variety of disciplines. With a principles-oriented introduction to computational thinking, the text provides a broader and deeper introduction to computer science than typical introductory programming books. Organized around interdisciplinary problem domains rather than programming language features, each chapter guides students through increasingly sophisticated algorithmic and programming techniques. The author uses a spiral approach to introduce Python language features in increasingly complex contexts as the book progresses. The text places programming in the context of fundamental computer science principles such as abstraction, efficiency, and algorithmic techniques and offers overviews of fundamental topics that are traditionally put off until later courses. The book includes thirty well-developed independent projects that encourage students to explore questions across disciplinary boundaries. Each is motivated by a problem that students can investigate by developing algorithms and implementing them as Python programs. The book's accompanying website <http://discoverCS>

denison.edu includes sample code and data files pointers for further exploration errata and links to Python language references Containing over 600 homework exercises and over 300 integrated reflection questions this textbook is appropriate for a first computer science course for computer science majors an introductory scientific computing course or at a slower pace any introductory computer science course Hands-On Vision and Behavior for Self-Driving Cars Luca Venturi, Krisztof Korda, 2020-10-23 A practical guide to learning visual perception for self driving cars for computer vision and autonomous system engineers Key Features Explore the building blocks of the visual perception system in self driving cars Identify objects and lanes to define the boundary of driving surfaces using open source tools like OpenCV and Python Improve the object detection and classification capabilities of systems with the help of neural networks Book Description The visual perception capabilities of a self driving car are powered by computer vision The work relating to self driving cars can be broadly classified into three components robotics computer vision and machine learning This book provides existing computer vision engineers and developers with the unique opportunity to be associated with this booming field You will learn about computer vision deep learning and depth perception applied to driverless cars The book provides a structured and thorough introduction as making a real self driving car is a huge cross functional effort As you progress you will cover relevant cases with working code before going on to understand how to use OpenCV TensorFlow and Keras to analyze video streaming from car cameras Later you will learn how to interpret and make the most of lidars light detection and ranging to identify obstacles and localize your position You ll even be able to tackle core challenges in self driving cars such as finding lanes detecting pedestrian and crossing lights performing semantic segmentation and writing a PID controller By the end of this book you ll be equipped with the skills you need to write code for a self driving car running in a driverless car simulator and be able to tackle various challenges faced by autonomous car engineers What you will learn Understand how to perform camera calibration Become well versed with how lane detection works in self driving cars using OpenCV Explore behavioral cloning by self driving in a video game simulator Get to grips with using lidars Discover how to configure the controls for autonomous vehicles Use object detection and semantic segmentation to locate lanes cars and pedestrians Write a PID controller to control a self driving car running in a simulator Who this book is for This book is for software engineers who are interested in learning about technologies that drive the autonomous car revolution Although basic knowledge of computer vision and Python programming is required prior knowledge of advanced deep learning and how to use sensors lidar is not needed The Conservator, 1910 Beyond the Dynamical Universe Michael Silberstein, William Mark Stuckey, Timothy McDevitt, 2018 A novel approach to the unresolved issues of theoretical physics and the philosophy foundations of physics Bond Plays: 8 Edward Bond, 2013-10-28 Edward Bond Plays 8 brings together recent work by the writer of the classic stage plays Saved Lear The Pope s Wedding and Early Morning The volume comprises five new plays and two prose essays Two Cups introductory essay Born the third play in the Colline Tetralogy the first two of which appear in Edward Bond Plays
