Cartographies of Madrid Silvia Bermudez, Anthony L. Geist, 2019-05-28 One of this book's goals is to evaluate the complex ways that Madrid has served as the political economic and cultural capital of the Global South from the end of the Franco dictatorship to the present The other is to examine the city as lived experience where citizens contest capital's push to shape urban space in its own image through activities of the imagination Scholars investigative journalists political activists and a filmmaker combine to document the vast array of Madrid's grassroots movements

Barbaric Civilization Christopher Powell, 2011-06-15 From its beginnings in the early twelfth century the Western civilizing process has involved two interconnected transformations the monopolization of military force by sovereign states and the cultivation in individuals of habits and dispositions of the kind that we call civilized The combined forward movement of these processes channels violent struggles for social dominance into symbolic performances But even as the civilizing process frees many subjects from the threat of direct physical force violence accumulates behind the scenes and at the margins of the social order kept there by a deeply habituated performance of dominance and subordination called deferentialization When deferentialization fails difference becomes dangerous and genocide becomes possible Connecting historical developments with everyday life occurrences and discussing examples ranging from thirteenth century Languedoc to 1994 Rwanda Powell offers an original framework for analyzing comparing and discussing genocides as variable outcomes of a common underlying social system raising unsettling questions about the contradictions of Western civilization and the possibility of a world without genocide
