Kinney, 2017-05-15 The last twenty five years have seen exciting new developments in scholarly work on Lady Mary Wroth whose Urania and Pamphilia to Amphilanthus constitute the first romance and the first sonnet sequence to be published by an Englishwoman Wroth s writings enter into a suggestive and gendered dialogue with the lyric and narrative works of her uncle Sir Philip Sidney even as they carve out a place for her own literary experiments This volume gathers together some of the most striking recent criticism addressing Wroth s oeuvre many of its essays also discuss the intellectual and cultural contexts in which she wrote The collection is prefaced by an extended editorial overview of scholarship in the field

Politics of the Self Richard W. McCormick, 2014-07-14 Richard McCormick examines the concepts of postmodernity and postmodernism as they apply to West Germany discussing them against the background of cultural and political upheaval in that country since the 1960s rather than exclusively in the more familiar setting of intellectual history Considering six literary and cinematic texts that are marked by a preoccupation with the self and subjectivity he underscores the crucial influence of feminism on writers and filmmakers and on the postmodern In a broad international context he describes the conflicting forces that affected the West German student movement the rationalistic tradition of the Weimar Left and more irrational influences such as French existentialism and surrealism as well as the American Beat movement and rock roll and shows how these forces played themselves out so that dogmatic Marxist Leninism was repudiated in favor of a New Subjectivity At the center of the discussion are the novels Lenz by Peter Schneider Class Love Klassenliebe by Karin Struck and Devotion by Botho Strauss and the films Wrong Move written by Peter Handke and directed by Wim Wenders Germany Pale Mother by Helma Sanders-Brahms and The Subjective Factor by Helke Sander The author shows how ongoing attempts to attack the separation of emotion from reason life from art the private from the public and the personal from the political brought about changes in outlook from the 1960s to the early 1980s that are related to the rise of new political movements ecology nuclear disarmament and feminism Originally published in 1991 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

A Sociological Phenomenology of Christian Redemption Paul Gilfillan, 2014-11-03 Despite much of the world's attention turning to Scotland in 2014 in the year of its Independence Referendum this is the only ethnographic study of Scottish nationalism to have appeared so far Based upon over fifteen years of research in a particular locality the author not only gives the reader an intimate portrait of the relations between class and national identity in contemporary Scotland but provides an intimate description of a particular Scottish locality from 1999 to 2014 This patient ethnographic study also gives an account of how the sociological imagination is indispensable in the task of integral liberation as it models how empirical sociological study can give an account of human beatitude and ultimately answer the question of transcendence and integrates with the Christian tradition This book then attempts to state the full significance of Scottish nationalism upon the basis of a full or integral account of fully contextualised Scottish human being and in succeeding in this ambitious endeavour the author has produced a remarkable book that deserves the attention of students of the social sciences and theology alike

Judah's Desire and the Making of the Abrahamic Israel Hong Guk-Pyoung, 2024-07-01 In this refreshing exploration of Judah's identity formation the emphasis is placed on the psychological underpinnings of Judah's sentiments towards Israel aiming to illuminate the significance of Judah's appropriation of Israel Richly contextual this book draws parallels observed in Asian contexts notably those of North and South Korea and China with its marginal Others Central to the thesis is that Judah's perceived inferiority to Israel played a crucial role in its quest to appropriate Israel's legacy and identity Adopting a functionalist lens Judah's rewriting of Israel's ancestral past is examined The Abraham and Jacob traditions are understood as competing identity narratives serving as critical discursive tools to construct their pasts

The study scrutinizes how the southern Abraham tradition fundamentally reoriented the Jacob tradition North Israel's standalone ancestral myth Set against the broader canvas of continued efforts to redefine and embody Israel within the history of Judeo Christian religions this exploration underscores how Judah's pivotal appropriation of Israel has established a paradigm for all future endeavors of becoming Israel

A Theological Anthropology of Self-Realization Jennifer Slater O.P,2012-07-31 The book addresses the intriguing problem of human self realization precisely because of the diverse uses of the term which ranges from abstract philosophical theological theories to practical psychological spiritual applications Jennifer Slater draws the concept from Karl Rahner the twentieth German theologian who uses the term self realization in his theology on freedom and symbolism relating it to the basic free choice which the human person makes to be for or against God Divine Jennifer Slater explores this fundamental free choice which is at the same time a basic choice about oneself She writes from the understanding that the human person is radically free to become the choices she or he makes and freedom is the capacity for definitive self realization In the book she shows that in the exercising of freedom humans precisely as historical beings are also transcendent beings Jennifer grapples with the perception that since human self realization involves the power to make decisions which in reality actualizes a person's own reality how then does this self realization come about and where does the Divine fit into the process If self realization is related to the human self and to the Divine Self she then questions what constitutes the self and self realization This struggle practically employs the woman in general and in particular the woman consecrated to a vowed life The pervasive question throughout is What constitutes the self realization of a human woman being

Tears of Repentance Julius H. Rubin,2013-07-01 Tears of Repentance revisits and reexamines the familiar stories of intercultural encounters between Protestant missionaries and Native peoples in southern New England from the seventeenth to the early nineteenth centuries Focusing on Protestant missionaries accounts of their ideals purposes and goals among the Native communities they served and of the religion as lived experienced and practiced among Christianized Indians Julius H Rubin offers a new way of understanding the motives and motivations of those who lived in New England's early Christianized Indian village communities Rubin explores how Christian Indians recast Protestant theology into an Indianized quest for salvation from their worldly troubles and toward the promise of an otherworldly paradise The Great Awakening of the eighteenth century reveals how evangelical pietism transformed religious identities and communities and gave rise to the sublime hope that New Born Indians were children of God who might effectively contest colonialism With this dream unfulfilled the exodus from New England to Brothertown envisioned a separatist Christian Indian commonwealth on the borderlands of America after the Revolution Tears of Repentance is an important contribution to American colonial and Native American history offering new ways of examining how Native groups and individuals recast Protestant theology to restore their Native communities and cultures in Europe informs the current self understandings and security imaginaries of Poland and the Baltic States Exploring this existential condition of liminal Europeaness among foreign and security policy making elites the book considers its effects on key security policy issues including relations with Western Europe Russia and the United States Supported by solid empirical analyses this book provides an innovative and interdisciplinary approach to the post Cold War predicament of Poland and the Baltic States It will be of interest to students and scholars of International Relations European Studies Social and Political Theory and Anthropology

Quebec Identity Jocelyn Maclure, 2003 Jocelyn Maclure provides a critical reflection on the ways in which Quebec's identity has been articulated since the 1960s Quiet Revolution He shows how neither the melancholic nationalism of the Montreal school Hubert Aquin Pierre Vallières Fernand Dumont and their followers nor the individualist anti nationalism of Pierre Trudeau and his followers provide identity stories and political projects adequate for contemporary Quebec In articulating an alternative narrative Maclure reframes the debate detaching the question of Quebec's identity from the question of sovereignty versus federalism and linking it closely to Quebec's cultural diversity and to the consolidation of its democratic sphere In so doing he rethinks the conditions of authenticity leaves space for First Nations self determination and takes account of globalization This edition has been expanded for English Canadians with additional references as well as a glossary of names institutions and concepts

Aristotle And Moral Realism Robert A Heinaman, 2018-03-08 This volume of essays brings together scholars of ancient philosophy and some of today's most distinguished moral philosophers to discuss Aristotle's ethics and the problems of moral realism One of the central and perennial philosophical problems is the question of whether our ethical assertions and beliefs can be justifiably claimed to rest on some objective foundation As an upholder of the objectivity of ethics and as one of the most important ethical thinkers in the history of philosophy Aristotle's writings on these questions are of the greatest interest Indeed much of recent moral philosophy has looked directly to Aristotle for inspiration on the problem of moral objectivity For example virtue theorists were influenced by Aristotle in their proposal that what determines the right thing to do in a particular case is what the virtuous man would do Similarly sensibility theorists have found support for their view in Aristotle's remarks about the importance of the conditioning of one's desires for the development of virtue and knowledge about the human good
