Selling Catholicism Bishop Sheen And The Power Of Television:

Selling Catholicism Christopher Owen Lynch, 2021-12-14 When the popularity of Milton Berle's television show began to slip Berle quipped At least I'm losing my ratings to God He was referring to the popularity of Life Is Worth Living and its host Bishop Fulton J Sheen The show aired from 1952 to 1957 and Sheen won an Emmy beating competition that included Lucille Ball Jimmy Durante and Edward R Murrow What was the secret to Sheen's on air success Christopher Lynch examines how he reached a diverse audience by using television to synthesize traditional American Protestantism with a reassuring vision of Catholicism as patriotic and traditional Sheen provided his viewers with a sense of stability by sentimentalizing the medieval world and holding it out as a model for contemporary society Offering clear cut moral direction in order to eliminate the anxiety of cultural change he discussed topics ranging from the role of women to the perils of Communism Sheen's rhetoric united both Protestant and Catholic audiences reflecting and forming a vision of mainstream postwar America Lynch argues that Sheen's persuasive television presentations helped Catholics gain social acceptance and paved the way for religious ecumenism in America Yet Sheen's work also sowed the seeds for the crisis of competing ideologies in the modern American Catholic Church

African Catholic Elizabeth A. Foster, 2019-03-04 Winner of the John Gilmary Shea Prize A groundbreaking history of how Africans in the French Empire embraced both African independence and their Catholic faith during the upheaval of decolonization leading to a fundamental reorientation of the Catholic Church African Catholic examines how French imperialists and the Africans they ruled imagined the religious future of French sub-Saharan Africa in the years just before and after decolonization The story encompasses the political transition to independence Catholic contributions to black intellectual currents and efforts to alter the church hierarchy to create an authentically African church Elizabeth Foster recreates a Franco-African world forged by conquest colonization missions and conversions one that still exists today We meet missionaries in Africa and their superiors in France African Catholic students abroad destined to become leaders in their home countries African Catholic intellectuals and young clergymen along with French and African lay activists All of these men and women were preoccupied with the future of France's colonies the place of Catholicism in a postcolonial Africa and the struggle over their personal loyalties to the Vatican France and the new African states Having served as the nuncio to France and the Vatican's liaison to UNESCO in the 1950s Pope John XXIII understood as few others did the central questions that arose in the postwar Franco-African Catholic world Was the church truly universal Was Catholicism a conservative pillar of order or a force to liberate subjugated and exploited peoples Could the church change with the times He was thinking of Africa on the eve of Vatican II declaring in a radio address shortly before the council opened Vis-à-vis the underdeveloped countries the church presents itself as it is and as it wants to be the church of all to the history of American religious life America's Most Famous Catholic (According to Himself) Stephanie N. Brehm, 2019-09-03 For nine years Stephen Colbert's persona Colbert a Republican superhero and parody of conservative political pundits informed audiences on current events politics social issues and religion while lampooning conservative political policy biblical literalism and religious hypocrisy To devout vocal and authoritative lay Catholics religion is central to both the actor and his most famous character Yet many viewers wonder Is Colbert a practicing Catholic in real life or is this part of his act America's Most Famous Catholic According to Himself examines the ways in which Colbert challenges perceptions of Catholicism and Catholic mores through his faith and comedy Religion and the foibles of religious institutions have served as rich fodder for scores of comedians over the years What set Colbert apart on his Comedy Central show The Colbert Report was that his critical observations were made more powerful and harder to ignore because he approached religious material not from the predictable stance of the irreverent secular comedian but from his position as one of the faithful He is a Catholic celebrity who can bridge critical outsider and participating insider neither fully reverent nor fully irreverent Providing a digital media ethnography and rhetorical analysis of Stephen Colbert and his character from 2005 to 2014 author Stephanie N Brehm examines the intersection between lived religion and mass media moving from an exploration of how Catholicism shapes Colbert's life and world towards a conversation about how Colbert shapes Catholicism Brehm provides historical context by discovering how Colbert compares to other Catholic figures such as Don Novello George Carlin Louis C K and Jim Gaffigan who have each presented their views of Catholicism to Americans through radio film and television The last chapter provides a current glimpse of Colbert on The Late Show where he continues to be voice for Catholicism on late night now to an even broader audience America's Most Famous Catholic According to Himself also explores how Colbert carved space for Americans who currently define their religious lives through absence ambivalence and alternatives Brehm reflects on the complexity of contemporary American Catholicism as it is lived today in the often ignored form of Catholic multiplicity thinking Catholics cultural Catholics cafeteria Catholics and lukewarm Catholics or what others have called Colbert Catholicism an emphasis on the joy of religion in concert with the suffering By examining the humor in religion Brehm allows us to see clearly the religious elements in the work and life of comedian Stephen Colbert Television Program Master Index Charles V. Edgerton, Peter C. Rollins, 2021-09-15 From Ken Burns's documentaries to historical dramas such as Roots from A E's Biography series to CNN television has become the primary source for historical information for tens of millions of Americans today Why has television become such a respected authority What falsehoods enter our collective memory as truths How is one to know what is real and what is imagined or ignored by producers directors or writers Gary Edgerton and Peter Rollins have collected a group of essays that answer these and many other questions The contributors examine the full spectrum of historical genres but also institutions such as the History Channel and production histories of such series as The Jack Benny Show which ran for fifteen years The authors explore the tensions between popular history and professional history and the tendency of some academics to declare the past off limits to nonscholars Several of them point to the tendency for television histories to embed current concerns and priorities within the past as in such popular shows as Quantum Leap and Dr Quinn Medicine Woman The result is an insightful portrayal of the power television possesses to influence our culture The Preaching of Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen Timothy H. Sherwood, 2011-11-01 This rhetorical study seeks to understand how and why Archbishop Fulton J Sheen's preaching was so persuasive to the people of his day Though many associate Sheen with his five years on prime time television in the 1950s it was the decades he spent preaching that wrought a religious tone to the Cold War and led the way in a national renewal of religion America's Religions Peter W. Jews Christians Muslims Spanish speakers and Asians Includes definitions and pronunciations of religious terms People of Faith John Arnold Schmalzbauer, 2003 Over the past two decades a host of critics have accused American journalism and higher education of being indifferent even openly hostile to religious concerns These professions more than any others are said to drive a wedge between facts and values faith and knowledge the sacred and the secular However a growing number of observers are calling attention to a religious resurgence journalists are covering religion more frequently and religious scholars in academia are increasingly visible John Schmalzbauer provides a compelling investigation of the role of Catholic and evangelical Protestant beliefs in the newsroom and the classroom His interviews with forty prominent journalists and academics reveal how some people of faith seek to preserve their religious identities in purportedly secular professions What impact he asks does their Christianity have on their jobs What is the place of personal religious conviction in professional life Individuals featured include the journalists Fred Barnes Cokie Roberts Peter Steinfelds Cal Thomas and Kenneth Woodward and the scholars John DiIulio Elizabeth Fox Genovese Andrew Greeley George Marsden and Mark Noll Some of the journalists and academics with whom Schmalzbauer spoke qualified displays of personal religious belief with reminders of their own professional credibility drawing a line between advocacy and objectivity Schmalzbauer highlights the persistent tensions between the worlds of public endeavor and private belief yet he maintains there is room for faith even in professional environments that have tended to prize empiricism and detachment over expressions of personal conviction

Patterson, 2019-06-28 Ven Fulton J Sheen Dr Martin Luther King Jr and Rev Jerry Falwell religious leaders who popularized theology through media campaigns designed to persuade the public In Religion in the Public Square James M Patterson considers religious leaders who popularized theology through media campaigns designed to persuade the public Ven Fulton J Sheen Dr Martin Luther King Jr and Rev Jerry Falwell differed profoundly on issues of theology and politics but they shared an approach to public ministry that aimed directly at changing how Americans understood the nature and purpose of their country From the 1930s through the 1950s Sheen was an early adopter of paperbacks radio and television to condemn totalitarian ideologies and to defend American Catholicism against Protestant accusations of divided loyalty During the 1950s and 1960s King staged demonstrations and boycotts that drew the mass media to him The attention provided him the platform to preach Christian love as a political foundation in direct opposition to white supremacy Falwell started his own church which he developed into a mass media empire He then leveraged it during the late 1970s through the 1980s to influence the Republican Party by exhorting his audience to not only ally with religious conservatives around issues of abortion and the traditional family but also to vote accordingly Sheen King and Falwell were so successful in popularizing their theological ideas that they won prestigious awards had access to presidents and witnessed the results of their labors However Patterson argues that Falwell s efforts broke with the longstanding refusal of religious public figures to participate directly in partisan affairs and thereby catalyzed the process of politicizing religion that undermined the Judeo Christian consensus that formed the foundation of American politics
