Self And Self Transformations In The History Of Religions:

Self and Self-transformation in the History of Religions David Dean Shulman, Guy G. Stroumsa, 2002 This book brings together scholars of a variety of the world's major civilizations to focus on the universal theme of inner transformation. The idea of the self is a cultural formation like any other and models and conceptions of the inner world of the person vary widely from one civilization to another. Nonetheless, all the world's great religions insist on the need to transform this inner world. Such transformations often ritually enacted, reveal the primary intuitions, drives and conflicts active within the culture. The individual essays study dramatic examples of these processes in a wide range of cultures including China, India, Tibet, Greece and Rome, Late Antiquity, Islam, Judaism and medieval and early modern Christian Europe. Self and

Self-Transformations in the History of Religions David Shulman, Guy G. Stroumsa, 2002-04-18 This book brings together scholars of a variety of the world's major civilizations to focus on the universal theme of inner transformation. The idea of the self is a cultural formation like any other and models and conceptions of the inner world of the person vary widely from one civilization to another. Nonetheless, all the world's great religions insist on the need to transform this inner world; however, it is understood in highly expressive and specific ways. Such transformations often ritually enacted, reveal the primary intuitions, drives and conflicts active within the culture. The individual essays by such distinguished scholars as Wai yee Li, Janet Gyatso, Wendy Doniger, Christiano Grottanelli, Charles Malamoud, Margalit Finkelberg and Moshe Idel study dramatic examples of these processes in a wide range of cultures including China, India, Tibet, Greece and Rome, Late Antiquity, Islam, Judaism and medieval and early modern Christian Europe. Transformations of the Inner Self in Ancient Religions Jan Assmann, Guy Stroumsa, 2018-11-13

This collection of papers from two workshops held in Heidelberg, Germany in July 1996 and Jerusalem, Israel in October 1997 is concerned with anthropological rather than theological aspects of the Near Eastern and Mediterranean religions ranging from the primary religions of the archaic period and their complex developments in Egypt and Mesopotamia to the soteriological movements and secondary religions that emerged in Late Antiquity. The first part of the book focuses on Confession and Conversion while the second part is devoted to the topic of Guilt, Sin and Rituals of Purification. The primary purpose of this volume is to convey a sense of the dynamics and dialectical relationships between the various Near Eastern and Mediterranean religions from the archaic period to Late Antiquity

Ontological Aspects of Early Jewish

Anthropology Tyson L. Putthoff, 2016-11-28 In Ontological Aspects of Early Jewish Anthropology Tyson L. Putthoff explores early Jewish beliefs about how the human self reacts ontologically in God's presence. Combining contemporary theory with sound exegesis, Putthoff demonstrates that early Jews widely considered the self to be intrinsically malleable such that it mimics the ontological state of the space it inhabits. In divine space they believed the self therefore shares in the ontological state of God himself. The book is critical for students and scholars alike. In putting forth a new framework for conceptualising early Jewish anthropology, it challenges scholars to rethink not only what early Jews believed about the self but how we approach the subject in the first place.

Yearnings of the Soul Jonathan Garb, 2015-11-23 In Yearnings of the Soul Jonathan Garb uncovers a crucial thread in the story of modern Kabbalah and modern mysticism: more generally, psychology. Returning psychology to its roots as an attempt to understand the soul, he traces the manifold interactions between psychology and spirituality that have arisen over five centuries of Kabbalistic writing, from sixteenth-century Galilee to twenty-first-century New York. In doing so, he shows just how rich Kabbalah's psychological tradition is and how much it can offer to the corpus of modern psychological knowledge. Garb follows the gradual disappearance of the soul from modern philosophy while drawing attention to its continued persistence as a topic in literature and popular culture. He pays close attention to James Hillman's archetypal psychology, using it to engage critically with the psychoanalytic tradition and reflect anew on the cultural and political implications of the return of the soul to contemporary psychology. Comparing Kabbalistic thought to adjacent developments in Catholic, Protestant, and other popular expressions of mysticism, Garb ultimately offers a thought-provoking argument for the continued relevance of religion to the study of psychology.

Aesthetics in Performance Angela

Hobart, Bruce Kapferer, 2006-12-01 In various ways the essays presented in this volume explore the structures and aesthetic possibilities of music, dance, and dramatic representation in ritual and theatrical situations in a diversity of ethnographic contexts in Europe, the Americas, Africa, and Asia. Each essay enters into a discussion of the logic of aesthetic processes, exploring their social and political and symbolic import. The aim is above all to explore the way artistic and aesthetic practices in performance produce and structure experience.

Mysticism and Philosophy in al-Andalus

Michael Ebstein, 2013-11-21 Muslim Spain gave rise to two unusual figures in the mystical tradition of Islam: Ibn Masarra (269-883/319-931) and Ibn al-Arab (560-1165/638-1240). Representing respectively the beginning and the pinnacle of Islamic mysticism in al-Andalus, Ibn Masarra and Ibn al-Arab embody in their writings a type of mystical discourse which is quite different from the Sufi discourse that evolved in the Islamic east during the 9th-12th centuries. In Mysticism and Philosophy in al-Andalus, Michael Ebstein points to the Ismi tradition as one possible source which helped shape the distinct intellectual world from which both Ibn Masarra and Ibn al-Arab derived. By analyzing their writings and the works of various Ismi authors, Michael

Ebstein unearths the many links that connect the thought of Ibn Masarra and Ibn al Arab to the Ism l tradition God, Self, and Death Shannon Burkes Pinette,2021-12-28 This volume considers the emerging Jewish interest in an afterlife during the second temple period in relation to developing views of the deity and the self In some circles God is understood as increasingly distant from the human sphere and so justice must occur in another world or after death at the same time more autonomous constructions of the self in response to community breakdown suggest that reward and punishment come not only collectively but also on the individual level in a post mortem realm The book traces the interconnections between these themes in Job and Ecclesiastes Ben Sira and Daniel then Wisdom of Solomon and 4 Ezra crossing genre boundaries in an attempt to offer a more encompassing historical investigation Mysticism in the French Tradition Louise Nelstrop,Bradley B. Onishi,2016-03-09 In the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries secular French scholars started re engaging with religious ideas particularly mystical ones Mysticism in the French Tradition introduces key philosophical undercurrents and trajectories in French thought that underpin and arise from this engagement as well as considering earlier French contributions to the development of mysticism Filling a gap in the literature the book offers critical reflections on French scholarship in terms of its engagement with its mystical and apophatic dimensions A multiplicity of factors converge to shape these encounters with mystical theology feminist devotional and philosophical treatments as well as literary historical and artistic approaches The essays draw these into conversation Bringing together an international and interdisciplinary range of contributions from both new and established scholars this book provides access to the melting pot out of which the mystical tradition in France erupted in the twenty first century and from which it continues to challenge theology today Self, Soul and Body in Religious Experience Albert I. Baumgartner,2018-11-13 The papers in this volume were delivered at the first international colloquium by the Jacob Taubes Minerva Center for Religious Anthropology at Bar Ilan University held in February 1995 Concepts of Self Soul and Body are so close to the physiological layers of life that we may imagine them to be biological as well but in fact they are social constructs and a source of fundamental metaphors for the classification of experience They thus help organize the world at the same time as they express basic human identity They vary from culture to culture and can productively be compared and contrasted from one setting to another We intend these papers to be a test case of the benefit to be gained from attention to Religious Anthropology Soul and Self in Vedic India Per-Johan Norelius,2023-06-19 How did the Vedic Indians think of life consciousness and personhood How did they envisage man s fate after death Did some part of the person survive the death of the body and depart for the beyond Is it possible to speak of a soul or souls in the context of Vedic tradition This book sets out to answer these questions in a systematic manner subjecting the relevant Vedic beliefs to a detailed chronological investigation Special attention is given to the ways in which the early Indians answers to the above problems changed over time with an early pluralism of soul like concepts later giving way to the unified self of the Upani ads Dreaming and Self-Cultivation in China, 300 BCE-800

CE Robert Ford Campany, 2024-09-09 Practitioners of any of the paths of self cultivation available in ancient and medieval China engaged daily in practices meant to bring their bodies and minds under firm control They took on regimens to discipline their comportment speech breathing diet senses desires sexuality even their dreams Yet compared with waking life dreams are incongruous unpredictable in a word strange How then did these regimes of self fashioning grapple with dreaming a lawless yet ubiquitous domain of individual experience In Dreaming and Self Cultivation in China 300 BCE 800 CE Robert Ford Campany examines how dreaming was addressed in texts produced and circulated by practitioners of Daoist Buddhist Confucian and other self cultivational disciplines Working through a wide range of scriptures essays treatises biographies commentaries fictive dialogues diary records interpretive keys and ritual instructions Campany uncovers a set of discrete paradigms by which dreams were viewed and responded to by practitioners He shows how these paradigms underlay texts of diverse religious and ideological persuasions that are usually treated in mutual isolation The result is a provocative meditation on the relationship between individuals nocturnal experiences and one culture s persistent attempts to discipline interpret and incorporate them into waking practice Anthropos, 2004 Self-Alteration Jean-Paul Baldacchino, Christopher Houston, 2023-11-10 Many of us feel a pressing desire to be different to be other than who we are Self conscious we anxiously perceive our shortcomings or insufficiencies wondering why we are how we are and whether we might be different Often we wish to alter ourselves to change our relationships and to transform the person we are in those relationships Not only a philosophical question about how other people change self alteration is also a practical care can I change and how Self Alteration How People Change Themselves across Cultures explores and analyzes these apparently universal hopes and their related existential dilemmas The essays here come at the subject of the self and its becoming through case studies of modes of transformation of the self They do this with social processes and projects that reveal how the self acquires a non trivial new meaning in and through its very process of alteration By focusing on ways we are allowed to change ourselves including through religious and spiritual traditions and innovations embodied participation in therapeutic programs like psychoanalysis and gendered care services and political activism or relationships with animals the authors in this volume create a model for cross cultural or global analysis of social self change that leads to fresh ways of addressing the self itself Forging Ideal Muslim Subjects Faraz Masood Sheikh, 2020-07-22 What forms can a religiously informed ethical Muslim life take This book presents two important accounts of ideal Muslim subjectivity one by 9th century moral pedagogue al Harith al Muhasibi d 857 and the other by 20th century Kurdish Quran scholar Said Nursi d 1960 It reconstructs Muhasibi s and Nursi s accounts of ideal Muslim consciousness and analyzes the discursive practices implicated in its formation and expression The book discusses the range of psychic states and ethical relations that Muhasibi and Nursi consider critical for living an authentically Muslim life It highlights the importance of discursive practices in Muslim religious and moral self production The author draws on Foucault s insights about ethics and practices of self care to examine familiar

Muslim discourses in ways that enrich contemporary conversations about identity individuality community authority moral agency and virtue in the fields of religious studies Islamic studies and Muslim ethics The book deepens our understanding of the fluidity and fragility of both the more familiar obligation centered ethics in Islamic thought and the less familiar belief centered modes of religio moral being

2002 Massimo Mastrogregori, 2011-07-11 Annually published since 1930 the International bibliography of Historical Sciences IBOHS is an international bibliography of the most important historical monographs and periodical articles published throughout the world which deal with history from the earliest to the most recent times The works are arranged systematically according to period region or historical discipline and within this classification alphabetically The bibliography contains a geographical index and indexes of persons and authors

The Cultural Economy of Falun Gong in China Xiao Ming, 2012-11-16 Emerging in China in the early 1990s Falun Gong is viewed by its supporters as a folk movement promoting the benefits of good health and moral cultivation To the Chinese establishment however it is a dissident religious cult threatening political orthodoxy and national stability The author a Chinese national once involved in implementing Chinese cultural policies examines the evolving relationship between Falun Gong and Chinese authorities in a revealing case study of the powerful public discourse between a pervasive political ideology and an alternative agenda in contention for cultural dominance Posited as a cure for culturally bound illness with widespread symptoms the Falun Gong movement s efficacy among the marginalized relies on its articulation of a struggle against government sanctioned exploitation in favor of idealistic moral aspirations In countering such a position the Chinese government alleges that the religious movement is based in superstition and pseudoscience Aided by her insider perspective the author deftly employs Western rhetorical methodology in a compelling critique of an Eastern rhetorical occurrence highlighting how authority confronts challenge in postsocialist China

The Strength of Self-Acceptance Michael E. Bernard, 2014-07-08 Self acceptance is recognized in diverse schools of Christian and Eastern theology as well as in various schools of counseling and psychotherapy e g Humanistic Rational Emotive Behavior Therapy Cognitive Behavior Therapy Acceptance Commitment Therapy as a major contributor to mental health life satisfaction and wellness A review of the professional literature reveals there is no text that spells out how different theologies theories of personality and approaches to counseling and therapy conceptualize self acceptance and how this concept is interrelated to other aspects and constructs of spirituality and psychological functioning e g flexibility mindfulness Additionally the field of positive psychology which studies the character strengths and virtues that help individuals to experience well being and to flourish has largely ignored the concept of self acceptance

The Curse of the Self Mark R. Leary, 2007 Although the capacity for self awareness is an essential aspect of human nature self reflection comes at a high price Self awareness and its accompanying egoism profoundly affect people s lives interfering with their success polluting their relationships with other people and undermining their happiness Drawing from work in psychology and other behavioral sciences in The Curse of the Self Mark Leary explores personal and social problems that are created by the human capacity for self reflection and offers insights regarding how these problems may be minimized
