

Aseity (Self-Existence)

“There are only three possible explanations for anything that exists now: it is self-created, it is eternal, or it is created by something that is eternal. I gave a presentation at Yale, with faculty philosophers present, where I presented these options; they agreed that it had to be one of these three. Notice that the second two possibilities involve something eternal. If the first possibility can be eliminated, then the thesis that something has always been is proven.” —R.C. Sproul

Image and Text: J.M.R. Lenz Helga Stipa Madland, 2023-11-27 Herausgegeben von Cola Minis und Arend Quak in Verbindung mit Peter Boerner Hugo Dyserinck Ferdinand van Ingen Friedrich Maurer und Oskar Reichmann As of Volume 158 published by Weidler Buchverlag Berlin The Holy Fool Timothy Fairfax Pope, 2003 J M R Lenz is remembered as the most creative and original of Goethe's Strasbourg friends and because of failures in his personal life as a figure of pathos The son of a Lutheran pastor who received a theological education at the university of Königsberg Lenz was a religious thinker who saw himself as prophet as well as poet Timothy Pope's Holy Fool is the first study of Lenz to consider how Christian faith shaped his literary theory and practice and was responsible for his unwise expectations about the increasingly secular world for which he wrote phenomenon that was linked to the temporary lapses into insanity that he experienced after he was banished at Goethe's insistence from the court and city of Weimar Pope reveals however that a dynamic shift in Lenz's faith had occurred four years before the debacle of Weimar Coherent statements during those four years concerning the articles of his new faith and a consistent application of faith to questions of poetry and dramatic theory indicate that Lenz's contribution to the literary revolution of the 1770s was conditioned as much by a personal religious renewal as by enthusiasm for the aims and ideals of his generation Theologically Lenz's new convictions followed a path that led away from the neology of the late Enlightenment and pointed not only back to conservative traditions but also forward to the Christology of more modern times

Literature Criticism from 1400 to 1800, 2004 Unpopular Virtues Alan C. Leidner, Karin A. Wurst, 1999 In this study of the criticism of the most idiosyncratic voice of the German Sturm und Drang the authors try to explain why critics have so often failed to come to terms with Lenz's refusal to encourage the middle class and to cater to its tastes While many of the first reviewers found Lenz's work liberating after his death the consensus of critics when they gave him any attention at all was that his works were second rate or worse and Goethe's negative comments were often used to support this verdict This volume traces Lenz's reception from the earliest reviews through to New Criticism Lenz's rediscovery and the changes in focus after the 1992 Lenz bicentennial Selected Works Jakob Michael Reinhold Lenz, 2019 First representative English collection of the Sturm und Drang writer Lenz suited for the classroom and anyone interested in German literature the European Enlightenment or the theory and practice of theater Jakob Michael Reinhold Lenz 1751-1792 is after Goethe the most important writer of the German Sturm und Drang Crucial in the reinvention of German literature through the reception of Shakespeare his works contain a scathing critique of the ethical political and sexual regimes then prevailing in German and Eastern European territories Both aesthetically and politically Lenz strongly influenced later German writers most notably Georg Büchner and Bertolt Brecht In Germany Lenz is still widely read and performed Given his importance and lasting reception it is surprising that many of his texts are not available in English While his best known dramas have been translated many of his essays have not and none of his stories or poems have been This is especially astonishing given the growth of English language Lenz scholarship over recent decades This volume contains new and in many cases first English translations of Lenz's most important plays stories essays and poems It is the first representative English collection of Lenz's works Providing reliable translations of Lenz's key writings and succinct glosses of historical and literary references this book is a valuable resource for classroom use and for anyone interested in German literature the European Enlightenment or the theory and practice of theater Martin Wagner is Assistant Professor of German at the University of Calgary Ellwood Wiggins is Assistant Professor of German at the University of Washington Sexuality and the Ethical Construction of the Self Kenneth E. Munn, 2003 The Split Self Peter Bruce Waldeck, 1979 The theme of the split self defined as a division of personality between an emancipated adult incapable of love and a child still endowed with this basic capacity but oppressed by the father figure is analyzed in a series of works of German literature

Gender and Germanness Patricia Herminhouse, Magda Mueller, 1998-02-01 Cultural Studies have been preoccupied with questions of national identity and cultural representations At the same time feminist studies have insisted upon the entanglement of gender with issues of nation class and ethnicity Developments in the wake of German unification demand a reassessment of the nexus of gender Germanness and nationhood The contributors to this volume pursue these strands of the cultural debate in German history literature visual arts and language over a period of three hundred years in sections devoted to History and the Canon Visual Culture Germany and Her Others and Language and Power Contributors L Adelson A Taylor Allen K Bauer R Berman B Byg M Denman E Frederiksen S Friedrichsmeyer E Kaufmann L Koepnick B Kosta S Lefko A M O Sickey B Mennel H M Mller B Peterson L Pusch D Sweet H Watt S Zantop Space and Time in Epic Theater Sarah Bryant-Bertail, 2000 The development of epic theater before during and after Brecht's time and analysis of epic productions showing the form's continued relevance Bertolt Brecht and the director Erwin Piscator developed epic theater in the 1920s because they found Western realism limited to the single perspective of an individual and thus unable to confront the new realities technological warfare revolution the metropolis and the mass media among others The epic stage

juxtaposed the old media of actors and scenery with new media including film photography and electronic sound Bryant Bertail provides analyses of theatrical productions in the epic tradition from before during and after Brecht's lifetime Hasek's The Good Soldier Schwejk directed by Piscator Mother Courage written and directed by Brecht Lenz's The Tutor directed by Brecht Ibsen's Peer Gynt in productions directed by Peter Stein and Ruston Bharucha Bchner's Leon and Lena and Les Atrides The House of Atreus from Aeschylus and Euripides directed by Ariane Mnouchkine Bryant Bertail shows that epic theater's relevance for politically engaged artists lies in its discovery that history fate and human nature are spatio-temporal constructs that may be reconstructed on stage Sarah Bryant Bertail is associate professor in the School of Drama at the University of Washington

The Shepherd, the Volk, and the Middle Class Elystan Griffiths, 2020 Analyzes the transformation of German language pastoral from a portrayal of the idyllic lives of herdsmen into a vehicle for the concerns and aspirations of the middle class Space to Act Alan C. Leidner, Helga Stipa Madland, 1993 Essays on 18th century Sturm und Drang playwright J M R Lenz whose work shows many parallels with 20th century theater The essays collected in this volume constitute the first collection in English on the German writer Lenz 1751-1792 They grew out of the International J M R Lenz Symposium organized by Professor Madland and held in October 1991 at the University of Oklahoma Jakob Michael Reinhold Lenz a writer whose work has received increasing attention lately for its prefiguration of the theater of our own century emerges in these articles written by prominent Germanists and literary critics as a man ahead of his times bedeviled by the neuroses of modernity At the beginning of his career in the early 1770s Lenz was so highly regarded that he was compared to Goethe But Lenz had trouble establishing himself both socially and as a writer and only Der Hofmeister was staged during his lifetime By the time of his death at the age of 42 he had been almost forgotten by his contemporaries General essays focus on Lenz's interest in linguistic matters showing that he saw the unlocking of the potential of language as an act of liberation on literary genre and sexual gender in Lenz's work and linking Lenz's characters to those of the twentieth century on the rise of the lowly hero from Lenz to Georg Bchner to Bertolt Brecht American Book Publishing Record, 1997-05 Post-Imperial Brecht Loren Kruger, 2004-08-19 Post Imperial Brecht challenges prevailing views of Brecht's theatre and politics Kruger focuses much of her analysis in regions where Brecht has had special resonance including East Germany and South Africa where Brechtian philosophy has been vigorously employed in the anti-apartheid movement Kruger also analyses political interpretations of Brecht in light of other key dramatists including Heiner Müller and Athol Fugard The book also examines Brechtian influence on writers and philosophers such as Adorno Benjamin and Barthes
